ter and constantly growing in Albany, local merchants favoring prohibition say it is due to the lack of saloons; business men who desire to do away with local option, say that had Albany and other Linn county towns kept saloons, business would have increased even more.

That prohibition in this county does not prohibit absolutely is admitted by even the prohibitionists. Immense quantities of liquors are shipped in, and it is no uncommon sight to see youths of immature years intoxicated on the streets of Albany. All efforts to stop this illegal selling to minors in this county have as yet proved ineffective. An instance occurred a few days ago when a number of boys, members of a local club, procured liquor and, becoming intoxicated, created a disturbance in the clubhouse, with the result that the institution is now closed on Sundays by order of the Board of directors.—Salem Statesman, May 7, 1908.

LOCAL OPTION A FAILURE.

While the local option people are pushing to carry Salem dry, they have to fight to carry the counties they carried two years ago.

In counties like Linn and Lane there is a reaction slowly setting in against the conditions produced by prohibition. There is a great amount of liquor shipped into Linn and Lane counties, no one will deny, and that in itself would prove nothing to an advocate of local option. To an advocate of license, it means loss of revenues to city and county, and no marked decrease of crime. But there is another side, and that is positive testimony of the demoralization of the younger portions of the community by illicit sales of liquor, and with no restraint whatever of the vice and abuses connected with illegal traffic. It is well known that hundreds of boys get liquor at Eugene. The soft drink shops sell it, and the worst kind of stuff. Young people get liquor, and go off to the country together, and get gloriously drunk. That is the statement of a very prominent citizen of Eugene, and well-known at Salem. A person of the highest character, engaged in the rescue work, and juvenile court work of that city, in speaking of affairs in Lane county, said: "We have more cases of depravity due to drunkenness now in six months than we had formerly in a year. We have a case right now on a married man who took a lot of young people, and a lot of liquor that was shipped in, and went out to a house in the country, and kept them all night, including two young girls, and he is in jail for it. In the railroad and logging camps, the present conditions are far from satisfactory. With licensed saloons some of the men came in once a month, and got drunk for a day or two, and then returned. Now they ship the stuff out to the camp, by the barrel, and the whole camp gets drunk, and sometimes stays so for a week, and the whole camp suffers for it. The disorders flowing from such a system are infinitely greater than under the old way when there was not promiscuous distribution."—Capital Journal, Friday, May 8, 1908.

TRUNK FULL OF BEER.

The spectacle of twenty men journeying twenty-two miles in search of water is enough to make a "blind pig" squeal in dismay. Yet this actually took place yesterday when the city council and members of their party left Eugene bright and early to view Richey creek, upper Leaburg, and report upon its possibilities as a source of municipal water supply.

Only one unforeseen incident marred an otherwise placid trip. Councilman Williams and his cigar at the outset gave the vehicle such an alarming list to starboard that the combined weight of Chief Farrington and Councilman Gilbert, who hung over the harbor rail, was all that prevented a calamity. Williams' pecky weed must have fallen into his shoe and lain over night for all hands detected an unholy odor when he lighted it and somebody declared that a sewer had surely busted. Councilman Berger, who sat in the rear seat and who was receiving the full force of the pestilential smudge, suddenly let out a yell and fell into a swoon. All efforts to revive him proved futile until Councilman Moon unpeeled the trunk full of beer, then instantly his rigid features relaxed into a smile of sweet peace and he murmured blissfully, "Don't give me so much foam."

A THING NOT UNUSUAL.

The above is the introduction to the leading first page article of the Eugene Register of last Saturday, May 2, says the Salem Statesman of recent date. The article was evidently written by Otto Gilstrap, one of the owners of the Register, who is mentioned as being a member of the party looking for a water supply.

Is it not a peculiar spectacle, the members of the council of the largest city in a "dry" county going to look for water supply, accompanied by a trunkful of beer? Where did they get the beer? Did they get it at a "blind pig"?

What sort of respect do the members of the city council of Eugene expect other people to have for the law, when they themselves set such an open example of its violation? There are other signs of this disrespect of the prohibition law to Lane county. It is said, by one whose position is such as to make the testimony worth considering, that the drunkenness among the young people of Lane county is worse than ever before.

It is said, also, that there is more drunkenness than ever before in the logging camps, where the men carry whiskey around with them in bottles.

In Lane county, it would be much better if the "blind pigs" were saloons, licensed and properly regulated. This is the testimony of men who would like very much to see both the saloons and the "blind pigs" stamped out.

The World's Best Climate

Is not entirely free from diseases, on the high elevations fevers prevail, while on the lower levels malaria is encountered to a greater or less extent, according to the altitude. OPINIONS REGARDING APPROPRIATION

Following are opinions expressed by leading men of the state regarding the appropriation of $125,000 for University of Oregon, to be voted on at the June election.

A COLLOSAL BLUNDER.

Oregon has made one colossal blunder in her educational affairs—let us hope that she may not make another. The paucity of our public school fund is due to poor judgement in the disposal of our school lands; to defeat the University appropriation would be an equally grievous blunder, equally disastrous to the educational interests of our state. JAMES WITCOMBE, Director Oregon Experiment Station, Corvallis, Oregon.

DETRIMENTAL TO THE STATE.

It is sufficient to my own mind that the defeat of the University of Oregon appropriation bill would be detrimental, not only to many of the individuals who desire to avail themselves of the advantages of the University, but no state has any better indicator of the quality of its population than the degree of excellence shown in its educational institutions, and the most desirable class of immigration which efforts are being made to attract here, cannot be brought to Oregon without such institutions are liberally maintained. THEO. B. WILCOX, Portland, Oregon.

YEARS TO RECOVER.

I would regard an adverse vote upon the pending University appropriation bill as a disaster from which the state would require years to recover. The commonwealth of this time appears to be upon the eve of a development now too long delayed. It is seeking capital and population from those sections of the country where enterprise and education obtain, and once let the word go forth that the people of this state have deliberately refused to sustain her chief educational institution, and at once the tide of immigration now beginning to move toward us will surely be diverted elsewhere. STEPHEN A. LOWELL, Pendleton, Oregon.

It Reached the Spot.

Mr. E. Humphrey, who owns a large general store at Omega, and is president of the Adams County Telephone Co., as well as of the Home Telephone Co., of Pike county, O., says of Dr. King's New Discovery, "It saved my life once. At least I think it did. It seemed to reach the spot—the very seat of my cough—when everything else failed." Dr. King's New Discovery not only reaches the cough spot; it heals the sore spots and the weak spots in throat, lung and chest. Sold under guarantee at all druggists. 50c. and $1.00. The Most Common Cause of Suffering.

Rheumatism causes more pain and suffering than any other disease, for the reason that it is the most common of all ills and it is certainly gratifying to sufferers to know that Chamberlain's Pain Balm will afford relief, and make rest and sleep possible. In many cases the relief from pain, which is at first temporary, has become permanent, while in old people subject to chronic rheumatism, often brought on by dampness or change in the weather, a permanent cure cannot be expected; the relief from pain which this liniment affords is alone worth many times its cost. 25 and 50 cent size for sale by P. M. Kirkland.

S. E. Bush of this city, who was operated on several years ago for a tubercular joint and at which time the leg was amputated, is again at the Good Samaritan hospital suffering from the effects of the wound which never healed properly.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other countries put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatments pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucus surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

J. G. Barber returned yesterday from Willamina, Oregon, where he was called last week owing to the illness and death of his uncle, C. S. Barber. Mr. Barber died last Friday evening, the immediate cause being heart failure. He was a man of eighty-odd years of age and had resided at Willamina during the last fifteen years.

Chronic Constipation Cured.

One who suffers from chronic constipation is in danger of many serious ailments. Foley's Orino Laxative cures chronic constipation as it aids digestion and stimulates the liver and bowels, restoring the natural action of these organs. Commence taking it today and you will feel better at once. Foley's Orino Laxative does not nauseate or grip and is pleasant to take. Refuse substitutes. Doves & Williams.

Isaac Connett Was Pioneer.

Isaac Connett, who died April 29th at his home on a farm near Buena Vista, was an Oregon pioneer of 1852, having crossed the plains in that year from Indiana, his native state, where he was born in the year 1840. After wintering at Albany he removed to Buena Vista where he followed his trade of cabinet-making and carpentering until a few years ago when he went to the farm upon which he resided until his death. He was married to Mary Eliza Cook December 27,

The Original Package...

You can not help but like the idea of the Original package tea. It comes to you straight from the plantation. The package may be handled by scores of persons enroute from China, subject to all sorts of exposure, yet the content are fresh, clean and pure. This is one reason for the great popularity of Chase & Sanborn's Original Package Tea. The lead package, hermetically sealed, retains the full strength, flavor and aroma. It is the identical tea of China or India as they drink it here. Get a package of this high grade tea of F. S. Wilson and you will find it to be the best and the most economical tea you ever used.
