Counterfeiting

Was once punishable by death in England, a fact which led a judge in passing sentence upon a man convicted of that crime to say: "I can hold out to you no mercy here and I urge you to make preparation for another world, where I hope you may obtain that mercy which a due regard for the credit of our paper currency forbids you to hope for now." This was certainly severe, yet counterfeiting of any nature deserves rigorous punishment. One which has occasioned much misery is the imitation of the well-known dyspepsia cure, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Don't be deceived. The genuine has our private revenue stamp over the neck of the bottle. Try it for indigestion, constipation and biliousness.

PORTLAND HOSPITAL FIRE.

Patients Removed to Adjoining Residences—A Man on Operating Table When Fire Broke Out.

The Good Samaritan hospital at Portland, which was partially destroyed by fire yesterday, had 100 patients, all of whom were safely removed, though one man is very low from the shock caused by the hurried removal. We take a partial account from the Telegram:

Most of the residences in the vicinity were turned into temporary hospitals, everyone willingly throwing open their doors to receive the victims. Sisters from St. Vincent's hospital in the neighborhood seized clothing, furniture and sick folk with courage and carried them to places of safety. All entered in the work of rescue with a determination, and even street cars stopped and the passenger ran to the scene to offer their services.

In the operating room a man was on the table at the time of the conflagration. He was quickly carried out. Along the sidewalk opposite the burning hospital and under the large trees adjoining the institution were patients, bedding, tables, furniture and willing hands.

Sold All the Prunes.

Salem Statesman.
The Willamette Valley Prune Growers' Association, through its directors, has negotiated and closed up deals with Eastern firms which practically dispose of all the fruit grown by the members of the association and will amount to about twenty car loads. The association has accomplished a great deal in securing such prices as it has been able to command this year. The price paid for the fruit sold makes this year's output the most remunerative fruit crop that has been raised by the members of this organization, and they are loud in praise of the work the association has accomplished in so successfully disposing of their fruit. The fruit sold will bring the growers a little over 45 cents per pound.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address, F. J. Daily Guard, September 6.
COLEMAN-COLEMAN.

At high noon yesterday the wedding of Mr. John Russell Coleman, of Salem, and Miss Clara Coleman, daughter of Hon. and Mrs. E. P. Coleman, of West Point, occurred at the home of the bride's parents. The ceremony was performed by Dr. D. E. Lovelidge, rector of St. Mary's Episcopal church of this city, in the presence of relatives of the young couple and a few intimate friends. The young couple are among the most popular native sons and daughters of Oregon, and have friends by legions. They will take up their residence on the Coleman farm near Coburg. The presents received were handsome and numerous, attesting to the thought given them by loving friends.

The bride was handsomely gowned in a dress of white organdie trimmed with white ribbon, and was escorted by her little niece, Miss Katherine Stuart, as maid of honor.

Decorations of the parlors and dining room were of autumn leaves, sweet peas, china asters, ferns, mountain ash and ivy, forming a radiant bower, fitting for the scene of happiness and tender love of a union such as this. The inspiration of the hour permeated the hearts and minds of all, and it is just recognition of the love and admiration of the fair bride and groom held by their friends.

BOOTH-TEMPLE.

On Wednesday, Sept. 6, 1900, at the home of the bride's parents near Plainview, Dr. Joel C. Booth, of Lebanon, and Miss Alice Temple were married, Rev. Sperry officiating, says the Albany Herald.

Dr. Booth is well known in Albany having attended Albany College. He has also attended the University of Oregon at Eugene, and last June graduated from the San Francisco school of medicine and surgery. He was a member of the 2nd Oregon Volunteers and rendered active service during the Philippine campaign. Dr. Booth is now located at Lebanon, and is one of Linn county's substantial young men. Miss Temple was a teacher in the Albany public schools, where she did efficient service, and was very popular. Later she taught in the Salem schools.

Story of a Slave.

To be bound hand and foot for years by the chains of disease is the worst form of slavery. George D. Williams, of Manchester, Mich., tells how such a slave was made free. He says: "My wife has been so helpless for five years that she could not turn over in bed alone. After using two bottles of Electric Bitters she was wonderfully improved and able to do her own work." This supreme remedy for female diseases quickly cures nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, headache, backache, fainting and dizzy spells. The miracle working medicine is a godsend to weak, sickly, run down people. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50 cents. Sold by W. L. DeLano, druggist.

August Herman, of Walla Walla, has recovered his savings which he deposited in an old shoe which were stolen on Monday. The amount was $250. It transpires that his two daughters were the purloiners of the cash. The girls say they were instigated to take the money by one May Miller, who was sadly in need of coin. The girls took the money from the old shoe and gave part of the same to the Miller girl and reserved the rest for themselves. The Miller girl was found and the entire amount was restored to the owner. The girls were then removed from custody on promise of better behavior in the future.

A WONDERFUL CURE OF DIARRHOEA.

A Prominent Virginia Editor Had Almost Given Up, But Was Brought Back to Perfect Health by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

READ HIS EDITORIAL.

From the Times, Hillsdale, Va.
I suffered with diarrhoea for a long time and thought I was past being cured. I spent much time and money and suffered so much misery that I had almost decided to give up all hopes of recovery and await the result, but noticing the advertisement of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and also some testimonials stating how some wonderful cures had been wrought by this remedy, I decided to try it. After taking a few doses I was entirely well of that trouble, and I wish to say further to my readers, as fellow sufferers that I am a hale and hearty man today and feel as well as I ever did in my life—O. R. MOORE. Sold by W. L. DeLano.

Dallas Woolen Mills May Move.

SANTA CRUZ, Cal., Sept. 5.—The owners of the Pioneer Woolen Mills at Dallas, Or., have agreed to move their plant, which employs 200 hands, to Santa Cruz, provided a bonus of $30,000 be given. An effort will be made to raise the amount by selling lots at $200 each. For that purpose a tract of 40 acres has been secured. Part of it will be donated for a mill site, leaving 200 lots to be disposed of. There is much enthusiasm over the matter. The mill owners estimate that their plant is worth $150,000. They have a market in the East for all the cloth they manufacture.

They raise turkeys out among the oak hills of the Umpqua valley. The Oakland Owl says: Sam Crouch purchased enough red paint of Page & Dimmick yesterday morning to brand 400 turkeys. Eastern friends may think this paragraph is intended for a joke, but it is not. In the Umpqua valley turkeys are marketed and branded in various ways. Sometimes a mark is painted and a tree is often partially removed, then the birds are driven to the railroad for shipment in crates numbering 2500 or more.
