

MONMOUTH. The Linn County Annual Meeting, at Harrisburg, was well attended on Sunday.

The haying season with our farmers has commenced and will soon be fully inaugurated.

The Polk County Annual Meeting, at Dallas, closed out on Sunday with four additions.

The crops in the Willamette valley, as well as those in the southern part of the State are greatly in need of rain.

Mr. J. M. Hoge wishes the public to remember that he is again at his old stand and prepared to do horse shoeing and all other kind of work upon short notice.

The new edition of the Christian Hymnal will be sent to any address, post paid, upon the receipt of sixty cents, by addressing J. M. Powell, Monmouth, Or.

Say Jo, where did you get that splendid suit of clothes? "At Murphy & Crossman's." "What did you pay?" "Twenty-five dollars." "Why that is better than my suit that I paid thirty dollars in Portland for."

J. P. Irvine & A. J. Reiss would inform the farmers of Polk county that they have leased Claggett & Butler warehouses in Independence, where they will store wheat, oats, or barley, and pay the highest market prices for the same.

The commencement exercises of the University at Eugene last week were attended by some of our young friends, who were well pleased with the manner and character in which the performances were conducted.

The Roseburg excursion of last Friday and Saturday offered a season of enjoyment that has but few equals, as a number of our citizens who improved the opportunity and made use of the advantages thereby offered can testify.

Misses Neally & Waller, after having successfully conducted the millinery business in this place during the season for the prosperity of such a pursuit, have closed up their shop for the present with the intention of opening up again in the fall.

The Maesnic picnic, at Dallas, on Monday, was largely attended. The M. S. C. Band and others who went from this place, state that exercises and performances of the day were good, among which was an excellent address delivered by Gov. Chadwick.

Prof. Campbell, accompanied by Mrs. Campbell and Mrs. Stump, started last Friday on a tour through the valley and the southern part of the State. The Prof. is laboring in behalf of the interests of the College, while the ladies are traveling for the benefit of their health. We wish them each a most pleasant and profitable journey.
