EX-RECORDER J. H. ROWLAND

Another Sufferer Publicly Thanks Dr. Darrin for Curing Him.

(Albany Herald.)

Dr. Darrin, who will be at Hotel Revere, Albany, until August 1, will be much pleased to read the following unsolicited letter to the editor of this paper. When he cured Ex-County Recorder J. H. Rowland, he cured a man known all over Marion county and one of the most popular men in the county. Appended is his communication:

To THE EDITOR: Before going under Dr. Darrin's electrical and medical treatment in Salem last August, I had been a sufferer with dyspepsia, liver and kidney complaint, and was all run down in various ways. Three months' treatment made a new man of me, and I feel that I am cured of all the above troubles. Have gained many pounds in weight, and gladly subscribe my name that others may take advantage of the doctor's superior skill. Refer to me at Salem, Or.

J. H. ROWLAND,
Ex-County Recorder.

DEAFNESS CURED.

To THE EDITOR: Gratitude to Dr. Darrin prompts me to give this card. For about ten years I have been gradually growing deaf from the effects of a discharge of the ears. I had despaired of relief, but thanks to Dr. Darrin's skill I am cured of my deafness so I can hear a whisper. Refer any one to me at my residence, five miles southeast of Woodburn, near Ex-Mayor John Eagon's place, who was cured by Dr. Darrin of catarrh and discharging ear.

H. KUNZE.

During the visit of Dr. Darrin he has made many friends by his generous and gentlemanly treatment of his patients and his constant solicitude for their welfare. He has refused none who have come to him needing his services and he has been perfectly frank in telling each one the true condition of his or her case, and just what might be expected as the result of treatment, or whether any treatment would do good.

The rooms of Dr. Darrin at the Hotel Revere are often crowded, and he is kept constantly busy. There are a great many people who will be glad to know that the doctor has been pre-valued upon to remain until August 1. Dr. Darrin makes a specialty of all diseases of the eye, ear, nose and throat, catarrh and deafness, and all nervous, chronic and private diseases, such as loss of manhood, blood taints, syphilis, gleet, gonorrhoea, stricture, spermatorrhoea, seminal weakness, and loss of desire or sexual power in either men or women. All peculiar female troubles are confidentially and successfully treated. Most cases can be treated at home after one visit to the doctor's office.

Office hours from 10 A. M. to 5 P. M. Evening, 7 to 8. Sundays, 10 to 3. The worthy poor will be treated free, except medicine, according to his time honored custom from 10 to 11 A. M. daily. Those able to pay at $5 per week or in that proportion of time as the case may require. Circulars and question blanks sent free. All inquiries answered. All business relations with Dr. Darrin are strictly confidential.

Normal Dramatic Club.

One of the leading features of commencement week will be the drama to be given Saturday evening by the students under the direction of Miss Tuthill. The play is entitled, "The District Attorney" and is of high standard in every particular. It is in the repertoire of the famed Neill Stock Company, and was given last winter in the Baker theatre at Portland to crowded houses. A $50 deposit was required by the author to secure permission to produce the play.

A strong cast has been selected, some of the leading parts being taken by Misses Boatman, Vernon, Edith Owen, and Messrs. Rutherford, Metzger, Evenden, Hampton and Butler. The entire cast includes 17 characters.

There are four acts in the play, the entire action centering about the district attorney, a man of marked personality who pursues his duty in the face of the greatest opposition. He is a reformer, and his efforts to purify the administration of justice involve people of high rank, including the father of his affianced bride. Other strong characters are Mathew Brainard, prominent politician, and his daughter, Grace, affiancée to the district attorney; McGrath, the forger; Ruggles, the reform editor, and the assistant district attorney.

Hard practice has been going on for several weeks and the latest rehearsals are showing up strong. From present indications this will be the strongest play yet presented by O. S. N. S. students.

THE DRAUGHT BLACK-DRAUGHT THE ORIGINAL LIVER MEDICINE

A sallow complexion, dizziness, biliousness and a coated tongue are common indications of liver and kidney diseases. Stomach and bowel troubles, severe as they are, give immediate warning by pain, but liver and kidney troubles, though less painful at the start, are much harder to cure. Thedford's Black-Draught never fails to benefit diseased liver and weakened kidneys. It stirs up the torpid liver to throw off the germs of fever and ague. It is a certain preventive of cholera and Bright's disease of the kidneys. With kidneys reinforced by Thedford's Black-Draught thousands of persons have dwelt immune in the midst of yellow fever. Many families live in perfect health and have no other doctor than Thedford's Black-Draught. It is always on hand for use in an emergency and saves many expensive calls of a doctor.

Mullins, S. C., March 10, 1901.
I have used Thedford's Black-Draught for three years and I have not had to go to a doctor since I have been taking it. It is the best medicine for me that is on the market for liver and kidney troubles and dyspepsia and other complaints. Rev. A. G. LEWIS.

Work of the Twentieth Century.

By David S. Jordan, president of Leland Stanford University.

The twentieth century will be strenuous, complex and democratic. Strenuous it must be, as we can all see. Our century has hoast of things to do—bold things, noble things, tedious things, difficult things, enduring things.

More than any of the others, the twentieth century will be democratic. The greatest discovery of the nineteenth century was that of the reality of external things. That of the twentieth century will be this axiom in geometry: "The straightest line is the shortest distance between two points." If something needs doing, do it; the more plainly, directly, honestly, the better.

Democracy does not mean equality—just the reverse of this. It means individual responsibility, equality before the law, of course, equality of opportunity, but no other equality save that won by faithful service. The social system that bids men rise must also let them fall if they cannot maintain themselves. To become the right man means the dismissal of the wrong.

The incompetent, the untrained, the dissipated find no growing welcome in the century which is coming. It will have no place for the unskilled laborer. A bucket of water and a basket of coal will do all that the unskilled laborer can do if we have skilled men for their direction. The unskilled laborer is no product of democracy. He exists in spite of democracy.

The lawyers of the future will not be pleaders before juries. They will save their clients from need of judge or jury. In every civilized nation the lawyers must be the lawgivers. The sword has given place to the green bag. The demand of the twentieth century will be that the statutes coincide with equity. This condition educated lawyers can bring about.

In politics the demand for serious service must grow. As we have to do with wise men and clean men, statesmen instead of vote manipulators, we shall feel more and more the need for them. We shall demand not who can lead in action, but men who can prevent unwise action. Often the policy which seems most attractive to the majority is full of danger for the future. We need men who can face popular opinion and if need be to face it down.

The need of a teacher will not grow less as the century goes on. The history of the future is written in the schools of to-day and the reform which gives us better schools is the greatest of reforms. Free should the scholar be—free and brave, and to such as these the twentieth century will bring the reward of the scholar.

The twentieth century will mark an epoch in the history of religion. Some say idly that religion is losing her hold these strenuous days. But it is not. She is simply changing her grip. The religion of the century will be more practical, more real. It will deal with the days of the week as well as the Sabbath. It will be as practical in the markets of trade as in the walls of a cathedral, for religion is his working hypothesis of life, not of life in the future world, but of life here to-day—the only day we have in which to build a life.

Gray Hair

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for over thirty years. It has kept my scalp free from dandruff and has prevented my hair from turning gray."—Mrs. F. A. Soule, Billings, Mont.

There is this peculiar thing about Ayer's Hair Vigor—it is a hair food, not a dye. Your hair does not suddenly turn black, look dead and lifeless. But gradually the old color comes back,—all the rich, dark color it used to have. The hair stops falling, too.
