FALLS CITY

F. A. Lucas has taken a part of his carpenter crew which he had working on the new store building over to the planer grounds and is framing the big mill building preparatory to building. A considerable crew is at work at different things on the grounds and their work will soon begin to make apparent the size of the enterprise.

Fred Lanway, who has been for some months at different points in Washington, reached town again Friday last and is now on his claim in 7-8. He and T. L. Dunsmore left Monday for their claims via the Grand Ronde expecting to encounter less snow that way than on the summit trail.

Under the engineering of F. J. Holman the phone to the Bryan-Lucas mill has been changed from the road to the flume way so that by means of pocket instruments a jam in the flume or any accident can be reported to the mill or the town yard.

M. A. Ward and Frank Harris have taken the contract of getting out 20,000 hop poles for the Gardner yard near town and have moved to that place to do the work. The job is let by Kirkpatrick & Williams, of Dallas.

Twenty good books were added to the school library and $32 is now on hand and soon to be expended for the same purpose. This is an excellent showing and a project in which all citizens should take an interest. A good book is the best friend we can have and impressions thus gathered in childhood and youth are an influence for good throughout a life time. Let the work go on.
