Poison Oak Poison Ivy

Among the best known of the many dangerous plants and shrubs, which produce swelling inflammation with itching and burning skin. The eruption disappears, but the sufferer hopes forever; but as soon as the little blisters appear, the poison has reached the blood, and will break out at regular intervals and each time in a more aggravated form. This poison will linger in the system for years, and every atom of it is forced out of the blood before you expect a perfect, permanent cure.

Nature's Antidote FOR Nature's Poisons.

The only cure for Poison Oak, Poison Ivy, and all noxious plants. It is composed exclusively of roots and herbs. Now the time to get the poison out of your system, as delay makes your condition worse. Don't experiment longer with poisons, washes and soaps—they never cure. S. M. Marshall, bookkeeper of the Atlantic Gas Light Co., was poisoned with Poison Ivy. He took Sulphur, Arsenic and various drugs, and applied externally numerous ointments and salves with no benefit. At times the itching and inflammation was so severe he was almost blind. For eight years the poison would break out every season. His condition was such after taking one bottle of S. S. S. and bottles cleared his blood of the poison, and the disease disappeared.

People are often poisoned without knowing when or how. Explain your case to our physicians, and they will fully give such information and advice as you require, without charge, and will send at the same time an interesting book on Blood and Skin Diseases. The Homestead mine, located on the North Fork of John Day river, seven miles from Lawton, has been bonded to Eastern capitalists by the owners, Messrs. Tom Johnson and Joseph Robison, for the sum of $25,000 on a year's time. Further conditions of the bond are that the persons holding it are to take immediate possession and prosecute the work of development with a large force of men divided into three eight-hour shifts, says the Lawton Standard.

Petitions have been circulated for three different rural deliveries out of Albany, nearly covering the entire field in all directions around the city, and there are hopes of the same being established, but it is not known whether they will reach the department in time for the agent now establishing routes in the state to act upon them before his departure. The route out of Shedd has given such general satisfaction that there is a general desire to have the system extended here.

The Wallowa marshal ran in a man for peddling without a license, who defied the city authorities and would not even listen to the reading of the complaint by the recorder. He was incarcerated in the city prison for contempt of court, where he languished for two or three days or until some people around town put up $6 for a jury trial. The jury thought upon the evidence offered that the man was entitled to a discharge, and so rendered its verdict. The man is a foreigner, presumably an Italian. He threatened to sue the city for damages.

From private letters received by M. G. Hooper, of Vale, it is learned that the Ocean Wave mine is making a splendid showing. N. C. Clark, a mining expert, has the development work of the mine in charge, and in a letter that was received from him he says that several fine nuggets have been taken out lately. In a former letter he stated that the gold is not confined to the rich vein that is being followed, but that small particles of it may be seen in the dirt over the entire face and walls of the tunnel. It is his opinion that it would pay to mill the whole hill on which he is working. This mine is an extension of the Golden Eagle, which is owned by Portland capitalists.

Science AND INVENTION

Among the uses recently found for aluminum is the soldering of iron rails end to end in order to obtain a smooth, continuous track. Aluminum has the property of producing great heat in the act of combining with oxygen. The ends of the rails are placed together in a crucible filled with a mixture of aluminum and iron ore. The mixture being fired, an intense heat results, and the rails are firmly soldered together. This is said to be quite as efficacious as the electric method of soldering.

The color and character of the walls have much to do with the lighting of a room. Recent experiments have shown these percentages of reflection for different wall materials: Black velvet, 0.4 per cent, black cloth 1.03 per cent, black paper 4.5 per cent, dark-blue 6.5 per cent, dark-green 16.1 per cent, pale red 16.2 per cent, dark yellow 20 per cent, pale-blue 30 per cent, pale-yellow 40 per cent, pale-green 40.5 per cent, pale-orange 54.8 per cent, pure white 70 per cent, mirror covering 92 per cent.

As is well known, some metals are unsuitable for casting, while others, like iron, can readily be cast in any desired shape. The property of casting well is said to depend upon whether the metal contracts or expands on solidifying from the liquid form. Iron, like water, expands in solidifying, and hence the solid metal may be seen floating in the liquid iron about it. The expansion causes it to fill the die into which is poured, and so it can be cast easily. Gold and silver contract in cooling, and therefore are not suitable for casting.

Meteors may be observed practically the whole year round, except when cloud or moonlight interferes; yet one month ranks pre-eminently as the meteor month—the month of August. It is only in recent years that our knowledge of these natural fireworks has made any real advance. By the labors of a few very observant, one of whom, Mr. Denning, may be said to have outweighed all others put together in the value and number of his results, we know of many hundreds of radiant points, and they have been shown to be not mere distempers of the air, but bodies of a truly planetary nature, traveling round the sun in orbits as defined as that of the earth itself.

On every side the Alps send down rivers, leaping from the rocks, and in the lower lands, especially on the Italian side, spreading out into beautiful blue lakes. Recently the stored-up energy of these Alpine streams has been brought under control, in many instances, for the production of electric power. The river Adra at Paderno already furnishes 13,000 horse-power, and works are now under way on the river Ticino, below its point of issue from Lake Maggiore, which will, it is expected, furnish 12,000 effective horse-power to be distributed among a string of manufacturing towns reaching down into the plain of Lombardy. It was originally intended to send this power to Milan, but all of it has been eagerly seized by the intervening smaller towns. The Alps are yet rich in unused energy of this kind.

MARK TWAIN.

Note! Humorist Tells a Story at His Own Expense.

"When I was here about eight years ago I was coming up in a car of the elevated road. Very few people were in that, and on one end of it there was no one, except on the opposite side, where sat a man about 50 years old, with a most winning face and an elegant eye, a beautiful eye, and I took him from his dress to be a master mechanic, a man who had a vocation. He had with him a very little child of about 4 or 5 years. I was watching the affection which existed between those two. I judged he was the grandfather, perhaps. It was really a pretty child, and I was admiring her, and as soon as he saw I was admiring her he began to notice me.

"I could see his admiration of me in his eye, and I did what anybody else would do—admired the child four times as much, knowing I would get four times as much of his admiration. Things went on very pleasantly. I was making my way into his heart.

"By and by, when he almost reached the station where he was to get off, he got up, crossed over, and he said: 'Now, I am going to say something to you which I hope you will regard as a compliment.'

"And then he went on to say: 'I have never seen Mark Twain, but I have seen a portrait of him, and any friend of mine will tell you when I have once seen a portrait of a man I place it in my eye and store it away in my memory, and I want to tell you now that you look enough like Mark Twain to be his brother. Now,' he said, 'I hope you take this as a compliment.'

"'Certainly,' I said, 'I take it as more than a compliment. Yes,' I said, 'this is the proudest moment of my life to be taken for Mark Twain, for most men are always wishing to look like some great man, General Grant, George Washington, or like some archbishop or other, but all my life I have wished to look like Mark Twain. Yes,' I said, 'I have wished to look like that synonyme, that symbol of all virtue and all purity, whom you have just described. I appreciate it.'

"He said: 'Yes, you are a very good imitation, but when I come to look closer you are probably not that man.' I said: 'I will be frank with you. In my desire to look like that excellent character I have dressed for the character; I have been playing a part.' He said: 'That is all right; you look very well on the outside, but when it comes to the inside you are not in with the original.'—New York Journal.

MILLS ARE NEVER COINED.

They Have Always Been a Mere Figure in the World of Finance.

"The mill in coinage exists only in the school books used in the primary schools. It never has existed anywhere else, and from the nature of things never can," observed a leading financial man the other day to a reporter.
