

TOO TRUE.

Roseburg Review: "The Oregonian is now devoted almost entirely to politics, having from four to six pages daily of vituperative and abusive campaign matter. After abusing McKinley and his policy for four years it flops over and becomes his most radical supporter. If he should be re-elected, the day following election the Oregonian will renew its criticism and abuse. It has two objects undoubtedly in pursuing such a course. One is that it secures a larger independent following by being a mugwump character between campaigns, and the other that it can in this way compel the Republican management to buy its support when it is needed. There is method in the Oregonian's madness."

GRAVEL STREET "IMPROVEMENTS."

The business men of Eugene to a man oppose the "improvement" of Willamette street with gravel. A beautiful specimen of such "improvement" may be seen at the Beckwith and Rankin corners. A wide strip of gravel has been placed on each side of the crosswalk to be rolled about on the street and walk. It will not settle to the hard ground and become a part of the street.

As to the matter of cost one-fourth the amount of crushed rock would have sufficed. And it would have staid where placed. The city authorities should make use of the rock crusher.

AN OLD STORY PUT TO USE.

This is the time, just previous to a presidential election, that you see items floating through the press that some man has money to loan, but will await the result of the presidential election. Of course no one believes such stuff, and it is hard to realize how sensible editors, like the many who conduct Republican newspapers, will allow such matter to appear in their columns.

Mr Bryan's election would not put a stop to the production and use of wheat, hops, wool, eggs, potatoes, etc, on which the value of lands depend. And the man with money would loan on ample security as cheerfully were Mr Bryan president, as he does under the presidency of Mr McKinley, or in the event of his election.

In a political speech the other day Governor Goer made much of the fact that the number of convicts in the Oregon penitentiary has decreased about one-half in the past four years, all of which he attributed to McKinley's benevolent administration. Now comes A N Gilbert, ex-superintendent of the Oregon penitentiary, who, according to the Lawton Standard, expresses the opinion that the decrease in the number of prisoners in the penitentiary is due to the abolishment of the fee system for compensation of county officials and district attorneys. The law placing county officials on salaries was passed in 1893 and affected officers whose terms began subsequent to that time. It therefore took effect in 1894, about the time when the enrollment at the penitentiary was at the highest. Mr Gilbert thinks this change removed a great incentive to the detection and prosecution of criminals, and that many offenders now escape who would be caught if the old system was resumed.

One great corporation in Oregon seems to be paying no attention to politics. The Southern Pacific is reported to have recently placed orders for 3,800 freight cars. What does this mean? That it has confidence that there will be business next year, no matter who is president. It is a denial of the newspaper campaign rot that the business of the country is going to be paralyzed if Bryan is elected. The S P Co is not directing its employees how they shall vote.

A physician has advised vice-presidential candidate Roosevelt not to talk too much, as he is injuring his throat by long speeches. Can it be that President McKinley is furnishing "Teddy" a physician?

Mother's Love

Is boundless. Yet it is utterly helpless to give strength to the child born with a low vitality. The time to give strength to the child is before birth and to impart this gift the mother herself must be strong. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription gives strength to mothers. It preserves them in robust health in the months before baby comes. It practically does away with the pains of motherhood, and enables the mother to endow her child with a healthy body and a happy disposition. "Favorite Prescription" contains no alcohol and is absolutely free from opium and cocaine. "I consider Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription the best medicine made," writes Mrs. Mary Murdoch, of 220 Taylor St., Topeka, Kansas. "I know it has no equal. I am the mother of ten children and only one living—the tenth one. She is one year old and is as well and hearty as can be. She is a beauty. Of my other babies some were born at right time, but dead, others were premature babies, one lived to be one year old but she was always feeble. I tried different doctors but none of them could tell what my trouble was. I was examined by surgeons but they found nothing wrong. I did not know what to do, so I thought this last time I would try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I took it the entire nine months and now have a fine baby girl, and I can not praise your medicine enough for the good it did me."

Dr. Pierce's Pellets cure heart-burn.

MAPLE LEAVES NUISANCE.

Is there a city law against the burning of leaves on streets? If not there should be one. No man has a right to smoke his neighbors, and scare passing teams while attempting to burn a lot of damp leaves. And far less work would convey them to some spot on his premises where they would rot and make splendid mulch for trees and plants. Then, too, the ashes from the burnt piles get scattered by the four winds of heaven to the discomfort of passers-by.

The season of the maple leaves nuisance is at hand. Property owners with little work can rake them up and put them away out of sight. They should not wait for the leaves to cover their walks an inch or less before they consider it the proper time to remove them. Rake up the leaves occasionally as they fall, and pedestrians will, with one accord, acclaim you blessed. If not they will mercilessly consign you to the hot place.

Editorial from Portland Oregonian, May 4, 1898: "Already we are in one of the gravest perils of war—the clamor for territorial aggrandizement. The fever of conquest once in the blood is hard to allay. We have no further rightful use for the Philippines than as a base of present operations and a hostage pending final settlement. A coaling station let us retain there, but our professions in this war debar us from retention of even Cuba, which is more naturally within our scope than the Philippines. If the war is prolonged we shall certainly see rapid growth for vehement demand for acquisition of territory we should not take. It may be strong enough to turn the scale of a presidential election."

Portland Telegram, Rep: It won't hurt Bryan any for Hanna to go about the country abusing him. Even if all that Hanna says about Bryan be true, it would sound better if it came from some man who did not originally buy a seat in the senate.

of cod-liver oil is the means of life and enjoyment of life to thousands: men women and children.

When appetite fails, it restores it. When food is a burden, it lifts the burden. When you lose flesh, it brings the plumpness of health.

When work is hard and duty is heavy, it makes life bright.

It is the thin edge of the wedge; the thick end is food. But what is the use of food, when you hate it, and can't digest it?

Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil is the food that makes you forget your stomach.

We'll send you a little to try, if you like. SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Park street, New York.

FOOTBALL.

A Fine Game Will Be Played on October 27.

One week from Saturday the first football game of the season will be played on the U O gridiron, between the U O team and that from the Salem Athletic Club. The Salem team is composed of old experienced men, and gives promise of becoming one of the best teams of the northwest. Eugene people will, in all likelihood, have the opportunity of witnessing as fine an exhibition of football, as will be seen on the Portland gridiron during the year.

The Salem Statesman gives the following candidates for various positions: Center, Loomis, Jarvis; guards, Judd, Williams, Reed; tackles, Young, Graham; ends, Olinger, Bonham, Sanders; half-backs, Clarence Bishop, Chauncey Bishop, Lucas, Miller, Jessup; full-back, Ganit, Sanders, Wm Evans, quarter-back, Bruce, Regan, Shipp.

Coach Kaarsterg is working the U O team steadily and at the end of another week should have it condition to play good ball. It is not possible to tell until after a critical game has been played how the team of this season compares with that of last year, but under ordinary conditions it will prove as good, so competent men assert. The fact that Edwards is not yet able to take up his duties at quarter back, on account of his injured knee and that one or two other men are temporarily disabled has had a dampening influence on some, but youthful enthusiasm is hard to down, and the boys will go into every game determined to play ball.

COMMENDABLE.—Daily Astorian (Rep) editorial: There is a tendency towards rowdianism in nearly all the great colleges of the Eastern states which is comparatively unknown in the Oregon institutions of higher learning. Whether our young people are of a higher order or there is something superior in our educational methods is a debatable question. Such disgraceful scenes as the jeering and hooting at Bryan by the students of the university of Michigan, the second largest university in the country, are not only common in the large institutions but are considered "smart" and proof of manliness rather than boorishness. The universities of Oregon and the state itself are to be congratulated upon the absence of this type of the modern scholastic hobo.

Extraordinary Men...

Sometimes Nature is unkind. She allows a man to grow all one way or too little in any way—makes him taller or shorter or stouter or thinner than specifications call for.

Such men imagine they are hard to fit—they are in some lines of clothing, but not in C. & B. garments.

We make such men think they are not so hard to fit, after all. They change their minds as they change from the old suit to the new.
