

Social and Personal.

The Misses Brambery are visiting in Lebanon.

Roy Whiteaker was in Portland a few days this week.

An Independence lady picked five gallons of wild blackberries in a day.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Stansbery and Mr. and Mrs. Hewitt were Salem visitors yesterday.

Mrs. A. Nelson, Mrs. W. H. Walker and Mrs. Thomas Fennel are visiting relatives in Philomath.

Next Sabbath morning at the M. E. church the pastor will give an address on "God's Hidden Ones" Owing to the union service in the Baptist church on Sunday evening there will be no services at the M. E. church.

Captain Skinner is in correspondence with the firm from which he purchased machinery for his boat and the probabilities are the firm will send another engine so that Captain Skinner can have another trial with his boat before the summer is over.

N. P. Simpson, formerly of Iowa, but more recently from Coos bay, is here this week and will probably locate in Independence. He is an acquaintance of Mr. Quasdorf. Mr. Simpson has two tailor shops in Germany and one in Coos bay. He is looking for a farm rather than an opening for a tailor here.

One of the most enjoyable dances of the season took place at the Auditorium Saturday night. Music was furnished by the Monmouth orchestra and there were just enough persons to fill the large hall comfortably. Quite a number came over from Dallas, which with Monmouth and Independence people made up a pleasant party.

Wm. Iliff returned this week from a two months visit to his old home in Illinois, looking hale and hearty. Mr. Iliff brought no new recruits back with him but results from his trip may be expected. He is thoroughly convinced that Oregon is the country to live in and he acknowledges he talked himself black in the face about Oregon while in Illinois. He was on the go all the time during his absence, visiting in five different counties and meeting many people.

On Sunday evening July 31st, inst at the M. E. church the Rev. C. E. Crandall, of Turner, Oregon, will preach the Quarterly Conference sermon. Mr. Crandall is a very able preacher and is sure to please the congregation. Presiding Elder T. B. Ford will be here August 3, 1904, to conduct the fourth quarterly conference. All the officers are expected to be present. Business of deep importance is to be attended to.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. church met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Skinner Tuesday and spent the day in quilting a quilt pieced by a former member Mrs. Lottie Boyd, now in Sacramento, California. A very fine dinner was served by Mr. and Mrs. Skinner as only she can do, as all will confess who were fortunate enough to have accepted of Mr. and Mrs. Skinner's hospitality. The following were a few of the fortunates: Mr. and Mrs. Skinner, Mr. and Mrs. Ingram, Mr. and Mrs. Rice, Mr. and Mrs. Edmondson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Knox and family, Mr. and Mrs. F. Skinner, Mr. and Mrs. Heath, Mr. and Mrs. Elkins, Mr. and Mrs. Eams, Mrs. Hedges, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. L. Whiteaker, Mrs. Whitcomb, Mrs. Paddock and children, Mrs. Reese, Mrs. Graves,

MARRIED.

A beautiful wedding occurred at the residence of the bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Fuller at Dallas Wednesday evening the 20th, when Miss Bertha L. Fuller and Oscar Hayter were united in marriage. The impressive ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock in the presence of quite a number of friends and relatives. Rev. E. J. Thompson, D. D. of Independence officiating. The parlors of the home were beautifully decorated with vines, plants and flowers. The bride was daintily attired in crepe-de-pere trimmed with real lace, and carried a lovely bouquet of white carnations with asparagus ferns. Miss Olive Smith presided at the piano playing the wedding march with several choice and beautiful selections during the ceremony. Miss Smith rendered softly and sweetly the favorite tune "Oh Promise Me." The effect was charming.

At the close the guests hastened to extend their hearty congratulations. Then came a delicious lunch served on the lawn which was greatly enjoyed by all. An hour spent in social pleasure and Mr. and Mrs. Hayter took a carriage for Salem thence to Portland and the Sound. Miss Fuller is one of the many lovely and estimable young ladies of Dallas, a great favorite in society and highly esteemed by all who know her. Mr. Hayter is one of Oregon's bright and promising young men and rising attorneys, not only of Dallas and Polk county but of the state and a brilliant and successful future is before him. The many friends extend most cordial congratulations to the bridal couple and with them a lovely life. They expect to return in a few weeks and make Dallas their home.

PUYALLUP HOPS.

J. V. Meeker, a resident of Puyallup valley, Wash., arrived Sunday and will spend the summer here. Mr. Meeker is well known in this vicinity having lived in Polk county a number of years. He is now visiting at the home of Chas. Huntley, a nephew. Hops have not suffered for want of rain in the Puyallup country as badly as here, according to Mr. Meeker. That section has had a rainless season, but it did not seem to affect the hop land. The berry crop however was cut short. Berries have come to be a staple resource of Puyallup, particularly blackberries and raspberries and this year's crop was little less than a failure. The hop yield, Mr. Meeker estimates, will be up to the average.

She's a Bird.

Mrs. William Robbin of Louisville, Ky., was recently married to David Buzzard. It is her fourth matrimonial venture. She was a Miss Martin, daughter of one of the best known Bourbon county families. She first married Robert Crow. He died and she married John Sparrow six months afterwards. She and Mr. Sparrow did not agree and a divorce followed. Mrs. Sparrow became Mrs. Wm. Robbin, but again a divorce was found advisable. After a year of lonely life Mrs. Robbin has become Mrs. Buzzard. She has two Crowes, one Robbin and a Buzzard at her home.

Partnership Dissolved.

The partnership heretofore existing between G. Keller and Dr. Nehrbras under the fine name of the Luckiamute Flouring Mill Co., has been dissolved. Mr. Nehrbras retiring and the business continuing under the ownership of Mr. Keller. All of Mr. Nehrbras' interests has been purchased by Mr. Keller and the latter is sole owner. The Luckiamute Flouring Mill is run by one of the best water powers in the country, and has a daily capacity of 50 barrels. The brands of flour manufactured are well known, some of the product being exported and considerable consumed by home trade.

The grave danger of business is that a man shall place his soul on the counter.

It is a good deal easier to talk about doing good than it is to walk about doing good.

Most men would rather be an electric sign for themselves than a light for the world.

THE CONQUEST.

Here in Oregon people are interested in the centenary of the Lewis & Clarke discoveries of 1804. Perhaps it will be of interest to the readers of the Enterprise to know that besides the new edition of Lewis & Clarke's Journal recently reprinted by McClurg & Co., Mrs. Eva Emery Dye, author of "McLaughlin and Old Oregon," has a very interesting book entitled "The Conquest." In it she weaves a story which is a sequel to the above and tells of the two thousand mile journey on foot by Nez Percés Indians from Oregon to St. Louis in 1830 to find Wm. Clarke whom they called the "Red-headed Chief" who was now superintendent of Indian affairs. They wanted to get the "white man's Book of Heaven" of which an American trapper had told them. "The Conquest" attempts to cover the work of Jason Lee and Marcus Whitman in Oregon. It thrills with deeds of heroism and consequence. It is a valuable and interesting book.—Rev. Edmondson.

AN IMPORTANT INDUSTRY.

Growing Business of Jefferson Creamery Due to Good Management and Careful Work.

While in Jefferson yesterday a representative of The Herald was placed under obligations to Mr. W. B. Vanderhyde, who courteously explained the workings and operation of the Jefferson creamery, of which he is the efficient manager. A year ago last March Mr. K. C. Eldredge, of Independence, established the creamery at Jefferson and placed Mr. Vanderhyde in charge, and the success of the creamery reflects credit on the good management of Mr. Eldredge, both in selection of the creamery and the man to manage the same. All the machinery is of the most modern, and neat, clean appearance of the entire plant and the courteous treatment of patrons accounts largely for the growing business and increasing demand for the product of this concern. The creamery has a capacity of 3,000 pounds of butter each day and in the month of June produced 25,000 pounds of butter. The local patrons furnish only about half the cream used in the making of the butter, while the remainder is shipped in from points as far south as Medford. A concern of this kind should receive the full encouragement of the people in the immediate vicinity for the reason that it helps to build up the country and furnishes the farmer with a cash market for his surplus cream. Both Mr. Eldredge and Mr. Vanderhyde are men of much experience in butter-making and deserve the full measure of success which the Jefferson creamery is attaining—July 15, 1904. Albany Herald.

THE MARRIAGE QUESTION.

The professor who announced that "love and romance die out with the sound of the wedding bells," was the first to start the ball rolling. It would seem a brave woman who marries with this echo in her ears, yet we have not heard that there were any unhappy marriages during the year. There are many happy married lives, but a large percentage of these unhappy homes are due to the illness of the wife, mother or daughter. During a long period of practice, Doctor Pierce found that a prescription made up entirely of roots and herbs, without the use of alcohol, cured ninety-eight per cent. of such cases. After using this remedy for many years in his private practice he put it up in a form that can be had at any store where medicines are handled. Backed up by over a third of a century of remarkable and uniform cures, a record such as no other remedy for the diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women ever attained, the proprietors and makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $50 in legal money of the United States, for any case of Leucorrhoea, Female Weakness, Protrusion, or Falling of Womb which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures headache, backache, nervousness, sleeplessness and other consequences of womanly disease. "Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong and sick women well. Accept no substitute for the medicine which works wonders for weak women.
