Hop men are turning their attention toward their hop yards.

This is the proper time to replace old wooden fire traps in the business part of town with brick buildings.

To satisfy the overweening anxiety of some members of the legislature, they should have been permitted to elect a United States Senator to take his seat in case Senator Mitchell dies or resigns.

While pretended friends are deserting Senator Mitchell like rats fleeing from a sinking ship, the law firm of Simon & Adolph, his lifelong political enemies, proffer their services in his defense.

The stock shippers bill had a rocky road but it has now passed both Houses and is filed in the Secretary of State's office beyond the recall of the Governor and will become a law 90 days from Monday, February 3. Governor Chamberlain had slated it for veto but upon representation of W. W. Percival and others decided to allow it to pass to the statute books.

A wild flower is a little thing—lost in the green of full-robbed spring.

Yet its beauty brightens the scene, and its fragrance sweetens the air, wafting the brimming cup of June to many a jaded heart—and it drops its petals all too soon.

A dew drop is a little thing—lost in the glory of a summer's morn.

Yet it sparkles with the splendor of the rising sun, and glistens with the myriad colors of hope, reflecting the freshness of the new-born day to the tired eye—and its fragile life is all too short.

A bird's song is a little thing—lost in the depths of a forest dell.

Yet its whistled music lightens the purple shadows of the woodland gloom and its message of melody cheers the mind with the gladness of summer—and the song is ended all too quickly.

A ray of sunshine is a little thing—lost in the gold of a noontide flood.

Yet it gilds with the magic mystery of life and at its soft caress the barren earth bursts into bloom, and wherever it falls care-laden souls are brighter and burdens seem lighter, and the clouds come all too soon.

A kind word is a little thing—lost in the buzz of a busy world.

Yet to worried, discouraged souls it brings new life and faith, and purpose grows clearer and love grows dearer, and the cheering words are all too few.

A sunny smile is a little thing—lost in a life of work and sorrow.

Yet to the burdened and care-laden heart it carries fresh hope and cheer, and courage grows stronger, and the day seems longer, and the kindly smiles are all too rare.

A generous act is a little thing—lost in the stream of greed and grab.

Yet it brightens many a gloom-laden life and scatters the somber clouds of sorrow, and the sunshine of an unselfish deed cashrines the doer in its glory—and unselfish acts are all too scarce.—Ex.

Fox Takes His Departure

Asa Taylor has lost his fox. After spending fourteen months in domesticating it, the varmint broke his chain a few days ago and left for pastures new. It has been kept in the front yard fastened to a large oak tree, and now the absence of the fox on the beaten trail around the tree gives Asa a feeling of loneliness and he offers twenty dollars for the return of his pet. The fox was a beautiful silver grey, eighteen months old and answers to the name of "Jack." It has a swallow-fork cut out of the right ear.

Convention At McMinnville.

The Women of Woodcraft of district number eleven are holding a convention at McMinnville this week. The delegates from the various lodges in this vicinity took the two o'clock train from here Tuesday for McMinnville. They are as follows: Mrs. J. H. Bohannon, Independence circle; Mrs. A. J. Byers, Monmouth; Mrs. Mary Meador, Monmouth Sunbeam Circle; Miss Lulu Locke, Buena Vista Circle; Meadames Kerslake, Ganler, Fiske, Cherrington and Tatum, Dallas Circle.

M. F. Rose Buys English Shire

The young English Shire horse brought here a few weeks ago from the A. C. Ruby farm near Pendleton has been purchased by M. F. Rose of Monmouth. Mr. Rose paid $2800 for the animal. He is three years old weighing 1800 pounds and is pronounced a fine specimen of the draft horse by judges of horse flesh. He will be kept in Monmouth and Independence and if he proves the breeder that he is expected to be, will do a great deal toward building up the quality of draft horses in this vicinity.

$100 Reward, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

La Grippe and Pneumonia.

Pneumonia often follows La Grippe but never follows the use of Foley's Honey and Tar. It cures the gripple coughs and prevents pneumonia and consumption. Ask for Foley's Honey and Tar and refuse any substitute offered. Mr. G. Vacher of 157 Osgood St., Chicago writes: "My wife had a severe case of la grippe three years ago, and it left her with a terrible cough. She tried a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar and it gave immediate relief. A 50c bottle cured her cough entirely." Refuse substitutes. Sold by A. S. Locke.

Call for Warrants

Dallas, Ore., Feb. 17, 1905.
All warrants endorsed, "Not Paid for want of Funds," prior to May 6, 1904, will be paid upon presentation at the office of the County Treasurer. No interest will be allowed after this date.

J. E. Beezley,
County Treasurer.

Fraud Exposed.

A few counterfeiters have lately been making and trying to sell imitations of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, and other medicines, thereby defrauding the public. This is to warn you to beware of such people, who seek to profit through stealing the reputation of remedies which have been successfully curing disease for over 35 years. A sure protection, to you, is our name on the wrapper. Look for it on all Dr. King's, or Bucklen's remedies as all others are mere imitations. H. E. BUCKLEN & CO., Chicago, Ill., and Windsor, Canada.

Port Arthur's Place in History.

Port Arthur may find a place in history similar to that of the much disputed Gibraltar. Like Gibraltar, it commands a marine gateway, and at least three nations, Japan, Russia and China, are vitally interested in its control. Whatever the outcome of the present contest, Russia will be untrue to her past if she leaves Port Arthur in Japanese hands peacefully without gaining an equivalent. Gibraltar was taken by capture four times in four centuries, and its last captors, the English, withstood two memorable sieges during the first century of their control.

The fierceness of the struggle at Port Arthur will also serve to give it a place in history. The Russian garrison was perhaps itself inspired not alone by Sevastopol, but by Plevna and Kars, the first named being defended by Russians and the others holding out heroically for months against Russian assaults. Sevastopol was defended 327 days, at the end of which time the town was a ruin from the fire of the French and English guns. The Malakoff fortress held out against assault and close siege from June to September.

During this war in the Crimea the Russians, under Muraviev, laid siege to Kars, in the Caucasus, defended by 15,000 English and Turks, commanded by General Williams. The garrison had three months' food supply and ammunition for three days only, but stood off 50,000 men for five months. Muraviev said of his foe's gallant defense, "Posterity will stand amazed at the endurance, the courage and the discipline which this siege has called forth in the remains of an army."

The Russians also heavily outnumbered Osman Pasha at Plevna. At the end of a three months' siege, when the last morsel of food had been devoured, Osman Pasha led his remnants against the swarming besiegers and was not held up until he had broken through three lines of trenches. Farther back, in Napoleon's day, the Russians, together with their Prussian allies, hammered away at Dantzig for twelve months before the handful of French defenders that had been spared by pestilence, famine and bullets surrendered.

The sieges of Saragossa, Spain, in 1808-9 were attended with fighting of phenomenal fierceness. The French invested the city twice within less than twelve months, and 6,000 lives were lost in defending the walls, men and women noncombatants rallying around the soldiery. The exploits of the Maid of Saragossa, who engaged in both sieges, called forth this tribute in Byron's Child Harold:

And she whom once the semblance of a scar
Appalled, an owl's larum chilled with dread,
Now views the column scattering bayonet
The falchion flash and o'er the yet warm dead
Stalks with Minerva step where Mars
Might quake to tread.

This famous heroine, like the American Moll Pitcher, served the gun in the stead of her fallen lover. She was exceedingly pretty and in a soft style of feminine beauty and at the time twenty-two years old. She was given military rank, and Byron saw her on the Prado at Seville decorated with medals and orders.

China Wants Cheap Cotton Goods.

United States Consul Anderson reports from Hangchow that the field for American goods in China is unlimited. The Chinese need the goods manufactured in the United States and recognize their merit. But in order to sell them it is necessary that the manufacturers provide a grade which the Chinese can afford to buy. The Japanese have met the demand for cheap cotton goods, but there is no reason, the consul says, why the goods should not come direct from the United States if a similar line at a similar price is sent out. Hangchow imported $100,000 worth of cotton goods last year and the district four times that amount, while cotton goods comprise 40 per cent of the total imports of the empire. There is only one cotton mill in southern China, a comparatively modern plant at Hangchow, which employs 1,300 men, women and children. It makes principally cotton yarn, turning out about 300,000 pounds a year.

China has prosperous trades unions, according to the United States consul, but they seem to have done little to increase the wages of the shoemakers. In Canton, says the consul in a recent report to the state department, there are 700 shoe shops, employing over 8,000 male operatives, 20,000 females and many children. The pay of the children averages 2 to 4 cents a day in our money, with their rice. The wages of the males average $2.64 to $5.28 a month, with their "chow," consisting of rice twice a day, and now and then a piece of pork or a few vegetables. The men begin work at daylight and continue until 8 or 9 o'clock at night. The females, who do the needlework on the shoes at their own homes, get 6 cents a day and are not found.

Possibly those 150 Siberian bears which descended upon the Russian village of Ustakamchatska and kept it in a state of siege for several days were Japanese in disguise.

Failed

All efforts have failed to find a better remedy for coughs, colds and long trouble than Foley's Honey and Tar. It stops the cough, heals the lungs and prevents serious results from a cold. J. N. Patterson Nashua, Iowa writes: "Last winter I had a bad cold on my lungs and tried at least half a dozen advertised cough medicines and had treatment from two physicians without getting any benefit. A friend recommended Foley's Honey and Tar and two thirds of a bottle cured me. I consider it the greatest cough and lung medicine in the world. Sold by A. S. Locke."

Pirating Foley's Honey and Tar.

Foley & Co., Chicago originated Honey and Tar as a throat and lung remedy and on account of the great merit and popularity of Foley's Honey and Tar many imitations are offered for the genuine. Ask for Foley's Honey and Tar and refuse any substitute offered as no other preparation will give the same satisfaction. It is mildly laxative. It contains no opiates and is safest for children and delicate persons. Sold by A. S. Locke.

WINTER EXCURSION RATES TO YAQUINA BAY.

A New Departure on the Southern Pacific and Corvallis & Eastern Railroads.

Recognizing a long felt want, and desiring to give the public cheap rates to the coast in the winter as well as the summer, for persons who desire to see the bounding billows in their wildest moods and imbibe the pure ozone of the winter air at the coast, the Southern Pacific Company in connection with the Corvallis & Eastern Rail road have placed on sale, taking effect Nov. 2, 1904, and continuing until March, 31, 1905, from all points on their lines, round trip tickets to Yaquina at the same rate as during the summer. These tickets will be sold on Wednesdays and Saturdays only, and will be good for return sixty days from date of sale.

Dr. Minthorn's sanitary baths will be in operation and anyone who desires a genuine health resort during the winter cannot do better than spend a month or so at Yaquina.

Similar tickets will be sold from Albany Corvallis, Philomath and all points west on the Corvallis & Eastern R. R. Full information as to rates, baggage etc., can be obtained by applying to the nearest S. P. agent or direct from W. E. Comaa, G. P. A., S. P. Co., Portland, or Edwin Stone manager C. & E. R. Co., Albany.

P. S.—Through tickets to Portland are sold by the C. & E. at Corvallis, and by the S. P., Portland to Corvallis via Albany and the C. & E. at the same rate as via the west side, viz: $2.00 C. & E. trains connect at Albany with the Albany-Portland local both ways.

Grave Trouble Foreseen.

It needs but little foresight to tell that when your stomach and liver are badly affected, grave trouble is ahead, unless you take proper medicine for your disease as Mrs. John A. Young of Clay N. Y., did. She says: "I had neuralgia of the liver and stomach, my heart was weakened, and I could not eat. I was very bad for a long time, but in Electric Bitters, I found just what I needed for they quickly relieved and cured me." Best medicine for weak women. Sold under guarantee by A. S. Locke druggist at 50c a bottle.

Do Not Neglect a Cold.

Every cold weakens the Lungs, lowers the Vitality and makes the system less able to withstand each succeeding cold, thus paving the way for more serious diseases.

CAN YOU AFFORD TO TAKE SUCH CHANCES?
