General Roberts' whole force is apparently moving on Winbery. It is believed that General Roberts is bound Bethlehem with the purpose of driving the Boers from the Drakenburg mountain range, so that advanced by General Buller may be possible.

An Unfortunate Accident.

Daily Guard, May 4.

Yesterday Harry Gossler, who resides on the McKenzie road, about four miles north of this city, met with an accident which may prove fatal. Gossler had recently purchased a colt which he was breaking to work. He hitched the colt up yesterday and drove around the "block" going down the road toward the Willamette river and back home. Just as he reached home the horse became frightened, and unmanageable, running away, going full tilt into a large pine tree, throwing Mr Gossler against the trunk of it. Mr Gossler sustained several lacerations on the head and face, and the skull was fractured near the right temple and at the base. Drs D A Payne and W L Cheshire were at once summoned and did what they could to relieve the suffering of the injured man. Last night they elevated the skull near the temple to relieve the pressure on the brain, and while the patient has not yet regained consciousness the physicians report that he is resting easily, the respiration being regular and heart strong. Bleeding from the nose, mouth and ears, however, indicate that there is an injury at the base of the skull, with probably blood clots, the effect of which cannot be determined at this time. Mr Gossler is a brother of Mrs F B Hawk of this city.

MONEY FOUND.—The first piece received in business in Eugene by A V Peters in the early '60's, and which had been placed in a bottle in the corner-stone in the old building just torn down, and which was erected in 1868, was found today by L N Roney and given to Mr Peter, who prizes it highly as a memento. The money was of foreign coinage, and was bent so it could go into the neck of the bottle in which the papers were deposited.

Daily Guard, May 5.

THE RIGHT MAN.—Cottage Grove Leader: "Harry Millern, the Citizens' candidate for county clerk, was up from Junction the first of the week. Harry is a genial gentleman and comes from one of the best known and respected families in the Willamette valley, and the people will make no mistake in electing Harry to that important office next June."

Daily Guard, May 5.

DOG FOUND.—Al Auten's dog which which was lost some time ago was returned today. Parties living in the vicinity of Isabel saw a description of dog in the Guard and recognizing it returned him to his owner. Mr Auten says he was well plastered with mud and shows poor keeping by his bony appearance.

FOOT INJURED.—M R Potts, the timber land man, let a hatchet fall on one of his feet, and in consequence is compelled to use a heavy cane today, while he limps around.

SAGINAW EXPLOSION.

Some More Particulars Concerning It.

Cottage Grove Leader, May 4.
The boiler that blew up was an old boiler, but was considered safe and had been fired up for putting another one out of the way, which had been condemned. It was stationed at the opposite end of the mill pond from the mill, about 450 feet distant and when the explosion occurred the boiler, which weighed about 5,000 pounds, was blown across the mill pond in the direction of the mill, a distance of 330 feet before it struck, then bounded 100 feet further up the hill, and now lays in the mill.

The cause of the explosion is practically unknown. There were four men working around the boilers, all engineers, and the only one who escaped uninjured was Mr Harry Wynne, of this city, who says the last time he noticed the gauge registered 60 pounds of steam. The machinery in the engine room is a complete wreck and was valued at about $3,000. However, the Booth-Kelly Co, we understand, had expended about $10,000 experimenting on this logging station, before they got it so that it could be successfully operated.

At last reports the unfortunate Mr Rudolph was resting as well as could be expected and there is some hopes of his recovery.

A HANDSOME NOTICE.—Portland Weekly Dispatch: "Eugene is making a strong bid for the Odd Fellows' Home. The place offered near the town is a slightly and handsome spot, and none better could be selected. Eugene people have long been known for their devotion to the order, and Spencer Butte has always stood in the lead as one of the best lodges in the state. If located at that place, the true fraternal spirit of the order will be thrown around its every management and the institution will reflect credit upon Odd Fellowship and its benevolent teachings throughout the entire jurisdiction. True Odd Fellowship was planted in Eugene many years ago, and it has never ceased to do its work and carry out the teachings of the grand institution."

EUGENE LODGE WORKMEN.—Salem A O U W Reporter: "The editor of this paper had hoped to spend April 29th with Eugene lodge No 15, the occasion being the initiation of a large class of new members and a real good time incident thereto. The grand master, grand recorder, and other dignitaries were there, and we had promised ourselves the pleasure of participating in the festivities, but circumstances intervened which made it impossible, for which we are very sorry. As a result we are going to watch for such an increase in the membership of No 15 as has not occurred in several years."

HON H B MILLER.—Consul H B Miller is expected home from Washington, D C, daily. He must leave Eugene by the last of next week to comply with his orders from the state department.

ANOTHER M'KENZIE BRIDGE.

Lane County Court May Build a Bridge at Hendricks' Ferry.

Eugene dispatch in Oregonian of May 4.
"The County Court has now under consideration the matter of building a substantial bridge across the McKenzie river near what is known as Hendricks' ferry. There has been considerable discussion regarding the feasibility of building a bridge at this point, and the court has had the site examined by two engineers, and both have made reports to the effect that a bridge at that point can be built at a reasonable cost and that it will not be in danger of damage by floods."

"The immense amount of travel on the McKenzie road now makes this bridge very desirable, and the probabilities are that the travel will increase rather than diminish. All the traffic of the Blue River mining district, several logging camps and all the settlers on the river have to go over the road."

Harry W. Gossler.

Died at his home northeast of Eugene at 3 a m, Saturday, May 5, 1900, of concussion of the brain, Harry W. Gossler, son of W H Gossler, aged 22 years, 11 months and 13 days.

The funeral services will occur at the family home at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, Rev. Dickson officiating, after which the earthly remains will be laid to rest in the I O O F cemetery.

This death has robbed another home. A loved son and brother is laid away in the tomb, and the other shore is only made more pleasant and less forbidding to the friends that are left here. Deceased was loved and respected by a large circle of acquaintances. Was born in Jefferson county, Iowa, May 22, 1877, lived there until 15 years of age, then came to Oregon with his father. He was the youngest of eight children, four sisters and three brothers, which survive him. He received most of his education in the schools of Eugene, after which he was engaged in teaching. The sympathy of all is extended to the sorrowing family in their hour of sadness.

Another home is darkened,
Another spirit fled;
And many friends are weeping,
O'er the loved and honored dead,
When loved ones were lamenting,
And the death-sweat on his brow,
The angels seemed to whisper,
"We'll care for Harry now."

A smile of peace was lingering
Upon that face so fair,
Which looked as if our Harry
Was only sleeping there.
No more that brother's gentle voice
Will greet us in his ear;
No more those loving footsteps
With familiar tread they'll hear.

Thou others and sisters,
Let for a time alone,
Will not forget his teachings,
That "Beyond is better home."
Our memory holds his picture,
With his kind deeds nobly done,
And by his Christian faith we feel
An immortal crown he's won.

Around his grave they linger
And cannot think to go
And leave behind their youngest flower
That they have cherished so.
Oh, angels, guard that sacred trust,
Which to thy care is given;
So may we live that we may meet
Dear Harry—in Heaven.

WE SAY AMEN.—Portland Weekly Dispatch, May 5: "Ex Gov. John Whitaker, the first governor of Oregon, will celebrate his 80th birthday tomorrow at his home in Eugene City. About three years ago he had a stroke of paralysis from which he has suffered ever since, but his general health is now fairly good and apparently improving. The old governor likes to see his friends and has a kindly feeling for them all. May he finally recover and live many more years to enjoy the fruits and blessings of the state which he inaugurated and which has become one of the greatest in the Union. His administration has ever stood as an honor to him and the state, for which he deserves the good wishes of all her citizens."

SOCIAL.

JUNIOR EXHIBITION.

Daily Guard, May 5.
At Villard Hall last night was held the eleventh annual junior exhibition of the University of Oregon. To the student body especially the exercises were of more than usual interest, and was well attended. Dr. Strong in opening the exercises made some droll references to events of the 24 hours preceding, starting the program out in a happy strain. The present junior class contains some of the most prominent students in the school, and their work is evident in every student organization. The orations were selected with care, the composition was of high merit and the delivery showed a training along modern and approved lines.

The Sunday School convention of the Junction City district will be held at Lancaster May 25 and 26.
G F Skipworth is improving and able to be up town. He is still somewhat weak but will soon be himself again.

Ten sacks of oats were stolen from Mrs Clow's barn Tuesday night. This grain belonged to Mrs Clow, but it seems the thief is no respecter of persons.

WRONG.—Traveling shows, that pay no license, should certainly be prohibited from using the streets made at the expense of taxpayers, for their performances. Let them hire a lot. Legitimate shows must hire grounds and pay the city license. Why should itinerants be favored?

A FESTIVE DAMSEL.

A Woman Who has a Checkered Career in the City in the Guise of a School Girl.

Today's Albany Herald.
"A woman in the habit of a school girl in short dresses was in the city yesterday and last night begging for funds to assist her in completing a course in a business college. As she is a cripple and has to walk with the aid of a crutch she succeeded in getting together the small sum of about $25 for her day's labor. She gave her name as Lottie Smith, but where she came from no one seems to be able to tell."

"This is the same person, so the officers say, who was arrested and tried at Coburg a short time ago for hiring a livery rig in that city and going to Junction City and leaving the rig. At Corvallis she was known as Tillie Holson, and claimed to be a close relative to the hero Hobson, of Santiago fame."
Undoubtedly the same girl that "worked" Eugene the day before for about $25.

CARL TRAVIS.

Undefined Rumor Abroad That He Is Dead.

Is Carl Travis, son of Mrs G J Travis, of this city, dead or alive?
This question is causing considerable anxiety to the mother. The reason for it is the fact that some letters have been returned to her from Hoquiam, Washington, near which place the boy had been working, with a memorandum written on the envelope by the postmaster stating that Travis was dead and had been buried in a certain cemetery. Mrs Travis then wrote to London, a little town near by, asking the postmaster there for information, and he has written that no such cemetery as named by the Hoquiam postmaster is in existence near there. This is all Mrs Travis has been able to learn, and she is very anxious to find out something definite.

Carl Travis, who is well known here, attended the U O, is about 21 years of age, and has been employed in a logging camp near Hoquiam for some time. Any information Mrs Travis can receive further will be anxiously awaited.
