

Social and Personal.

W. H. Riggs was in Portland this week.

Dean Goodman is visiting friends in Independence.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Kurre were in Portland several days this week.

Mrs. Charlotte Shallenberger of Portland, is visiting her sister Mrs. Will Craven.

W. C. Bryant, principal of the Moro public schools, visited in Independence this week.

A. Huston and family left for Newport today. Mrs. Huston will stay throughout the season.

Dr. and Mrs. Butler and son and Mr. and Mrs. August Sperling returned from the east yesterday.

Mrs. Maria Kelso and daughter Mrs. Dora Wilks and family left yesterday for Fossil, Eastern Oregon.

F. R. Rider of Snohomish Wash. arrived in Independence yesterday and will visit several weeks with relatives here.

W. H. Hawley of Pendleton, formerly of Independence, is visiting friends and relatives here and at Monmouth.

Mrs. David Calbreath and little daughter have gone to Montana to spend the summer among acquaintances where they once lived.

E. G. Graves, who was here a week ago with a band of Eastern Oregon horses, will pass through this evening on his return trip from Sheridan. He has a few horses left.

Mrs. J. N. Smith and children are visiting at the home of Mrs. G. A. Hurley. Mr. Smith is in Hawaii where he practices law, and is engaged in other business pursuits. He is a brother of Mrs. Hurley.

A party of Portlanders, of which J. S. Shupe was one, passed through town at an early hour this morning headed for the McKenzie country. They traveled by wagon, and besides a camping outfit carried a gold pan for prospecting purposes.

Revival services are now being held in the Christian church. There is a good attendance, and good interest is manifested. Prof. J. P. Garmeng, of Des Moines, Iowa, has charge of the singing, and the pastor, E. C. Wigmore is doing the preaching.

Lorin Wann went to Salem yesterday in response to a military edict to accompany Captain Murphy's company of which he is a member, to American Lake near Tacoma where the big encampment of the Oregon National Guards and the U. S. Regulars is to be held.

Geo. Read started up his hay baler today. He carries a big cook wagon and nine men, using one to feed, one to pitch and one to rest pitcher and feeder, three teamsters, one engineer, one weigher and one to tie wires. The season's run usually lasts from six weeks to two months.

B. Wilson purchased the residence property of Mrs. May Babbitt on C street this week. The election of Mrs. Babbitt as one of the faculty of the State Normal, makes it a matter of convenience for the family to live in Monmouth and they are now paying rent on a house there. Mr. Wilson has always wanted the Babbitt property, and he will proceed at once to add improvements.

Mrs. Turner, mother of Mrs. M. T. Cressy is now in Rock Island, Ill. In a letter to Mrs. Cressy, a sister, who is with her mother in Illinois writes; "Liberty bell stopped in Rock Island half an hour on its way to St. Louis. It had a special train, with the mayor of Philadelphia as escort. A number of people were on the train throwing out books and button souvenirs. It was not an easy matter to get one of these buttons. Mother wanted one and said she was 83 years old—nearly as old as that bell and the mayor of Philadelphia came down and pinned one on her cape."

Three members of the Alumni of the State Normal School have died in the past year; they are Charles McCaleb of the class of 1897, Claid D. Simpson and Miss Marie B. Ferrie at the class of 1904.

The "romantic" wedding of Grace Wright, a Union county girl to a "millionaire," which the Baker City and Union papers have exploited so voluminously, falls flat. The "millionaire" did chores for his board last winter at the hotel owned by Miss Wright's father, and he turns out to be a hackdriver, which is no disgrace, if he is a good one.—Pendleton East Oregonian.

Fire Drill.

The fire laddies made a little run yesterday evening to make a test of the pipe and hose. The hose was attached to the corner of Main and C streets and it was found that the water pressure was all that could be desired. A stream was thrown over 140 feet on a line and high enough to go over the tallest buildings. A weak spot was found in the main near the Little Palace Hotel and it was repaired today. The hose was in good condition. It is very important that everything in connection with fire departments be kept cocked and primed during the dry season and yesterday's run proved that the hose cart and pipe are in good condition and the boys ready to respond at a moment's notice.

Free Concert.

There will be a free concert by the Monmouth band in the public square at Independence Saturday night. A dance will follow. Special moter from Monmouth.

Corvallis has recently had a case of Manila itch, small pox and holy rollers and still the place won't down.

OLD OUT, NEW IN

Ford will be found the same accommodating official as in the past. He has re-appointed Tracy Staats as his deputy.

John P. VanOrsdel, the new county surveyor is ready to run division lines, straighten out land entanglements or perform any work requiring the use of the tripod and chain. Mr. Van Orsdel is not as old as some surveyors, but he is competent and possessed of the qualities that usually calls for a second term of service. "Johnny" Van Orsdel, as he is commonly called has many friends in the county and it is not a hazardous prediction to say he will have more at the end of the term.

NORMAL GRADUATES

Former Students Hold Good Positions.

There are seven county school superintendents at present in Oregon who are graduates of the Oregon State Normal School. They are as follows: J. H. Copeland Columbia county; G. M. Frost, Sherman county; H. A. Ball, Washington county; J. W. Kerns, Wallowa county; J. G. Wright, Klamath county; W. W. Wiley, Tillamook county; S. J. Stratton, Morrow county.

JUMPS FROM BRIDGE

A Well Known Business Man of Salem Leaps to His Death.

The man who leaped to his death from the big bridge at Salem on the Fourth was J. A. Rotan, a well known business man of the Capital city. Mr. Rotan had been suffering from a defect in his eyes and was gradually going blind, and he had stated at different times that if he ever lost his eye sight he would not remain long upon this earth. He had also met with reverses in business. Mental worry and physical suffering is supposed to have affected his mind. He leaves a wife and several children.
