Funerals of Mrs. Fannie Conkey, Mrs. Ed Marshall and Capt. Dove in Independence

Mrs. Fannie H. Conkey of this city died at St. Vincent's hospital in Portland Friday noon, April 7. She underwent a surgical operation on Monday before and never recovered. Her only daughter and son, Mrs. Carrie Moore, wife of Arthur Moore, and George Conkey were at her bedside when death came. The remains were brought back to Independence Saturday and buried in the Odd Fellows cemetery at Dallas yesterday. Funeral services were held at her residence in this city at 12 o'clock noon after which under an escort of the ladies of the Rebekah lodge of which she was a member, the remains were conveyed to the cemetery.

Mrs. Conkey's maiden name was Fannie Coleman; her native state Connecticut where she was born September 7, 1841. She came to California, via the Isthmus at the age of 16. On September 8, 1862, she was married to W. W. Conkey whose death occurred twelve years ago. In 1872 Mr. and Mrs. Conkey came to Oregon and located in Dallas. In October 1902, Mrs. Conkey removed to Independence which was her home until death. She was a member of the Presbyterian church and of the order of Rebekahs. Besides two children, she leaves a sister at Auburn, Cal., and a brother east. Mrs. Conkey was well known and highly esteemed in Polk county and will be greatly missed.

Captain Edward P. Dove, a former landmark of the upper Willamette and this section of Polk county, passed away at the Odd Fellows Home in Portland Friday afternoon. The remains were brought to Independence Sunday and after appropriate services under direction of Dr. E. J. Thompson in the Odd Fellows Hall at this place at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, buried in the I. O. O. F. cemetery south of town.

Edward P. Dove was born in Ohio in the year 1844 and at the age of one year was brought by his parents to Oregon, where the remainder of his life was spent. The family first located five miles north of Independence on what is now known as the Hayden place. In 1868 they moved on to the island which took its name from the family and is still known as Dove's or Bird Island. In the 70's Edward Dove was identified with steamboating on the upper Willamette. He was owner of the little Don't-Bother-Me boat which he operated five years, most of the time serving as captain. After disposing of the Don't-Bother-Me, Captain Dove worked on the Columbia a few months and then returned to Polk to engage in the hop business. Captain Dove was the third man in Oregon to take up the hop industry. In 1875 he planted a yard of 2 1/2 acres which was quite a hop yard for that time. He added to this and took in his brother, Dave Dove, and in 1882 they had a 40-acre yard and the Dove Bros. were then considered the largest hop growers in the state.

In 1889, Captain Edward Dove became a member of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows and remained a consistent member up to the time of his death. He leaves a widow and a daughter, Miss Rachael, besides two stepdaughters, Thecla and Mable and a stepson, Ernest Jones. Besides Dave Dove, his former partner, and still a hop-grower on Dove's Island, he leaves two other brothers, Richard residing in Crook county and John in Montana. The widow and children reside in Salem.

About Rheumatism.

There are few diseases that inflict more torture than rheumatism and there is probably no disease for which such a varied and useless lot of remedies have been suggested. To say that it can be cured is, therefore, a bold statement to make, but Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which enjoys an extensive sale, has met with great success in the treatment of this disease. One application of Pain Balm will relieve the pain, and hundreds of sufferers have testified to permanent cures by its use. Why suffer when Pain Balm affords such quick relief and costs but a trifle? For sale by P. M. Kirkland, the druggist.
