A MINISTER'S LETTER OF COMMENDATION.

FIVE BIG FACTORIES.

"I have been trying to get some firm here to put in a line of your shoes, as we have a hard time getting a good shoe in this town. I believe if you will take the matter up, you can arrange with Messrs. Peters Shoe Co. to handle 'Diamond Brands.' I have no interest in the matter only that I want to buy a good shoe once in a while. You will remember that I handled your shoes when in business in Quana, and know what they are." REV. WALTER GRIFFITH, Silvertown, Texas.

Could the superiority of Diamond Brand shoes be more convincingly shown? You are just as anxious for good shoes as Rev. Griffith and it is equally worth your while to insist that your dealer supply them.

DOVE'S DRUG STORE

Value Received in Prescriptions

A prescription may be poor in two ways. It may be put up all right, but the drugs and chemicals used may be stale, or "off standard." Or the ingredients may be exactly right, and yet the full effects be nullified because it is poorly compounded, or put up carelessly. In such case, no matter how low the charge, you don't get value received, which is the essential part of the transaction. When sickness comes, consider well the reputation of the druggist to whom you take your prescription. One thing we perhaps need not add, if you bring it to us you are sure to get value received every time.

An Ounce of Prevention is worth a pound of cure. There are many poor sufferers, Consumptives who are hopeless of getting well—who, if they had taken care of themselves, would now be well. A cough is the foundation of Consumption. Ballard's Horehound Syrup will cure that cough. Mrs. S., Great Falls, Montana, writes: "I have used Ballard's Horehound Syrup in my family for years—my children never suffer with coughs." Sold by D. G. Dove, druggist.

She Found Relief
If you are troubled with liver complaint and have not received help read this. Mrs. Mary E. Hammond, Moody, Texas. "I was in poor health—with liver trouble—for over a year. Doctors did me no good and I tried Herbine, and three bottles cured me. I can't say too much for Herbine, as it is a wood rat liver medicine. I always have it in the house. Publish where you wish." Sold by D. G. Dove, druggist.

WAS A VERY SICK BOY But Cured by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy

"When my boy was two years old he had a very severe attack of bowel complaint, but by the use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy we brought him out all right," says Maggie Hiecox, of Midland, Mich. This remedy can be depended upon in the most severe cases. Even cholera infantum is cured by it. Follow the plain printed directions and a cure is certain. For sale by P. M. Kirkland, the druggist.

SLIPS OF THE TONGUE.

Some of the Quaver Bulls That Have Been Recorded.

That man made a remark that had better have been left unsaid who, when the king found some fault with the earl marshal for some details of the coronation ceremony, replied, "Please, your majesty, I hope it will be better next time." Lord Orford tells the following, which he characterizes as the best "bull" he ever heard: "I hate that woman," said a gentleman, looking at one who had been his nurse. "I hate that woman, for she changed me at nurse." A gentleman was once complimenting Mme. Denis on the manner in which she had just enacted the part of Zara. "To act that part," said she, "a person should be young and handsome." "Ah, madam," replied the would be complimenter, "you are a complete proof to the contrary," which was a faux pas with a vengeance. It was at an execution in Ireland that the rope broke and the half hanged victim fell to the ground, when the person who was superintending the execution said, "You rascal, if you do that again I'll kill you as sure as you breathe."

It was an Irish mayor who issued a proclamation stating that certain business would be transacted in that city "except Monday" (Easter Sunday only excepted), which is capped by the preamble of an English bill which ordained that certain regulations should take place "on every Monday" (Tuesday excepted), while an English mayor ran this close in a proclamation and an advertisement relating to some forthcoming races, wherein it was stated that "no gentleman will be allowed to ride on the course but the horses that are to run."

Another "bull" of the legislature which actually found its way on to the statute book was that in which in amending an old act it was ordained in the event of conviction that of the fine of 40 shillings, half was to go to the king and half to the informer. In the amending act this was altered to "40 strokes with the birch, half to go to the king and half to the informer," which only tends to show that the draftsmen of the laws of the nation are not always as careful as they might or should be. Of course, perhaps, the poor things are overworked or tired.

Shakespeare has been guilty of more than one literary "bull," one of his best being in the first portion of "Henry IV," wherein the carrier complains that "the turkeys in his panners are quite starved," the phrase occurring in the fifth scene of the second act, whereas turkeys came from America, and the new world was not even discovered for a century later. Again, in the first scene of the fifth act of "Henry V.," wherein Gower is made to say to Fluellen, "Here comes Pistol, smiling like a turkeycock," all of which proves the appositeness of the remark that even Homer sometimes nods, as Shakespeare did in these and other instances. Many others could be deduced, but the above examples will suffice.

Going a step higher, we find the lord lieutenant of Ireland of a former day equally at fault in his language, for in a proclamation issued from the council chamber of Dublin we find it set forth that "whereas, the greatest economy is necessary in the consumption of all species of grain and especially in the consumption of potatoes," etc. Mr. Grey tells of a lawyer who in an action for assault and battery informed the judge that "the defendant beat his client with a certain wooden instrument called an iron pestle."—London Standard.

A Logical Retort.

One night Paganini was going to the Paris opera house, where he was to astonish every one by playing on one string. Being late, he took a cab, and when he arrived at his destination the cabby wanted 10 francs. "What," he exclaimed, "you are crazy. I have only had you five minutes." "I know it is much," said the other, "but for you who make a fortune by playing on one string it must be 10 francs." "Well," said Paganini, handing him the right fare, "when you can make your cab go on one wheel come to me, and I will give you 10 francs."—La Caricaturista.

Where Solomon's Wisdom Failed.
King Solomon was the wisest man that ever lived. People came from miles around just to look at the spectacle of so much wisdom. One day a young man came to him and knelt before his throne.

"Oh, king, live forever!" said the young man. "I am in love. I bought the object of my affection a diamond pin. She allowed me to kiss her and later accidentally called me 'dear' and blushed and apologized. Does she care anything for me?"

"I don't know," said King Solomon.—Chicago Tribune.
