

Washington D. C. Post.

We make our compliments to Mr George Miller, attorney-at-law, Eugene, Oregon. Mr George Miller seems to be the kind of man we need along our frontier—especially that which touches British America.

We have needed such men in large numbers for some years past. We need them more and more urgently with each new demonstration of the Anglomaniac policy of our government.

But the American people ought to have something to say to this. Their rights are at stake. In the Porcupine district, where our frontier was pushed back 100 miles, Americans by the thousand were expatriated against their wills—to their shame and indignation.

By leaps and bounds the Canadian custom house advanced toward tidewater. From Tagish to Bennett, then to Loz Cabin, and lastly to the summit, and when the customs ensign of Canada was hoisted at Skagway it is small wonder that some John Brown would not wait for the action from Washington and cut down the flag.

Upon the whole, it was well he didn't wait for "action" from Washington. Had he done so, the British flag would have moved proudly on to tidewater without let or hindrance.

Risking Life

To make a living! And we stand and stare up at the man in the clouds, wondering that any man can be so foolhardy. But what of the business man, who has barely time to snatch a hasty meal, and gulps down a bunch of rice and milk in a few minutes? He too, is risking his life to make a living.

The boat approached Santa Cruz Islands about 10 a. m. When about three miles out heavy sea broke over them, driving them apart. The Chispa is a 30 foot launch, and has not been seen since. All on board are thought to have perished. The other boats landed after being at the mercy of the seas all night.

Great consternation was felt by the friends of M. A. Hogarty of Lexington, Ky, when they saw he was turning yellow. His skin slowly changed color, also his eyes, and he suffered terribly. Then he was advised to try Electric Bitters, the wonderful Stomach and Liver remedy, and he writes: "After taking two bottles I was wholly cured." A trial proves its matchless merit for all stomach, liver and kidney troubles. Only 50c. Sold by W. L. DeLano, druggist.

Humane Way of Dehorning.

Procure from your druggist one stick of caustic potash, costing about 10 cents. Take your calf about a week old and with a common pair of scissors cut off the hair all around the young horn. Dampen the caustic in water and rub repeating this process until the skin is all off.

Be careful not to drop the caustic water anywhere except around the horn, as it will leave a bluish, I have tried this method and find it superior. It leaves a perfect, well shaped head and no trace of the horn whatever. Try it once and you will always dehorn your cattle this way. M J O

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury.
