A TIMBER FAMILIA

"Is a Timber Familia a family?" asks an answer in a recent issue of the Pacific States, published by the United States, Pacific States and the recent acquisition of territory, is wooded. By the trees "wooded" are included all lands covered with trees in all stages of growth. Two-thirds of this area in the eastern part of the country, extending from the Atlantic coast to the Rocky mountains and Pacific states.

In the best of the timber consists mainly of conifers, spruces and hemlocks. In the northern districts it is found in the remaining supply of white pine. To the south hard woods become more abundant. In the timbered parts of the west the merchantable timber has been cut out, leaving your trees available for firewood.

When timber is exhausted almost entirely, the forests on the western coast mainly are the densest and heaviest on earth. They may be compared with those of tropical regions, such as the forests of the Amazon and Congo basins. While the jungle of the tropics may be denser, the trees are by no means as large, nor do they contain as much lumber. Favorable climatic conditions, a cool, uniform temperature, with slight variations between the seasons, copious rainfall and a humid atmosphere account for the luxuriant growth. This heavily timbered area extends in Oregon and Washington from the crest of the Cascade range to the Pacific coast.

the man was well known as a friend of the people and an advocate of clean politics. Finally, however, the chairman of the caucus said:

"The gentleman is welcome. We will now proceed with the inquiry. What is your politics?"

"I am a member of the party represented by this caucus."

"Have you always voted the straight ticket?"

"Yes, when the candidates were clean men."

"Do you appear as a candidate favoring the interests of the X, M & Q railroad?"

"I do not. I do not appear in the interests of any railroad corporation."

"Have you proper references from the Slambang Oil company?"

"I have not. I do not admit that the Slambang Oil company, nor any other oil company, has any interests superior to the interests of the general public in this senatorial contest."

"Then you are properly vouched for by the Saccharine trust, I suppose?"

"You suppose wrong, sir."

"Then perhaps you will be kind enough to inform this caucus whose interests you pretend to represent as a candidate for the high and honorable position of senator of the United States."

"I appear in the interests of the whole people of my state. I am not backed by any corporation. If elected I will represent the whole people and oppose corporation domination, public extravagance and governmental collusion. If elected I—"

But at this juncture the sergeant-at-arms, acting upon a signal from the chairman, seized the presumptuous fanatic and threw him over the transom.

"This," said the chairman, after the dust had settled, "seems to be a case for the lunatic inquiring, not for this caucus. If there are no objections the candidate who gently hinted that he could do a few things with the Slambang Oil company will be recalled for further questioning."

There were no objections.

A GOOD "AD."

The New York Central lines are doing some effective advertising nowadays. Here is what they say about Oregon:

"Millions of acres of the best lands in the gift of the government are in Oregon. Soil that yields from three to five harvest of wheat from one seeding—in Oregon. Over 2,900,000 acres of forests, that produce from 25,000 to 250,000 feet of lumber to the acre—in Oregon. Pastures to turn out 250 pound sheep and 2,200-pound cattle—in Oregon. More than 14,000 square miles of mineral lands, rich as the richest in Colorado, California or Klondike—in Oregon. A climate that is unsurpassed—no winter cold, no summer heat, no blizzards, no droughts and no crop failures—in Oregon."

SENT AFTER FLOUR

Fredric White, of Coventry, N. Y., has returned to his home after an absence of sixteen years. One day in the spring of 1884 his wife sent him to the store, a short ways off, to buy a bag of flour, saying:

"Don't come home without that flour, dear."

White promised to do as she requested and started off. That was the last seen of him until a few days ago, when he returned, carrying a sack of flour on his shoulder.

"Here's your flour, Maria," he said, "I didn't forget it."

White had been supposed to be dead, but it seems that he had been in the West, where he has acquired considerable property. He will return and take his wife back with him.

The governor yesterday morning signed four bills as follows: S B No 12, by Mulkey regulating sale of school lands; S B No 98, by Porter, reducing salary county judge of Clackamas county; S B No 119, by Smith, of Yamhill, incorporating Yamhill; H B No 19, by Heitkemper, prohibiting Sunday barbering.

AN OREGON GIRL

AN OREGON GIRL.—Miss Leota Howard, the leading lady in the "Under Sealed Orders" company which appeared at the opera house last night, is an Oregon girl, having been raised at McCoy, Folk county. She has been on the stage several years and has met with a high degree of success so far during her career.

SICSLAW NOTES.

Hatchery at Mapleton a Success
—Other Notes from "The West."

Miss Stuart who has been teaching school on Fiddle creek, has returned to her home in Eugene.

A special meeting of the voters of Florence school district was held at the school house Monday afternoon, at which a tax of five mills was levied for the maintenance of the school during the current year.

Greenleaf correspondence Feb 4: Mrs. William Wheeler got a letter yesterday from her stepfather, Thomas Lator, of Eugene, summoning her to his bedside, as he is very ill. He began the letter with his own hand, but could not finish it. She went out today.

Greenleaf correspondence: A railroad inspector who was looking up the feasibility of a road through the Nelson valley recently, said he found an easy pass from the head of Nelson creek to Goldson, and that there was a possibility of a railroad through to the valley which would take lumber in that direction, and send it thence overland to the east. In that case the road would be a permanent one.

The hatchery at Mapleton will this year turn out an enormous quantity of salmon, the spawn secured from abroad and that taken from the Siuslaw river making a very large percentage of young fish, perhaps greater than the hatchery has ever turned out from a similar number of eggs. The little fellows are developing rapidly, and it is interesting to see the many thousands of young fish swimming about in the tanks. Manager Bean takes much interest in the work and is thoroughly alive to the requirements of the hatchery.

J W Starr is becoming quite feeble, although he manages to get down town occasionally.

J D Hamlin has purchased a half-interest in the Moffit butcher business and donned a new jacket ready for business.

Bruce Robinson, well known in this county, died at Portland Sunday. He passed as a musician and while not of the classic order he had a knack of producing a melodious note.

The foothill residence of Jas Holgate in the Sulphur Springs neighborhood, was destroyed by fire Sunday. There was no one present at the time therefore particulars are lacking. It was a fairly good country house and is quite a loss to Mr Holgate. Most of the household goods had been moved to this city where the family is located for school purposes. There is a small amount of insurance.

Suffrage Amendment Killed.

The house defeated the resolution passed by the senate granting equal suffrage to women by a vote of 29 to 21, absent 10. Mrs Dunniway who has been lobbying in the interest of the bill was decidedly disappointed in the result, which was unexpected. The measure was passed in the senate without dissent, and the house was expected to do likewise.

SUCCESSFUL OPERATION.—A telephone message was received this morning from Portland stating that a successful operation was performed on Mrs. Joe Ware at the Good Samaritan Hospital, and that the lady is resting easy. The hospital physicians are very hopeful of her complete recovery. Mrs. Ware's ailment was proven to be the same as diagnosed by Dr. Neelover, of this city, that of gallstones. Mr. Ware, who is quite ill at his home in this city, is some better today.

LOG RUN STOPPED.—Tom L. Gilliam, the Mohawk log contractor, is in Eugene. He says his run of logs is still in the Mohawk and is stopped on account of extremely low water, the river being at a summer stand. He hopes for another raise yet, however.

Ex-King Milan, of Serbia, is dead.

Julius Goldsmith is confined to his home with the grippe. Mr. Detmering is attending the store.

A prominent Eugene business man was robbed in Portland last week of $80, according to a Sunday paper. He must have been a guy.

R C Rose, whose arm it was feared would have to be amputated on account of blood poisoning, is now able to be on the streets and his arm is nearly well.

The Telegram and Oregonian give a picture of Miss Amy May, who recently moved to Portland from Harrisburg, and compliment her talent as a pianist and her popularity as a young lady.

Leo Perou has returned to Eugene and will remain here this summer at least. He has been working on a steamship plying between San Francisco and Manila.

Huntington Herald, Feb 9: Samuel Gray, our well known harness maker, departed for Baker City Wednesday, where he will place himself under the care of an osteopath. Mr. Gray has not been well since last spring, when he suffered a slight stroke of paralysis. His many friends hope for his speedy recovery.

Twenty nine days of the Legislative session have passed and but 11 remain. The last day will fall upon February 23, a legal holiday. The Legislature will therefore probably adjourn sine die on the evening of February 21, or hold a last session on February 22. The members will receive no compensation for time they may put in after February 22.

For Malaria, Chills and Fever

THE BEST PRESCRIPTION IS Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic.

The formula is plainly printed on every bottle—hence you know just what you are taking when you take Grove's. Imitators do not advertise their formula knowing that you would not buy their medicine if you knew what it contained. Grove's contains Iron and Quinine put up in correct proportions and is in a Tasteless form. The Iron acts as a tonic while the Quinine drives the malaria out of the system. Any reliable druggist will tell you that Grove's is the Original and that all other so-called Tasteless Chill Tonics are imitations. An analysis of other chill tonics shows that Grove's is superior to all others in every respect. You are not experimenting when you take Grove's—its superiority and excellence having long been established. Grove's is the only Chill Cure sold throughout the entire malarial sections of the United States. No Cure, No Pay. Price, 50c.
