Carpenters and plasterers are at work on the room in the Brown building to be occupied by the new bank and will have everything in readiness for the furniture when it arrives. The front of the building will be remodeled by removing the show windows and putting in a new plateglass front. The bank furniture was shipped from Chicago about two weeks ago.—Dallas Observer.

The Independence orchestra has leased the auditorium for the winter and will give dances on Saturday nights during the season. This will be pleasing news to dancers who have heard the orchestra since its recent organization. Besides good music, the presence of the orchestra, insures dances of a high order; and dances that will furnish entertainment for the most select will be afforded at the Auditorium during the winter.

Through the burning of the mill and warehouse of the Salem Flouring Mills Co. all hopes of a linen mill in Salem this year must be abandoned, for flax valued at $50,000 was destroyed. The total loss by the fire is over $100,000. Only $3,000 insurance was carried upon the flax by Eugene Bosse, who was storing it for use in his proposed linen mill. The fire was set by an incendiary, who was seen striking three matches at the corner of the building, where the flames were discovered a few moments later. The flouring mill, worth $50,000 is fully insured. The Mill was owned by T. B. Wilcox of Portland. The destruction of the flax is felt as a serious blow to the flax industry, and it is this that causes the deepest regret.

Mrs. Eph Young was in Salem Saturday.

Thos. Pomeroy was a passenger to Portland Monday for a few days.

Miss Iva Cooper is attending school at Mt. Angel this year.
