

ANNUAL HOPPING

Men, Women and Children Busy in the Yards.

GATHERING RICH YELLOW BURS.
Hopping is now in full blast in Lane county, and the rich golden burs of this Oregon's most valuable crop, are being gathered by men, women and children and prepared for the world's market.
Hundreds of people of Eugene's poorer class have gone to the hopyard to earn means with which to purchase their winter's supplies, and many well-to-do families are also out, as much for the pleasant outing to be had in the yards as for the money to be made out of the work, and are enjoying the pleasant work to the fullest extent. In many yards there are several hundred pickers in each and a good majority of them are young people. Of course when a large number of young people get together they are bound to have some kind of amusement, so dancing is frequently indulged in. Platforms are built or the dance takes place in the dry house, and to the tune of "The Irish Washer Woman" or something similar, played on a fiddle, the young folks go through the various evolutions of the latest (?) dances in the most approved fashion.
In these several yards in the immediate vicinity of Eugene the crop is turning out to be shorter than estimated, in some instances it being 25 per cent short of last year's output. However, the quality is splendid and the growers are not discouraged, as they are confident of securing good prices for their product as a result of the excellent quality.
The first sale of hops was made the other day when F E Dunn bought 15 bales of Early Eagles from Seavey Bros for 10 cents per pound. This seems rather low, but the market has not yet opened and it is expected that the price this year will equal or exceed that of last year when it ran above 15 cents.

FENCE BURNED.—Yesterday afternoon quite a fierce fire was raging on Hendricks and Hoffman's addition to College Hill, southwest of town but has been extinguished. Besides other minor damage done about a mile of good fence belonging to T G Hendricks, the Hoffmans and Mrs Travis was burned. The fire originated perhaps from the burning of slashings in that vicinity. Great care should be exercised in preventing the spread of fires. Often much valuable property is destroyed on account of some one's carelessness or thoughtlessness.

PRESIDENT MCKINLEY SHOT

Well Dressed Stranger Shook Hands, then Fired Two Shots Into the President's Body.

PHYSICIANS FEAR BLOOD POISON.

Special to the Guard.

BUFFALO, New York, September 6.—President McKinley was shot twice at noon today, by an assassin, while on his way afoot to the Temple of Music at the Exposition grounds, where he was to hold a public reception.

A well dressed stranger stepped up to the Presidential party and shook hands with the President, then quickly fired two shots into the President's body, one through the breast and the other through the abdomen. The pistol was held almost against the body. The powder burned the clothing and the flesh about the wounds.

The pistol was held concealed under a handkerchief in the left hand until the assassin changed it to the right, then fired the shots with startling rapidity.

TAKEN TO EXPOSITION HOSPITAL.

The assassin was seized at once, while those about the President supported his sinking form. A hospital van was immediately summoned and the President conveyed to the hospital that is attached to the Exposition grounds.

POLISH ANARCHIST ASSASSIN.

BUFFALO, Sept 6, 1 p. m.—The assassin has been identified by the police as Fred Nieman, an anarchist.

Nieman came here from Detroit, Michigan, with the purpose, it is thought, of assassinating the President. He is of Polish descent, and is known at Detroit as an anarchist.

[William McKinley twenty-fifth president of the United States was born at Niles, Ohio, February 26, 1844, of Scotch-Irish parentage. His father, William McKinley, was an iron manufacturer.]

He enlisted in the United States army in May, 1861, as a private soldier in the 23d Ohio volunteer infantry and was mustered out as captain of the same company and brevet major in September 1865. Was prosecuting attorney of Stark county, Ohio, 1869-71; was elected to the forty-fifth congress, 1877, and by successive re-elections up to 1888. In 1890 he introduced the tariff bill known by his name, and in the succeeding election he was defeated.

In 1896 he was nominated for president by the Republican National convention, and elected over William J Bryan, and again in 1900.—ED GUARD.]

Special to the Guard.

NEW YORK, September 6.—The Iron and steel corporation announce that they have no further concessions to make nor will they hold further conferences. Many iron mills are reopening with full complements of workmen.

BLOOD POISON FEARED.

Special to the GUARD.

BUFFALO, September 7.—The surgeons have located the bullet fired into President McKinley's abdomen by Anarchist Czolgosz. It is lodged in the muscles of the back.

They declare that the presence of the bullet in the back is a minor factor in the case. They will not attempt to remove it at present.

BUFFALO, September 7.—The surgeons are taking every precaution known to medical science to prevent septic (blood) poisoning. Apart from that the case is not a desperate one.

SPRINGFIELD BRIDGE.

It Will be Repaired as Quickly As Possible.

Daily Guard, Sept 7

Commissioners Court adjourned Friday evening until Monday forenoon, on account of the sickness of Judge Kincaid. Today Commissioners Hill and Edwards went to Springfield and gave the steel bridge at that place a thorough examination. It is probable that a new pier will have to be built on this side of the river. A new floor will be laid horizontally instead of zig zag as now. The steel work will also be scraped and repainted.

The bridge was erected in 1891 and cost the county about $40,000.

The report of the Pacific Bridge Company published last evening disclosed very little information; however the Company charged $45 for their services.

The bridge sways badly when heavy teams cross.

Assassination Notes.

The prisoner declares that he is Fred Nieman, of Detroit. When arrested he was asked why he had shot the president, and replied: "I am an anarchist, and have done my duty."

Later he denied to a police officer that he was an anarchist.

Mrs McKinley received the news of the attempted assassination with the utmost courage.

The President, though well guarded by United States secret service detectives, was fully exposed to such an attack as occurred.

One bullet struck on the upper portion of the breastbone, glancing and not penetrating; the second bullet penetrated the abdomen five inches below the left nipple and one and one-half inches to the left of the median line. The abdomen was opened through the line of the bullet wound. It was found that the bullet had penetrated the stomach. The opening in the front wall of the stomach was carefully closed with silk stitches, after which a search was made for a hole in the back wall of the stomach. This was found and also closed by the same way.

The further course of the bullet could not be discovered, although careful search was made. The abdominal wound was closed without drainage. No injury to the intestines or other abdominal organs was discovered. The patient stood the operation well.

The anarchist, at Patterson, N. J., toasted the dreadful crime in beer. One of them said: "We don't know him but he is one of us. He did what was his duty to do, and we honor him, while personally thinking his effort might better have been employed across the ocean upon some crowned head."

The police have learned that the true name of the assassin is Leon Czolgosz. He was born in Detroit and came here from Cleveland. He signed a confession covering six pages of foolscap, in which he states that he is an anarchist and that he became an enthusiastic member of a body through the influence of Emma Goldman, whose writings he had read and whose lectures he had listened to.

He denies having any confederate and says he decided on the act three days ago, and bought the revolver with which the act was committed in Buffalo. He has seven brothers and sisters in Cleveland and the Cleveland directory has the names of about that number living on Hosmer street and Euclid avenue, which adjoins. Some of them are butchers and others are employed in different trades.

HOPS.—Harrisburg Bulletin, Sept 5: Early hops in this district are picked, and in most cases baled, and the harvesting of late varieties is well under way. The Cunningham Bros commenced early this week. J R Cartwright, J E Coleman and W H Davison on Thursday, and Davis & May, Riley & Perkins and Dr Mendenhall will commence Monday. Ed Ayres had no intermission between the picking of his early and late varieties. We hear no complaint as to the prospect of a fair crop of the best hops ever raised hereabouts. It is to be specially noted that the pickers working here this season are of unusually steady habits and are using their best endeavor to do clean picking with quiet, steady work. This feature is very commendable and greatly appreciated by field owners.

GOES TO LA GRANDE.—Rev Father Przybylski, who has been rector of the Catholic church in this city over two years and who resigned recently on account of his health, has been assigned to the church at La Grande for which place he expects to leave about Sept 15. Father Przybylski informs the GUARD that in all probability Father Moore, who is now at La Grande, will be sent to the Eugene church. We understand he is a very able man. The people of La Grande are to be congratulated upon securing Father Przybylski. He is a splendid speaker and a first class citizen.
