

INDEPENDENCE SOCIAL BRIEFLETS

Miss Mollie McDonald was in Portland over Sunday.

Mrs. Sam Goff is visiting in Portland this week.

Miss Frances Cooper has returned from Newport.

Peter Shafer and his brother George Shafer were at Newport this week.

BORN—To Mr. and Mrs. Fleming in North Independence, August 27, 1904 a baby girl.

BORN—To Mr. and Mrs. James Calahan near Independence, August 24, 1904 a baby girl.

J. S. Kibbey has moved to his residence on Monmouth street. He came here from Kings Valley.

Mrs. Wallace attended the millinery openings in Portland last week and is busy this week unboxing and displaying her goods.

Miss Kate Hart of Portland, after spending several weeks with Mrs. Thos. Fennell, returned home Saturday.

Mrs. Kitchen and daughter, Stella, of Centralia, Wn., are visiting at the home of Mrs. Kitchen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Taylor.

Mrs. A. S. Holt and Mrs. W. L. Macrum of Napavine, Wn., visited their sister Mrs. J. Dornisfe the past week.

C. F. Shafer and Henry Orman, of Bartly, Neb., arrived in Independence this week, and if favorably impressed with the country will locate here. Mr. Shafer and Mr. Orman were passengers to Newport Monday for a few days outing.

Mrs. O. D. Butler entertained a number of friends with a fried crab party Wednesday evening of last week. Present were Mrs. J. F. O'Donnell, of Portland, Mrs. A. J. Goodman, of Pendleton, Mrs. J. E. Kirkland, P. M. Kirkland, H. Hirschberg and Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Butler. Social whist was the game of the evening and for refreshments, fried crabs, fresh from Yaquina Bay, were served.

L. E. Stapleton sold 2000 bushels of wheat to the Independence Flouring mills Saturday. Mr. Stapleton is farming 340 acres two miles south of town and his place bears evidence of industry that counts. This year he raised 3000 bushels of wheat and 600 bushels of oats and furnished pasturage for quite a number of head of stock. The past year he shipped 35 head of hogs and will soon be hauling the product of 11 milch cows to the creamery.

Senator George Wright of McMinneville, accompanied by Mrs. Wright stopped in Independence Friday night. They were on their return trip from the mountains, Mrs. Wright having spent a month at Cascadia, while the Senator with Dr. Toney, of Dallas pertrated the jungles of the Cascades and killed during the trip fifteen deer, according to their statements. The Senator was state-part of a mountain and looked the of his acquaintance so well few him. Rath... ntes recognized on... streets... Mrs. Wright walked a block... He wore a full month's growth of beard presenting an appearance suggestive of a sea lion and Paul Kruger cross. The Senator has four months in which to civilize himself "the applause of a listening senate to command".

E. H. Woodward of Newberg has received by express two mocking birds direct from Kansas.

Miss Mabel Cressy and Miss Maud Hawley were among the last to come out from Newport.

Mrs. D. A. Hodges, Mrs. O. A. Kramer and families have returned from their summer's outing at Newport.

Curtis Hawley, of Pendleton, visited Independence and Monmouth on his way home from the distractions at Newport.

While out swimming in the Calipooia two miles from Albany Miss Ora Simpson was taken with heart failure and drowned.

An incendiary set fire to the barn of J. W. Swank near Albany, and the barn and contents were destroyed. Besides farming implements, 18 tons of hay and 600 bushels of grain were lost.

Mrs. Turner has purchased the George Sloper place. While feeding the chickens a few days ago she fell on a piece of scantling and broke her arm.

Dr. W. R. Allin has gone after big game up on the McKenzie. He will be away until about the middle of September.

After spending the summer with her parents here, Miss Veña Goff has returned to Great Falls Mont. to resume teaching.

W. C. Hoflein, the popular C. & E. conductor well known to Newport visitors was married to Miss Elva Aikin in Salem Wednesday. No more flirting with passengers.

David Reddaway and family of eleven pickers arrived by team from Tillamook City Friday. G. S. Mills of Spokane, joined the party on the way. Their tented home is near the Dove yard where they anxiously await the command "Pick hops."

A train of four wagons with twenty pickers arrived from Eugene Friday. The party comprised the families of J. Underwood, Peter Johnson, S. O. Long, H. Stallings and A. Bogard. They made the trip in four days. They are now comfortably encamped on the outskirts of the Walker Bros. yard awaiting the ripening of hops.

The experiment of burning crude oil as fuel in the place of wood has been tried at the Kay Woolen Mills in Salem and proven successful. The Kay Woolen Mills consume annually 2000 cords of wood which costs about $3.25 a cord. The oil delivered costs $1.10 a barrel. A barrel of the oil is said to equal a cord of wood and a third of wood for steam producing purposes.

D. M. Watson Thanks. "I think we have just as good an oil field here in Oregon as they have in Kern, Fresno, or Monterey counties, and I am positive the oil beneath the Willamette valley is far superior to any found in California. It can be struck between 800 and 1000 feet from the surface, but care must be taken to exclude the water from the well as it is being bored. I predict that in a few years the best quality of crude oil will be flowing into Portland by a gravity system, whose tanks will be located in Marion and Polk counties. The day of the wood dealer and the coal miner is now nearly past in Oregon, and cheap fuel will permit of the development of many resources now lying dormant."

WHAT THE WORLD WANTS.

(Orison Sweet Marden in "Success.")

Men who can not be bought.

Men whose word is their bond.

Men who put character above wealth.

Men who possess opinions and a will.

Men who see the divine in common.

Men who "would rather be right than be President."

Men who will not lose their individuality in a crowd.

Men who will not think anything profitable that is dishonest.

Men who will be as honest in small things as in great things.

Men who will make no compromise with questionable things.

Men whose ambitions are not confined to their own selfish desires.

Men who are willing to sacrifice private interests for the public good.

Men who are not afraid to take chances, who are not afraid of failure.

Men of courage, who are not cowards in any part of their natures.

Men who are larger than their business, who overtop their vocation.

Men who will give thirty-six inches for a yard and thirty-two quarts for a bushel.

Philanthropists who will not let their right hand know what their left hand is doing.

Men who will not have one brand of honesty for business purposes and another for private life.

Young men who will be true to their highest ideals in spite of the sneers and laughter of their companions.

Clergymen who can bear a louder call than that of public applause, larger salary, or a fashionable church.

Statesmen who will not pack caucuses, pull wires, or be influenced in their policy by personal motives.

Magnanimous souls who do not look upon everybody they meet for the possible use they may be to them.

Men who are true to their friends through good report and ill report, in adversity as well as in prosperity.

Single hearted people who do not look at every proposition from the point of view of "What is there in it for me?"

Young men and women who can stand erect and independent while others bow and fawn and cringe for place and power.

Men who do not believe that shrewdness, sharpness, cunning and longheadedness are the best qualities for winning success.

Lawyers who will not persuade clients to bring suits merely to squeeze fees out of them, when they know very well that they have no chance of winning.

MARRIED.

Henry Shafer and Cecelia Ober-son, both of Independence were married at Dallas, Saturday, Aug. 27. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Ober-son recently from Minnesota. The groom has lived in Independence for a number of years, being the son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Shafer. The happy pair, after a short visit in Portland and Aberdeen, Wn., will return and make their home in Independence.

Bishop Potter Cocktail.

Here's the formula for the Bishop Potter cocktail, the latest out.

One dash of orange bitters in a mixing glass.

Five drops of Peruvian special.

One dash of French vermouth.

One dash of Italian vermouth.

One dash of French nerve cordial.

One jigger of dry gin.

Fill the glass with chipped ice, and while you stir the mixture with the ecclesiastical spoon have the cocktail glass chilled with shaved ice.

When ready to serve fill the cocktail glass with shaved ice for a frappe and strain the mixture into it. Drink with a short straw so that you can inhale the odor, which is like incense.

When served the Bishop Potter cocktail has a shimmering color that reminds one of the early sunshine coming through the varicolored church windows and falling softly on the pews.

Have your water melon put on ice at Craven & Moore's. No extra charge.
