PIONEER ULOGIZED.

Following is a synopsis of the eulogy delivered by Judge Martin L. Pipes at the funeral of pioneer, Henry Hill:

Thirty years ago, nearly, I came to Independence, and became acquainted with Henry Hill. There are many faces missing from this audience that I can recall as his contemporaries of that time, the pioneers, and at every succeeding visit some old familiar face has faded in the interval, into the mists of the other shore. This town for me throngs with tender memories, not the least tender of which is the memory of this man who was then good to me and mine.

Death gives us the privilege to speak freely and openly of the virtues of the dead, and gives to affection a voice that is under no suspicion of insincerity. To us all Mr. Hill was an example and to have known him in life was a blessing of which even death cannot depreciate the value. A good man is gone. It is deeply touching to me that I have the privilege of testifying to his noble character.

The founder of this town in his early manhood, he grew to be its venerable patriarch. Death has taken him in the fullness of time, but he has left to his descendants and you his fellow townsmen the priceless heritage of an honorable name. It was of men like him that the wise man, wrote "A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches and loving kindness rather than silver and gold."

It requires the illuminating if melancholy presence of death to teach us the measureless superiority of character over the accidents of fame or fortune. In this presence we are consoled by the memory of good deeds and a spotless reputation.

I do not recite this as giving you information you do not possess. I cannot eulogize him beyond the silent homage of your own hearts. Years and years ago I wrote in many a title deed the descriptive words, "In Henry Hill's town of Independence." In a deeper sense this has always been Henry Hill's town of Independence. He gathered you into his warm affections, made you a part of his honest pride, added to your prosperity, and folded you in his heart of hearts.

Henry Hill's character was one of simplicity. He was openness itself. If his gentleness ever changed to harshness, it was a publicity and dishonesty. He pretended to no belief or opinion that he did not hold and abide by in the practice of life. Tolerant of the opinions of others his own were nevertheless steadfast and unwavering.

He was of independent mind. He loved freedom; he loved it not for himself alone but for all others. He talked his doctrine, and what is more, he lived it. He taught it to his children and by his precept and example he taught it to his beloved town.

There were two ideas he had—two qualities of mind, rather—that constitute the supremest of all goodness—his respect for woman and his love of children. Generations of boys, now men, have learned to work under him, and testify to his unvarying kindness. He was not only the father of the town but of the town's children. And for his declining years, he reaped the harvest of this gentle disposition, in the dear, confiding and familiar affection of his own household and the veneration of everybody.

Thirty years ago, when I came to Independence, a stranger in a strange land, the most comforting and inspiring event to me was the welcome and good will of the rugged man to whose memory I am now permitted to pay the poor tribute of my halting words.

The kind and loving father and husband, the good neighbor, the excellent citizen, the steadfast friend, the just and honest man! What better words to say above his grave? What eulogy can equal the simple eloquence of a life as open as a book, as fair as the moon and as clear as the sun?

Death must be a wise provision of the Ruler of the Universe, or it would not exist. We do not know what is beyond the veil, but if goodness is to be rewarded, we can confide in the belief that our departed friend has entered into a scene of happiness. I do not venture on that theme, for I am dumb before that mystery, whose strangeness is everlasting, and to whose constant recurrence we can never grow accustomed. I only know that death's dark, impending hand admonishes us to kindness and forbearance toward the living, so to emulate the life that has just ended.

Suicide With Comfort.
"Do you know of the only Irishman who ever committed suicide?" asked W. B. Pollard. "You know it is said that Irishmen never commit suicide and when the argument was advanced in a crowd of that nationality he was so unstrung that he decided to show his opponents that Irishmen do sometimes commit a rash act. He accordingly disappeared, and the man who employed him started a search. When he got to the barn he looked up toward the rafters and saw his man hanging with a rope around his waist.

"What are you up to, Pat?" he asked.
"Oi'm hanging meself, begobs!" the Irishman replied.
"Why dont you put it around your neck?"
"Faith, Oi did, but Oi couldn't braythe," was the unsmiling reply of the man from the Emerald Isle."

Mrs. Cass Gibson and daughter Miss Hallie of Rickreall were in Independence Wednesday.

HER FATHER'S CRIME.

The Margarita Fischer Co. opens their engagement of three nights at the Opera-House Thursday evening October 27, in one of the strongest southern plays ever written "Her Father's Crime". A story beautifully told and filled with strong scenes, startling climaxes. One who has seen and appreciated "Uncle Tom's Cabin" knows the beauty of a southern play and this is an exceptionally clever one. The cruel treatment a slave caused by a father exchanging his masters the patient blind mother, the revengeful young mistress, the meek slave all tend to make the story, while the faithful colored servants keep the comedy loving audience in laughter from start to finish. A play richly staged and costumed giving Miss Fischer and her entire cast a splendid opportunity to display their talents. The company is undoubtedly one of the strongest on the coast this season. Special features: The three Howards, Frank and Sam comedians, vocalists and dancers. Mabel the scottish nightingale, the pronounced Eastern success. Prices 50 35 and 25 cents. Seats now on sale at Locke's drug store.

LAST SUMMER'S WORK

Permanent Cures Performed By Dr. Darrin in Salem. Now at Hotel Corvallis.

(Corvallis Times.)

Among the many cases treated by Dr. Darrin, and presented to us for publication, we select the following which speaks volumes for the doctor's skill and the permanency of his cure. Mrs. Ross and Mr. Darby are well known in Marion county.

MR. DARBY CURED OF CATARRH.

Salem, Oregon, June 19, 1903—Dr. Darrin. For eight years I have been afflicted with catarrh in the head and throat, causing bleeding of the nose. Your treatment by electricity and medicines cured me completely. I will say that for the small amount you charged me, I would not endure the catarrh for one day though it cost me ten times the amount I gave you to cure me. I offer you these few lines of testimony with my own free will.

C. W. DARBY
MRS. ROSS' GOOD LUCK.

Salem, Or., June 15, 1903.—To the Editor; Dear Sir: I am proud to witness to the public the skill of Dr. Darrin as a physician. Nearly two years ago I presented myself to him a miserable diseased physical wreck, body and mind, never had the thought of seeing a well day again, but hoping to receive from him some temporary relief. One year ago I did not dare take a mouthful of solid food into my stomach. I lived on soup and cocoa on account of my intense suffering—apparently afflicted with an acute and incurable disease of the stomach. I took the treatment of Dr. Darrin three months and have since been able to sit down to any kind of food and relish it to my hearts satisfaction, never fearing any evil results. My afflictions were chronic dyspepsia, constipation, liver and kidney complaints, pains in the heart and lungs and diseases peculiar to my sex. Now life is a pleasure, I am a stranger to pain of any form. Have not had such health in twenty years.

enjoy all things on account of feeling well again. Publish this, that others may be benefitted. Refer your readers to me at Salem Ore.

CUPID'S MIRROR.

"The beauty of a woman's face or figure is but the external sign of the good health within," says Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., the specialist in women's diseases. Further, to be happy and beautiful one must naturally have good health.

Now, if a woman has dragging-down feelings, together with constantly returning pains and aches, a too great drain upon her vitality and strength, the ill-temper, the pale and wrinkled face, all result from these disorders peculiar to women, and the only way to effect their cure is to strike at the source of the difficulty. There is every reason why she should write some great specialist, one who has made the diseases of women a specialty for a third of a century like Dr. R. V. Pierce, founder of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y. All correspondence is held sacredly confidential, and he gives his advice free and without charge.

During a long period of practice, Doctor Pierce found that a prescription made up entirely of roots and herbs, without the use of alcohol, cured ninety-eight per cent of such cases. After using this remedy for many years in his private practice he put it up in a form that can be had at any store where medicines are handled.

In many cases Dr. R. V. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will fit the needs and put the body in healthy condition.

So sure of it is Dr. Pierce, he offers a reward of $500 for anyone who cannot be cured of Leucorrhoea, Female Weakness, Protrusion, or Falling of Womb. All he asks is a fair and reasonable trial of his means of cure.

Don't allow the dealer to insult your intelligence by offering you a cheap substitute.
