In the death of Isaac McElmurry, whose burial took place in the Odd Fellows cemetery at Independence last week, Oregon lost an honorable pioneer and citizen. Mr. McElmurry died at his home in Linn county, January 6 1904, aged 77 years, one month and four days. He was born in Wayne county, Missouri, and was married to Rebecca Jane Jones a resident of the state of Arkansas, in 1847. Mr. McElmurry served four years in the confederate army acting as dispatch carrier under both Price and Marmaduke. With his family, he came to Oregon in 1869 and first made his home on the Luckiamute, and removing later to a place near Independence. He afterwards lived at Wells, Ore., from which place he moved to Linn county where he spent the remainder of his life. Mr. McElmurry led a consistent Christian life. At the age of 17 he professed religion and united with the Baptist church, of Antioch, Arkansas, and transferred his letter to the church of the same faith at the different places of his residence. He was a member of the church continuously with the exception of a short time while his letter was withdrawn from the North Palestine church at Wells on account of a difference in the matter of church government. He leaves a widow and six children namely: S. H. and H. W. McElmurry, Parthena Elizabeth Compton, Allie Kerre, Mary S. Alexander and Nancy Cauthorn.

A Jolly Party.

Special from Parker.

A merry crowd of young people gathered at the home of Mrs. Kerr and at half past eight o'clock proceeded to the hall where music and merry games were played till a late hour, when a lunch was served. The guests departed each feeling that the new year so far was bringing its share of pleasure to all.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Percy Dickinson, Mrs. A. B. Lacey, Mrs. Mary Kerr, Misses Daisy Steele, Lura Critchlow, Lucy Bolter, Maggie Kerr, Frances Dickinson. Messrs Harvey East, Ed Steele, Clarence Kays, Claud Boone, Chas. Allen, Kirk Scrafford, Glenn Hiltbrand, Joe Anderson, Lester Murphy, Walter Kerr, J. Porter, Ray Prince, Johnnie Lacey, Dell Grigsby, Eddie Bagley, Donald and Henry McElmurry and Fred Cockle.

A Productive Cow.

Nine thousand seven hundred and fifty-six pounds is the amount of milk given during the twelve months ending in December by one of the cows in the dairy herd at the Oregon Agricultural College. On a basis of the tests made of the milk product every week during the year, the yield of butter was 526 pounds. At an average of 30 cents per pound throughout the year the butter product alone was worth $157.80. The cow is a full-blood Jersey, and is 4 years old. A few such cows on a well-managed dairy farm would make their owner thrifty.
