

Local News.

THE BROTHERS and friends in each particular locality, will please send us promptly any incident of note that may transpire in their several communities.

In this way we will be able to give the current history of the times, and keep our readers posted in all matters of general interest. I trust this request will not be unheeded, since the success of our paper, as now established, depends upon the prompt co-operation of the brotherhood.

Hence we expect every one to bear his part in whatever department he is competent to labor. Almost every one is able to peep down the casualties and incidents transpiring around him. If we were under a salary as editors, or if we were to take the profits as proprietor of the paper, it might seem out of place for me to insist upon this point.

But since we receive no remuneration for our services we can insist that every brother shall make himself as much interested in the success of the enterprise as we can be.

Look well, therefore, to everything that goes to make up the history of the times, and ask yourself 'would this item give interest, variety or importance to our paper; if so I will jot it down and send it in.' And do not be a week deciding whether you will send it.

Remember that news ceases to be news by being kept. It becomes old and therefore worthless. Be prompt, then, with your local items.

PERSONAL.—We met in Salem, on Wednesday last, at the residence of ex-Gov. Woods, brother Pettigrew of San Francisco, who is, we learned, canvassing Portland and Salem in the interest of a Life Insurance Company. The brethren hope to have brother Pettigrew preach in the Christian Church, on Sunday. Should he consent to do so, the good people of Salem will have an opportunity of hearing a man of fine mind, finished culture, elegant address, and thoroughly posted in the history and principles of the current reformation.

OUR LOST HEADING.—The Heading for our paper, made in San Francisco to order, has failed from some cause unknown to us, to arrive in time for our first issue. We have been under the necessity of extemporizing the present caption, which we were able to do in the office, and through the courtesy of Mr. E. M. Waite, of Salem, whose job office is an ornament and a great convenience to the city. See his card in another column.

J. W. WEATHERFORD, of the firm of Weatherford & Co. is manager of that branch of the business of the firm, located in Salem. The urbanity and affability, coupled with the prompt and accurate business habits of Mr. Weatherford, must command a liberal share of business in his line.

P. H. D. MURPHY, though he cannot hear you speak nor answer you with a voice, will readily let you know on his fingers or on the ever ready slate, that he can make you a first rate boot or a neatly fitting shoe. The winter is approaching, give him a call and get your boots for the rainy season.

J. C. BELL, than whom a more agreeable gentleman never appeared at the counter, will show you an assortment of goods from which you will hardly turn away, feeling that you can not find the style of article that suits you.

Cox & Earhart, Salem, merit, and must receive the custom of the city and country, because they are courteous and accommodating, and because they let the people know by extensive advertising, where they are, and what they have.

Dr. J. A. RICHARDSON, whose card appears on our first page, seems to have commanded an extensive practice in a short time, which speaks well alike of his energy, his professional skill, and his social qualities.

It speaks well for Oregon, that there is not in the Willamette valley, a printing press unemployed. We had to send to San Francisco for one, which delayed our paper for a month. We feared we should not find an unemployed printer, before we could engage one.

T. H. LUCAS, Dixie, prepares the sheer for cutting the glass and attaches it to the car so skillfully, that the farmer may take a pleasure ride while he seeds his soil.

Our Monmouth merchants, Lindsay & Hodgins, and L. Ground are too well known for fair dealing, business habits and politeness to need any "puff" from us. See their cards in another column.

This roar of the bellows, the thump of the hammer and the ring of the anvil, will not permit our Monmouth blacksmith to be forgotten.

This Book Store of J. K. Gill, is one of the best on the Coast. Mr. Gill and his polite clerk are ever ready to show all attentions to their customers.

In the babies cry inquire for the carminative cough-cure of Dr. W. Waterhouse. See his card for its virtues.

MONMOUTH ADVERTISEMENTS.

Christian College,

MONMOUTH,

Polk Co., Oregon.

THE LOCATION OF THE COLLEGE IS

Central, accessible, and beautiful.

The rolling prairie on which it is situated is bounded by timber, bordered with a scattered fringe of flowering firs, marking the course of the Luckiamute, four miles south; the Willamette, two miles east, and the Lacroe, six miles north; while the oak hills, with their dense foliage, rise, one above another, in solemn grandeur, to the main range, in full view, twenty miles distant. The Cascade range, too, rising from the valley to the east, stretches away for eighty or one hundred miles to the snow-capped summits of Mount Hood, Jefferson, and the "Three Sisters"—all in full view from the College premises.

The lofty range immediately west, breaks the sea-breeze, and gives, in this locality, only a gentle shade from the north or south. With a genial and beneficial climate, a fertile soil, a population distinguished for industry and moral worth—and removed from the diversions and temptations of a city—the surroundings are all

most favorable for health, virtue, and proficiency in every department of study.

The College is under the care of a Board of Trustees, who will spare no pains to make it

EQUAL TO THE DEMANDS OF THE AGE.

The Members of the Faculty are competent, energetic, and devoted to the Cause of Education.

and renewing of the classes at the end of the first term.

metics, Department—Algebra,

nomical English Composition, Latin

made at the commencement of each half term

to the close of the session.
