An Independence man has shipped 16 goats to British Columbia, at $50 apiece, showing that the homely and humble goat is not to be despised.—Journal.

Homely and humble goat! It's the prettiest animal that nips the flowery food from Polk County's verdant hillsides. He that can see no beauty in the Oregon goat must himself be bald headed and accustomed to looking at snakes and elephants and such creatures as Nature failed to favor with a covering of fine mohair. A full fleeced Angora goat is a bunch of loveliness to command the admiration of the most fastidious. It is the child-like face and velvety softness of the Angora kid, that will cause a woman to drop her poodle dog to embrace a creature more loveable and more lovely than her pampered canine. It is the mohair in the beautiful rug, that tickles the tribbles of the Journal's sidelight editor as he springs out of bed barefooted, in the morning. It is from the mohair from the goat's back, dress goods of a costly grade are made; from mohair rich lap robes are manufactured and it is the goat that furnishes the fleece from which is made the plush upon which the traveling public ride in luxurious ease in Pullman Palace cars. Indeed the goat is not to be despised nor is he to be called homely and humble. The subjects of King Edward who purchased Polk county goats at $50 a head may congratulate themselves on securing a bargain. It is true goats sometimes sell for less in this county and it is also true there are goats in Polk that cannot be bought for $500. There are imported Angora goats in this county, the freight and other charges on which from South Africa, were $300. There is probably no place on earth where mohair grows more rapidly than in Polk county. The Riddell boys exhibited a goat, Sultan, at the St Louis Fair that was ruled out on the grounds that its fleece had grown at a greater rate than an inch a month. Mr. Grant raised a goat on which the fleece grew 22 inches in 18 months.

It is an old saying that one must go away from home to get the news. Last week's issue of the Independence Enterprise says:

"All of the Dallas city officials threaten to resign before election time rolls round next Spring. What's the matter?"—Polk County Observer.

Not many papers are candid enough to admit they must go away from home to get the news. In the Observer's case it is another instance in evidence of how a newspaper man may, by accepting local office so tie himself up as to be handicapped in the race for news. The editor of the Observer is mayor of Dallas. In such a position one naturally becomes defendant against the many criticisms that come up against the management of municipal affairs. Some of the county seat's citizens find fault with some actions of the Dallas city council particularly in the matter of a contract with an outside party for a water system. It is not the purpose of this paper to pass upon the merits of the contract but as a matter of news it publishes for all of its readers whom it may concern or interest that Dallas has people who think the city got the worst of it in the water deal.

In deference to criticism of the water contract, the resignation of all hold over officers to take effect at election time so as to give the voters a new deal if they desire it, is a topic of discussion among the tax payers at the County Seat.

Both county and circuit court will convene at Dallas next week.

The improvement league of Independence is busy.—Portland Journal.

Hardly have time to turn around.

There was a grand ball at Enterprise last night and a full orchestra furnished music.—Telegram.

Independence is meant. Thanksgiving Ball is referred to. It was grand. Prof. Frank Lucas can speak for the fullness of the orchestra.

Enterprise is shipping goats to British Columbia. These goats bring $50 apiece, being no ordinary "butinskies." Enterprise is enterprising.—Telegram.

This does the West Side Enterprise too much honor. It was enterprise that shipped goats to British Columbia. It was perpetrated on the west side but it was the Riddell boys of Polk county that did the shipping. In referring to Polk county's Billy Buttinskies, the "Splashes" editor of the Telegram will kindly give credit to whom credit is due and spell "butinskies" with two t's hereafter.

The marshal of Independence went on a little target practice last Sunday morning. Two men supposed to be robbers dodged the bullets and then escaped.—Telegram.

No Poison in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

From Napier New Zealand, Herald: Two years ago the Pharmacy Board of New South Wales, Australia, had an analysis made of all the cough medicines that were sold in that market. Out of the entire list they found only one that they declared was entirely free from all poisons. This exception was Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, made by the Chamberlain Medicine Company, Des Moines, Iowa, U. S. A. The absence of all narcotics makes this remedy the safest and best that can be had; and it is with a feeling of security that any mother can give it to her little ones. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is especially recommended by its makers for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. When taken in time it prevents pneumonia. This remedy is for sale by P. M. Kirkland, The Druggist.

Herb W. Edwards Injured.

Herb W. Edwards of Des Moines, Iowa, got a fall on an icy walk last winter, spraining his wrist and bruising his knees. "The next day," he says, "they were so sore and stiff I was afraid I would have to stay in bed, but I rubbed them well with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and after a few applications all soreness had disappeared. I feel that this bottle of Pain Balm saved me several days' time, to say nothing of the suffering." This liniment is for sale by P. M. Kirkland, the Druggist.

Constipation.

Health is absolutely impossible, if constipation be present. Many serious cases of kidney and liver complaint have sprung from neglected constipation. Such a deplorable condition is unnecessary. There is a cure for it. Herbine will speedily remedy matters. C. A. Lindsay, P. M. Bronson, Fla., writes, Feb. 12, 1902: "Having tried Herbine, I find it a fine medicine for constipation." 50c bottle. Sold by A. S. Locke, Independence; L. S. Perkins, Monmouth.

Salem's Best Store

Getting Better Every Day

Every day we are bettering conditions at our mammoth establishment. The people like to trade with us because they always get full value for their money and then some. We can sell goods for less money than any other store because we conduct our business on more economical lines. When the Czar of Russia drinks wine he does it at the expense of the people. When a merchant indulges in unnecessary expense in operating his business, he does it also at the expense of the people. THE SAFE STORE IS THE ECONOMY STORE—That is, the store that can live on small profits.

GREAT SALE OF DRESS GOODS AND SILKS
