THE WORST OF GAMBLING.

Chicago has a severe law against men gambling for money, from a nickle up. Yet stock and produce gamblers go into the elegant quarters of the so-called Board of Trade and gamble for hundreds of thousands of dollars, even millions. One of the speculators on future prices has just been "broke" by opposition gamblers who forced the speculative May price of grain down on him.

This produce gambling is the worst of all in that there is a possibility of it affecting the values of the necessities of life, although there is no actual transfer of the stuff bought and sold. The gamblers merely settle with each other for the amount represented by the difference between the selling and buying price. For instance if the speculator agrees to deliver wheat for sixty cents a bushel and it goes to sixty-one, he pays the buyer one cent a bushel and the deal is off. To show the magnitude such speculation allows it is only necessary to state that reports credit the losing gambler in the Chicago deal with contracts for May delivery of five million bushels of wheat and three million bushels of corn. And, probably, he was not the actual owner of ten bushels of either of the grains.

FISHERMEN RATS.

The Associated Press has a rat editor at Ilwaco, Washington, at least one who gives out astonishing rat news. Witness this:

Another pest that has been destroying the young salmon in the hatchery recently discovered is the large rat known generally as the wharf or wood rat. Mr Hansen determined to see how the pest did his work so nicely, as he had quite frequently found a pile of heads near the vats in the mornings. So he laid quiet and the rat came out cautiously, climbed up on the edge of the vat, and taking his right paw just like a coon fishing in a pond for crawfish, flirted the little fellow up the side of the vat and then devoured him almost instantly. Before the hatchery man frightened the rat away, ten tiny heads marked the place of his feast.

NO TAXES FOR GLORY.

The Register in a long editorial says it is in favor of "raising" the Lane county assessment "instead of lowering it." What for? The only result would be that Lane county would pay a larger portion of the state taxes in the future, as the proportion due the state is fixed on the average assessment for five years. Raise the assessment, you will raise our future taxes.

Already we are being assessed about equally with Linn and Marion, which are undoubtedly wealthier counties. There is no fun in paying taxes under any circumstance, particularly not for glory.

POLITICAL TRASH.

The Albany Herald, discussing the silly political trash that is sent out to country papers, says:

The "Portland correspondent" will dish out political news to the country newspaper during the next few months and give the "dear readers" the inside tip. The rot sent out from the political pawnshops of the metropolis is usually unworthy of publication, and there is generally a large sized African around the cordwood.

A press bulletin from the United States Geological Survey says that water powers in the state of New York like those obtaining their water from the Adirondack streams, the Mohawk and Hudson, are often valued as high as one hundred dollars per horse power per year. If undeveloped Lane county water powers could be sold for a very small fraction of that amount they would prove great wealth producers. Our mountains are full of sites where splendid water powers could be obtained at comparatively small outlays.

Chinese soldiers fired on a British steamer in a China river yesterday, severely wounding the chaplain of a British warship who, as luck would have it, was aboard. Luck, we say, for the incident may be made the pretext for Great Britain to grab more Chinese territory. The massacre of missionaries was a very convenient excuse for territorial despoilment of China, and why not a chaplain?

A WOMAN'S THROAT

Is her fortune if she chances to be a Patti or Albani, and that fortune is guarded day and night with the greatest care. Nothing frightens a singer so much as a cough.

Every woman ought to be afraid of a cough. It is nature's danger signal. Who does not know of some sweet woman-voice silenced forever by disease which began with a slight cough.

The use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will ensure a permanent cure of the most obstinate and lingering coughs. Even when the lungs are involved and there are hemorrhages and emaciation, "Golden Medical Discovery" is generally effective in restoring the diseased organs to sound health and strength. There is no alcohol in the "Discovery" and it is entirely free from opium, cocaine and all other narcotics.

"I am feeling quite well," writes Miss Dereas A. Lewis, of No. 1199 24th Street, Washington, D. C., "and I owe it all to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I had been quite a sufferer for a long time, and after reading Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser thought I would try his 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I had not been sleeping well for a long time. Took one teaspoonful of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and slept nearly all night without coughing, so I continued taking it. I had been a great sufferer for more than ten years. I tried lots of different medicines and different doctors, but did not feel much better. I coughed until I commenced spitting blood, but now I feel much stronger and am entirely well."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

A DAY'S WORK IN WASHINGTON.

In a letter from Washington, Bill Morgan notes the slow manner in which business is transacted in the National capital and gives the following story to illustrate it:

State Senator Fitzpatrick, of Kansas, was in Washington on department business. He couldn't get this business pushed through, no matter how much he hurried. One day he met National Committeeman Dave Mulvane and complained that during the whole day he hadn't been able to accomplish a single thing.

"Didn't you write a letter to your wife?" asked Dave.

"Yes, I did," responded Fitzpatrick.

"Well, don't kick. You can only do one thing a day in this city and you've done it."—Kansas City Journal.

SOMETHING LIKE IT.

One of the Texas friends of Representative Cooper met him yesterday.

"You smoke, don't you?" he asked.

"Sometimes," said Cooper.

"Take this," remarked the Texan, "This is something like a cigar."

Cooper took the weed, lighted it, and puffed three or four times.

"Yes," he assented, "this is something like a cigar. What is it?"—Washington Post.

A PENITENTIARY INTERVIEW.

The Visitor—I suppose your wife will be glad to welcome you when you're out?

The Bigamist—Well, numbers two and three may; I'm kinder doubtful about one and four!

Recorder Goff of New York says the spirit of anarchy must be met with better laws for the protection of the masses of the people. He is of the opinion that our aristocracy of wealth should have more thought for common welfare. He said in part:

I think we assume a little too much if we make the mistake of congratulating ourselves on the present state of our society or our position in it. The aristocracy and nobility of France took the same position before the revolution in regard to what they called their rights. But was it not their lives which caused the revolution? The nobles amused themselves in luxury and wealth while the people starved. Who were the anarchists? The people or they?

A British ship captain at Portland is feeling contented with himself and the world through getting into Portland harbor Tuesday evening. His charter would have expired last night at midnight when he would have had to hunt another job with at least a thousand dollars off from the original charter, ocean freight rates from Portland having declined during the past several months.

Finnick—"Well, there was one thing I remarked about your wife the first time I saw her; she was undoubtedly outspoken."

Henpeck—"You don't say! By whom?"

The latest:

"Did I ever tell you about the story of the dirty window?"

"No, what is it?"

"No use telling it, you couldn't see through it."

Died.

A correspondent of Drusey, Oregon, writes as follows under date of Jan 9:

"Mrs Eva Wright Dunten, wife of Bert Dunten, one of our prosperous farmers, died at the home of her parents today at 10 o'clock, after a sickness of only a few days. The funeral took place Jan 10. The funeral procession consisted of the public school and teachers, I O O F lodge, the Rebekahs and the citizens generally.

"Mrs Eva Dunten was born in South Dakota October 12, 1878; moved to Oregon with her parents in her youth; was raised and educated near Drewsey, and was married to Bert Dunten on Christmas day, 1899.

"She leaves to mourn her loss a husband, father, mother, two dear children, one only a few days old, two brothers and a married sister who lives in Montana."

New York boasts a novel trust It is capitalized for its actual value.

Lum Yon, a Chinaman over at South Bend, Washington, is just enjoying his "Happy New Years." He was confined in jail under a sentence to be hung the last day of this month and escaped Wednesday.

The English public is very sensitive about German press caricatures of British royalty. They should exercise the great American privilege and "stop the paper." If disagreeable there is no sense in looking at the pictures.

The $10,000,000 given the Government, for a university at Washington, by Andrew Carnegie, equals the present endowment fund of Harvard University, and exceeds the invested fund of Yale. With the National Museum, the Medical Museum, the Congressional Library, Naval Observatory and Smithsonian Institute as nuclei of a great educational institution, what may not this astonishing donation accomplish?

The sea has gave up the last of the ill-fated steamer Walla Walla's life rafts. And it tells a melancholy story. On the raft were found a coat, a jacket, two life belts and a felt hat. The owner of the coat was indentified by papers in the pocket though he was not there, probably had jumped overboard in delirium to end his sufferings. The raft had followed the coast line in its drifting, being found seventy-five miles north of the scene of the disaster. It looks as if the raft should have been picked up long before it was. The Walla Walla went to the bottom early in the morning of January 3, while the raft was picked up on the 9th. More patient cruising about the scene of the disaster might have saved this life.
