 It is rumored that the boat service is to be materially modified, and that for the better of Independence, this winter. The report has it that the Altona and Pomona will make the run from Portland to Independence, and that the Leona will be put on between Salem and Corvallis. This would give a double boat service both ways between Independence and Salem, and would cause one boat to remain here over every night, thus adding considerable business to the town.
 For sale—A fresh cow, nearly thoroughbred Jersey. Enquire at this office.

In purchasing Coffee for your own use you must first believe in the firm that prepares it and have confidence in the firm that sell it. Chase & Sanborn prepare their Coffee from the finest berries grown. It costs much more to secure them and many times more to sort them, but you get twice the strength and aroma.
 It costs only a few cents to try it. You know who makes it. You know who sells it. You know the name Chase & Sanborn has world-wide fame. Somehow the rest seems easy. Only order a trial pound at the Star Grocery,
 and get the proof yourself.

Harry E. Wagoner,
 Confectioner, Independence, Ore.

The Misses Patience Cooper and Ann Mann are outing at Wilhoit Springs.
 Wanted—A copy of the 9th annual catalogue of the Normal school. Leave at this office.
 Mrs. S. Snyder died yesterday afternoon, after a protracted illness. She was the wife of a former M. E. minister. Her health had been declining for months, and during the final weeks a mental derangement prevented proper nourishment from being given her. Several children and a husband survive her.
 Prof. Campbell and his brother, Prince Campbell, of Eugene, returned from Newport Monday and again started on Tuesday for Crater Lake. Prof. Campbell informs us there must have been some 2000 on the beach Sunday evening. There is the largest crowd at the beach this year that has ever been there in the history of the place.
 Claud Hubbard returned last week from his trip to San Francisco and Los Angeles. He had a splendid trip. Saw while in Los Angeles, Eley Fluke, Leslie Van Meer and others known here. J. A. Wheeler is comfortably domiciled at Long Beach. J. M. Mitchell and wife are to return home, so they informed him, after the national G. A. R. encampment.
 Have you got dandruff on your head? Is your hair falling out? Has your hair ceased to grow, or have you any breaking out on your head? If you are afflicted with any of the above, Halleck's Peerless Hair Vigor will give you relief. Sold by A. S. Locke, of Independence, or A. N. Halleck, of Monmouth, in 25c and 50c bottles. Give it a trial and be convinced that it is the best hair tonic made.
 There is not a vacant house in town. In the past two weeks five different families have been in Independence with a view of locating here, but moved to other points when they could find no house to rent. Two families went to Monmouth, another to Albany, and we were not advised where the other two went. The past week we have been shown letters of inquiry relative to renting houses in town, but negative replies must be returned. Time something was doing in the line of building houses, it seems.

Mrs. Thos. Fennell brought to the ENTERPRISE office last week a couple of potatoes of remarkable size. One weighed 1 1/2 pounds, the other 1 1/4 pounds. Out of eight hills a bushel of potatoes was secured. The vines are green and growing, and no telling how large they will grow.
