Will the legislators of the state of Oregon keep their faith with reference to Statement No. One when they come to vote on the United States senator at the next session, January 1903. There are so many arguments which will come up in opposition when the legislators come face to face with the nauseating inevitability of voting a republican legislature and a republican state into the ranks of the democrats—that we are inclined to believe the issue will be averted in some manner. It has already occurred to the people that they have been "out of order" in the manner in which Statement No. One has carried since its adoption. Statement No. One is nothing more than a popular nomination, and as such it has no right to a place on the regular effective ballot. This one violation should be enough to render its work inoperative at this time. It cannot be regarded as anything but unconstitutional for the Statement to have come into operation at the June election, the constitution of the United States providing that United States senators shall be elected by the legislatures of the several states. With this fact in view it is evident that Statement No. One could be voted only on the nominating ballot at the April primary election. If it is unconstitutional for Statement No. One to carry on the regular elective ballot then it is equally clear that a republican could not become pledged to a democratic candidate for

United States senator, for the further reason that the democratic candidate's name should not be entitled to a place on the republican ticket. It being apparent that Statement No. One is purely and simply a means of nominating a candidate for senator it is surprising that so grave an error in the law should have been made as to allow nominations to appear on the elective ticket.

The law is wrong in so many ways it is astonishing that it should have ever been taken seriously by the people. It's a good thing it is confined to its sphere—that of nominating on the primary ballot.

Last year Sonoma county, California raised 32,000 bales of hops. The dealers claim that the crop this season will not exceed 24,000 bales while the growers place the estimate at 20,000. More than eleven acres have been dug up and many other yards have not been worked as formerly and will, therefore, produce light crops. In that county there are about 2000 bales of last year's crop on hand.

Independence country offers the best opportunity for home builders of any place in the Willamette valley; because land values are more reasonable and because the soil is more productive than anywhere else. Buy small tracts here and you will have a better living with less labor and worry than anywhere in Oregon. Polk is the banner county of Oregon.

For the amount of attention and expense expended upon them, the streets of Independence are the best of any city in the country. More is due to the liberal oiling they received last year than anything else. Another good thing about our streets would be good dusting in two or three years.

The "Malheur Booster" is the latest boost for Malheur county, vol. 1, No. 1, having just reached our table. Printed on book paper and profusely illustrated with half tones, it is a creditable edition. Hurley & Hurley are the publishers and the paper is issued from Vale, Oregon.

A MEMORY.

The hour, the hour, we two together
The flock of little hills afloat
Like sheep in fold
By bars of gold—
We laughed in June's most magic weather,
We laughed, for fields were floods of clover,
No cloud but one small, hard night cover,
Yet June's first day
On foot a tear,
And sweetest hours are soonest over.
This wrinkled rose my hair adorning,
Its faint fair flush, decay ascorning—
I plared it there
Against my hair,
Just as you placed it that June morning,
—WUE JAMES BIRKEN in July Lippincott's

$100 Reward, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer $100,000 for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.
