GET UP!

That's the morning call of Chanticleer. It's a welcome cry to a well man. But to a man whose sleep seems to have been only an unrefreshing stupor; who wakes with burning eyes, throbbing head, and a bad taste in the mouth, it means only a new day's misery.

In such a physical condition health is most surely and swiftly restored by the use of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures diseases of the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition. It cures through the stomach diseases of liver, lungs, kidneys, etc., which have their origin in a diseased condition of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It increases the activity of the blood-making glands, and every organ is benefited by the resulting increase of rich, pure blood.

"Golden Medical Discovery" contains no alcohol and is entirely free from opiates, cocaine and other narcotics.

Your "Golden Medical Discovery" and Dr. R. V. Pierce's Catarrh Remedy have been of great benefit to me. I write (Fred J. Pleasant & Oliver, of Viola, Fulton Co., Ark.). Before I used the above mentioned remedies my sleep was not sound. I was unable to take treatment of Dr. R. V. Pierce. I know his medicines are all right in the treatment of diseases.

The Common Sense Medical Agency, cloth binding, sent free by the author, on receipt of 11 one-cent stamps, to pay expense of mailing only. In paper covers 21 one-cent stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

SAID "GOD IS GOOD," THEN DIED.

Doctor Thomas Dunn English died in Newark, New Jersey, April 2nd, aged eighty-two years. He left his own monument behind in the poem "Ben Bolt," one of the sweetest gems ever written in the Anglo-Saxon tongue. His last words were, "God is good! My wife! My boy."

BEN BOLT.

Don't you remember sweet Alice, Ben Bolt—
Sweet Alice whose hair was so brown,
Who wept with delight when you gave her a smile,
And trembled with fear at your frown?
In the old churchyard in the valley,
Ben Bolt,
In a corner obscure and alone,
They have fitted a slab of the granite so gray,
And Alice lies under the stone.

Under the hickory-tree Ben Bolt,
Which stood at the foot of the hill,
Together we've lain in the noonday shade,
And listened to Appletan's mill.
The mill-wheel has fallen to pieces
Ben Bolt,
The rafters have tumbled in,
And quiet that crawls round the walls as you pass
Has followed the olden din.

Do you mind the cabin of logs, Ben Bolt,
At the edge of the pathless wood,
And the button-ball tree with its motley limbs,
Which nigh by the doorstep stood?
The cabin to ruin has gone, Ben Bolt,
The tree you would seek for in vain;
And where once the lords of the forests waved,
Are grass and the golden grain.

And don't you remember the school,
Ben Bolt,
With the master so cruel and grim,
And the shaded nook in the running brook
Where the children went to swim?
Grass grows on the master's grave,
Ben Bolt,
The spring of the brook is dry
And of all the boys who were school-mates then
There are only you and I.

There is change in the things I loved, Ben Bolt,
They have changed from the old to the new;
But I feel in the depths of my spirit the truth,
There never was change in you.
Twelvemonths twenty have passed,
Ben Bolt,
Since first we were friends; yet I hail
Your presence a blessing, your friendship a truth,
Ben Bolt of the salt-sea gale!

PEOPLE WILL INSTRUCT TOO.

The Democratic convention of almost every county in the state has instructed for George Chamberlain for governor. The people will declare that way in June. It will do furnish no good to go to Portland to conduct his campaign "along other lines." He may as well keep his money in his pocket, so far as the election is concerned. Still it is well that money should be put in circulation, and from this point of view, no one can object to Mr Furnish making a distribution.

Up in Wheeler County two stubborn men are testing the staying qualities of each other. One man owns a very rich gold placer mining claim on Spanish Gulch, while another man owns the ditch by which it is possible to work the claim. The owner of the claim says the water charges are too high and has suspended operations. And so the gold lays in the gravel and on the bedrock doing no one any good, and the water that would quickly wash the gold out goes to waste, at least so far as the ditch is concerned.

TRUTH ABOUT ROCKEFELLER AND CARNEGIE EDUCATIONAL "ALMS."

Oregonian.

 There is nothing harder in this world than to take ill-gotten gains and disburse them for good. The equipment at Chicago with which John D Rockefeller dazzles the world of college teachers and pupils, affords small atonement for the wrongs upon rivals and consumers with which Standard Oil has wrung its millions from the masses, and even in his spasms of philanthropy he sets in motion influences of evil to the farthest bounds of the land, where the small college wrestles with debt and a diminished faculty.

The libraries which Mr Carnegie scatters ostentatiously about as a princeling throws pennies to a crowd of beggars, do not wipe out any one of the sad memories of Homestead or mitigate the injustice of the tribute levied by the tariff on consumers to fill his swollen coffers; and while they set thousands at devouring the latest novel, they discredit and discourage that spirit of independent and zealous poverty, in which Franklin and Lincoln and Stanton and Henry Clay earned their own books, and with nothing free and through hard knocks gained strength for the battles of life.

THE AFTERNOON PAPER LEADS THE MORNING.

The "Editor and Publisher," the leading publication in this country devoted to the newspaper business, devotes considerable space to discussing the question of the relative merits of the morning and evening newspapers. At the present time this authority asserts that the evening papers have the best of it, because they have the largest circulation, citing the Evening Journal and Evening World, of New York City as being the widest read of any newspapers in the world. This condition, says the "Editor and Publisher," is due to the fact that the evening paper contains fresher news and is issued at a time of day when the people have most time to read, especially in the family circle.

Mary Beck is suing her husband, both formerly of Smithfield in this county, for divorce at Portland, among other things alleging that she often had to wear her husband's clothing because he failed to provide her with apparel suitable to her sex. Some women are taxed with "wearing the breeches" in domestic management by reason of their superiority of brain and will power. Poor Mrs Beck had no choice but to don them in real earnest.

The visit of President Roosevelt to Charleston is in the right line. The South has reason to complain that she has been neglected by our public men during the last several decades. Still the reason is plain. There are no votes to be made down South. Presidents and politicians alike tour the North for votes. There are none to be made "down South," hence they leave that section alone.

Senator Simon is back at his seat in the Senate. Of course "he does not care to discuss recent political events in Oregon." So the Associated Press reports.

HADLEYVILLE ITEMS.

Death of Mrs Emma Abbott-Hayes Casts a Gloom in That Neighborhood.

Special to the Guard.

HADLEYVILLE, Or, April 7.—Mrs Chas Hadley received a letter Saturday saying her brother, Mr Thomas Withers, of Summer Lake, Oregon, had died at that place with smallpox. She has our sympathy in her bereavement.

Mr Geo Hadley's family are all on the sick list at present.

The many friends in this community were grieved to learn of the death of Mrs Emma Abbott-Hayes at the home of her parents, Mr and Mrs S Y Abbott, at Eugene Thursday night where she had gone Thursday for medical attendance. She grew from childhood to womanhood in our midst, and since her marriage eight years ago to Richard Hayes, Jr, they have lived at or near this place. Besides a husband and parents she leaves one brother and four sisters to mourn her early demise.

On yonder hill is Emma's grave. The wild grass on it soon will wave, The wild flowers around it bloom. While her husband cries farwell, farwell, And her parents in their grief can't tell Of a loving child laid low in death. We her friends shall weep for her sad bitter tears, In sorrow of grief and gloom.
