

SUBJECTS WHO MAY NOT BECOME CITIZENS.

In discussing the problems involved in permanently holding the Philippine Islands those Republicans who have the courage of their convictions acknowledge that the Filipinos never will be qualified to act as citizens of the United States, and that, even should they become so, we could not admit them to citizenship without deranging labor conditions. Here, then, is a proposal to give the republic from eight to ten million subjects, who are to remain subjects forever, with no hope of improving their political condition, and who, owing to their large and increasing numbers, cannot be kept under control without the employment of a great standing army.

It is this aspect of the problem upon which the Anti-imperialists lay most stress, and which must seem serious to all who recall the causes of the downfall of the Roman republic. To maintain in subjection a few scores of thousands of Indians and half-breeds west of the Mississippi required no material increase of our regular army, and, therefore, imposed no strain upon our political institutions. There is a portentous practical difference between the microscopic form of imperialism exemplified in our treatment of the Indians generally and of the half-breeds in New Mexico and Arizona on the one hand, and the imperialism carried out on the great scale which, it is acknowledged, will be requisite in the Philippines. It is, in truth, absurd to suppose that the objection to imperialism has been answered when you have proved that the existence of subjects, distinguished from citizens, has always been recognized as a matter of principle in this country. So far as the safety of our national institutions is concerned, it is not a question of principle, but a question of scale.

Rome's liberties were in no danger so long as she held in subjection only a few thinly peopled Italian communities to which she had conceded neither full civil privileges, nor the qualified form of citizenship known as the Latin right. To keep them orderly and tranquil required no large permanent military force. When, however, the category of subject populations came to include millions upon millions, and, ultimately, the whole of the Mediterranean world, a huge standing army became indispensable. That is to say, imperialism, when taken in homeopathic doses, is comparatively harmless to the body politic. It is only when applied on a large scale that it entails, inevitably, militarism with all the mischiefs and risks incident thereto.

SHAM AND REAL ISSUES.

There is genuine sorrow in the McKinley camp in that there is no chance this presidential election to alarm capital with the silver bugaboo. Nevertheless some of the press of that political faith, the Oregonian among the number, continues the attempt to scare the voter by asserting that the election of Bryan will put the country on a silver basis. The Oregonian, though, discreetly fails to inform its gold standard readers that this McKinley administration has coined many millions of silver during its term.

The issue of imperialism, the holding of ten millions of Asiatics on territory that lies almost against continental Asia eight thousand miles from Pacific shores, is sought to be avoided. We exclude the Chinaman. President McKinley has 65,000 soldiers in the Philippines trying to make subjects or citizens of the ten million Filipinos and mixed bloods that inhabit the archipelago. The people of the Pacific coast know the Chinaman. They know that the law excluding him from our country is for our best interests, for the interest of every laborer. Will the genius of our free institutions allow us to hold the Filipino as a subject, yet exclude him from our shores and a part in our political institutions? There is danger for our people in the answer to this question, should McKinley be elected. We believe the election of Bryan would solve

His Terrible Cough.

Few things are so depressing and weakening as a constant cough. Few things are as discouraging as a cough that will not yield to treatment. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures coughs when all other medicines fail, because it is more than a cough medicine. The cough is not a symptom. "Discovery" makes new and pure blood, heals the lacerated tissues, and gives the body the needed strength to throw off disease. It cures the cough by curing the cause of the cough. There is no alcohol, neither opium, cocaine, nor other narcotic in the "Discovery."

the question to the best interests of our people. He is opposed to holding Asiatic territory by force of arms, or otherwise.

CHANGES OF FOUR YEARS.

The editor of the Roseburg Review keeps a file of the Oregonian. He says he has gleaned the following information from its columns: "Four years ago, men like Senator Stewart, of Nevada, and ex-Senator Pfeiffer, of Kansas, a Mr. Stevenson, of Colorado, and Senator Mantle, of Montana, were long-haired, wild-eyed cranks of the most dangerous type—because they were supporters of Bryan. Now they are gentlemen, scholars, and patriots of the most approved pattern—because they are supporting McKinley and imperialism."

"Four years ago Bourke Cochran, O H P Belmont, and Carl Schurz belonged to the highest type of American citizens—because they placed country above party and supported McKinley. Now they are a set of weak, shifting, shallow politicians—because they have declared for Bryan and the republic. Four years ago, ex-Governor Boutwell, ex-Governor Bradford, Webster Davis, Gen Atkinson, were representatives of all that was pure and good in politics—because they were advocating the election of McKinley. Now the same gentlemen are light-weight blatherskites and old has-beens not worthy of consideration at the hands of good, sensible, thinking American citizens—because they are for Bryan and popular government."

FUSION AT SEATTLE

John R. Rogers Was Renominated for Governor.

CONTEST WON ON EIGHTH BALLOT.

SEATTLE, Aug. 30.—John R. Rogers was renominated for governor by the union democratic convention of the eighth ballot, at 1 o'clock this morning. He received 7087 votes, or 67 more than the necessary number. The contest throughout was most exciting and great disorder many times marked the course of proceedings in the convention. Rogers on the first ballot received 633 votes, and gained on every ballot until his final victory. He was actually nominated on the seventh ballot, but in the confusion and through a misunderstanding as to the vote of the Walla Walla populists he lost four votes intended to be cast for him. He then wanted only 14 votes. The chairman ordered another vote, which was decisive.

OTHER NOMINEES. J T Ronald and F O Robertson were nominated for Congress.

BRUIN CAUGHT.

He Is Trapped and Finally Killed By the Exultant Crowd.

A bear has been playing havoc with the sheep of the Mohawk farmers. After several unsuccessful attempts the bear was at last captured.

Early Thursday, George Yarnell discovered Mr. Bruin in a trap that had been set expressly for him, and immediately he aroused the neighbors and soon forty persons had assembled to witness the tragedy that was soon to take place. The bear was lassoed and led about 100 yards from out of the swamp and thick brush to Frank Stafford's plum orchard. It was great sport for the boys as the bear was on the fight and several times turned upon them. As Mr. Bruin did not like to lead and found out what was up, decided they need not pull so hard but ran briskly after them, which caused a stampede of men, girls, boys and dogs. One by one fell and the bear was very near his heels when luckily the shackles caught in some brush just in time to save the boy from a good hugging.

After the bear was securely tied the crowd gathered around him and four shots were fired—three snap shots and one rifle shot—and Mr Bruin was no more.

CORRESPONDENT.

Drowned at Wendling.

The 4 year old son of Mr and Mrs E E Kester at Wendling was drowned in a little creek while playing. The child had been fishing along the shallow stream with some other children for craw fish and it is supposed left them and went to a foot bridge where the water was perhaps 3 feet deep and there from all appearances had lost his balance and fell face foremost into the water still grasping his fish pole in his little hand, and in that position seemed to have lain until its life had gone to its maker. The body was discovered by Mrs Geo Kelly, who instantly rescued it and did all in human power to restore it to life. But alas! it was too late.

The parents were entirely among strangers, save three, two brothers and one brother-in-law. They were recently from Petrolis, Canada. August 29, 1900. W. L. MILLER.

Indications of a Land Slide.

The following from the Examiner is a very live pointer:

One of the most striking signs of the coming democratic landslide in this country is the number of influential newspapers which formerly supported McKinley and which this year, are giving their hearty support to Bryan.

In New York, the "World," which supported Palmer and Buckner four years ago, now espouses the cause of Bryan with telling force, while the Herald and Evening Post, though favorable to McKinley on minor issues, are giving the democratic ticket strong support on the paramount issue of imperialism. And the Journal, which was a journalistic infant in 1896, is now grown to be one of the greatest newspapers in the world and has never wavered in its staunch support of Bryan.

In Chicago, where the democratic ticket had no newspaper support in 1896, there are now three great dailies, the Chronicle, the American and the Record, with a large circulation, are warmly endorsing the democratic platform and taking up the fight against imperialism.

In Baltimore, the Sun, which lays down the law and the gospel for Maryland, was opposed to Bryan in 1896, but this year the Sun is giving the democratic ticket and platform a loyal support, which insures Maryland's electoral vote for Bryan and Stevenson.

In Cleveland the old democratic organ, the Plain Dealer, which left the party in 1896, is back in the ranks again supporting Bryan with all its old time vigor.

The Indianapolis Sentinel wandered off after strange gods in 1896, but this year it has returned to its old faith and is out with the democratic ticket and platform.

The Louisville Courier Journal, whose defection to Palmer and Buckner in 1896 gave such a set-back to the party in Kentucky, is also back in line and giving Bryan its vigorous support.

In addition to these notable examples of the trend of popular opinion, there are many other influential papers, such as the Springfield (Mass) "Republican," the New Haven "Register" and others which, while not directly supporting Mr Bryan, are vigorously espousing the cause of anti-imperialism.

In addition to this great accession to the Bryan movement there is the German press of the country, in which there is practically a revolution of opinion. Quotations from a few of the more prominent and influential of these papers will show the general attitude of the German press this year.

New York "Staats Zeitung" (Independent, circulation 56,000)—"The so-called German is at present awaiting developments, but it can be positively assured that the republican candidates will not receive as many German votes as four years ago."

"Freie Press," Chicago (Independent circulation 40,000)—Mr Bryan received in 1896 about thirty per cent of the German vote. This year he will get from sixty to eighty per cent of that vote. Imperialism is the paramount issue with the Germans this year."

"Michigan Volksblatt," Detroit, Mich Independent, "Over sixty per cent of the Germans will vote for Bryan this year because of their hatred of imperialism and trusts."

"Kansas Telegraph," Topeka, Kansas, "The majority of the German voters who voted for McKinley four years ago will vote for Bryan this time: Anti-imperialism is the issue."

"Missouri State Zeitung," Kansas City, Mo. "Bryan will get nine out of every ten German votes this year."

"Iowa Staats Anzeiger," Des Moines Iowa, "Bryan will get two-thirds of the German votes of Iowa."

"The Journal," Terre Haute, Ind, "One-third the population of Indiana consists of Germans. It is our opinion that the democratic candidate will receive the large majority of the German votes this fall. This will be a gain of about sixty per cent over the last election."

"O Nome! Thou wretched blot upon the face Of all the Arctic's boundless waste, Thou hast promised much to all the race, Then fleeced them to the Queen's own taste, And I am one Who'll always shun Thy muddy streets till time is done."

"Why should we leave a land of fruit and flowers, To seek for gold in thy dark soil? Why seek a home amidst thy chilly showers, And spend our days in useless toil? While we can run Beneath the sun, And shout, 'Where rolls the Oregon!'"
