Your blood leaped not, nor shook your heart?

Ah, well; I know no other chart, The path is for your feet as far As that which lessens to a star, -Century.

Cobb's Love Story.

.....

ORNWALLIS COBB-Corn Cobb, he was familiarly called by his associates-was undoubtedly a more ludicrous than elegant name,

Katherine never knew why he should be so burdened, except that Cornwallis was an old family name, "as though that were any reason," she once remarked, indignantly, "to mark a man through life."

She remembered vividly when she had considered it the most ridiculous name in the world, but somehow today, as she thought of a tall, handsome man she had met on Regent street, in the morning, the absurd side did not appeal to her so strongly.

Before that chance meeting it had been four years since she had seen him in a small town in New Jersey, where, after leaving Princeton, he had laid his heart and worldly goods at her feet.

In the interval the Cobb exchequer had been materially increased through the death of a near relation. Cornwallis, tall and ungainly in those days, smarting under Katherine's ungracious refusal, shook the dust of his native town from his feet, and sailed to Germany to study.

For the first time, in looking back over the episode, Katherine realized how disdainful had been her refusal. When pressed for a reason, she had replied with unblushing candor that she never could care for a man whose name was Corn Cobb, no matter what merits he possessed.

But that morning, when he had al-London fog. he seemed to feel nothing by themselves. but the utmost pleasure in the unexpected meeting.

In a delicate way he drew from her ers of mimicry she told him were her over her in the conservatory. only gifts, and on the advice of a come to London and found employment | frighten you?" in singing coon songs in the drawing-

Katherine Whitney had come to London six months before with eager re- thing!" lief, to escape the poverty which faced her in her own country, but though well received, she never forgot her position; she was hired at so much to entertain my lady's guests, and when that was over they had no further use

In former days she had looked upon the Cobbs with amused tolerance at their lavish display, feeling an inborn sense of pride that though poor, she was a Whitney, and one of her ancestors had signed the Declaration of Independence. From childhood she had hated poverty; it meant to her a cramped, narrow life; desires that could not be fulfilled, generosities that could not be gratiled, and yet when a way of escape had presented itself in the person of Cornwallis Cobb, she had decided that there could perhaps be more distasteful experiences than poverty. That night Katherine amused herself by reading the society news in the Queen. The high-sounding titles intershe made few friends in London and his reporter friend with a request for found people not eager to welcome a a story.

item read: "Mr. Cornwallis Cobb, one reporter. Rumor has it that a marriage has been Clayborne's eldest daughter, Lady little trotters vigorously, Dockerty till con

.000-ti

armore

Captai

Unite

s had re

aft.

re imp

take ion wi

Lappo

to of

Katherine could not help a regretful feeling. It was like finding a friend house wid a man an' wife an' a little and then losing him suddenly. Lady girl 4 years old. Dere wuz a boy kid, the name of Cobb, and Katherine Well, dis little girl's mudder is a swell ing his sait. laughed a little to herself at her former feeling of condescension to the Cobbs. It was nearly ten days before Cobb called, as he had promised. When day by day passed without any sign from him Katherine was conscious of a distinct sense of disappointment, and she concluded his other social duties had made him forget her. But one morning there arrived a big bunch of violets. The maid who brought them to her was overcome by the size. "Laws, Miss," she exclaimed, with delight, "they must have cost a 'eap!" That evening Cobb called, and explained that he had been summoned to Paris suddenly the day after he had last seen her, and had just come back. It was wonderful how many things they had to talk about as they sat there in the shabby little back drawing room. Katherine seemed to forget, she had never shown him so much of herself before, it was so natural to be talking to him about things that interested her It was a fortnight later that she was engaged to sing at Lady Leeland's reception. Her head ached, and her eyes were dazzled by the blaze of lights and

Suddenly she saw moving across the

ODD TOWER MADE OF FRUIT.

Here is a castle, not made of stone, like the medieval structures of England, out composed entirely of fruit. The turrets at the top are of red apples, likewise the borders of the windows. The walls are constructed of large green apples. the fruit being glued to a light framework of wood. The castle was constructed at the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo, and the top of the turrets was twenty feet from the floor, while the interior was large enough to hold a score of persons. Altogether nearly 10,000 apples alone were used in its formation and in the construction of the guns, the muzzles of which protrude from each side.

and motioned her to sing. It was a de Prince Henry dinner. her companion:

heard her name mentioned by two rath me pictur, an' de baby yells, 'No, mam- Pedro said, through his interpreter: whip me fer gettin' licked! er dissipated looking youths, who stood ma-no. Ittle boy's doggie.' face burned.

anything."

man who played the 'cello, came for- de wall, in a gold frame, wuz dat charward and pompously offered his arm to coal terrier. All de folks wuz sayin, conduct her to a small retreat where 'It's jes' too lovely,' an' 'How did the most stumbled over her in a depressing members of the profession were served darlin' ever do it?" an' t'ings like dat."

She rose with relief at his appearance, when, to her surprise, Cobb suddenly stepped forward, and with a the account of her father's death and slight bow to Maroni explained that de right name fur goin's on like dat. the necessity now laid upon her of Miss Whitney had promised him the Wot's de k'rect name fur it?" earning her own living, all of which honor of serving her, and before she was news to him. Her voice and pow- knew what to say, Cobb was bending

"Confound the impertinence of those friend who had lived abroad she had idiots!" he said angrily. "Did they had a headache, that was all'-and with energy-"I hate this sort of

"You mean-" "Yes, I mean this amusing people." she interrupted. "Their insults mad-

"I would be so good to you, but-" a long pause.

"O, my confounded name," he replied [bitterly. "You know you told me once you would never marry a Corn Cobb." before I cared; now"- her voice was the Hon. Francis Anson. very low-"there is nothing in the world so sweet to me as to be Mrs. Cornwallis Cobb."

BABY WAS AN ARTIST.

Messenger Boy Puzzled Over Admiration for Her Charcoal Drawing. Dockerty, the district messenger boy, Suddenly among the names that met Dockerty, closing one eye meditative and a struggle ensues as to which boards, books, et cetera, in a well lighther eye, she saw one that she recog- ly. Tossing off his rubber coat, he way they shall twist. Gradually one ed room, with pleasant teachers who nized-it was Cornwallis Cobb. The fixed his sharp little gray eyes on the gains the mastery, and the two com- know their needs. They are first lately?"

"I'll tell youse a yarn wot ain't wild borne, at Clayborne manor, Yorkshire. of it afterward. Dat goes, does it?" Slipping his palm under his legs round like a top. arranged between Mr. Cobb and Lady above the knees and swinging his thin > said: "Up by St. Patrick's cathedral's a room Cornwallis Cobb, on whose arm lady, an' 'er hubby is swell, too, an' Dom Pedro called the attention of the leaned a tall, pretty girl. Some one she calls him 'Bub,' 'cause I hears her. interpreter to the fact, told him to say nearby whispered it was Lady Marian Well, I wuz t' de house on Monday to the driver that he was the emperor For a moment her heart beat violent- ular, inwitin' de swell lady down t' d' that when the emperor drank all presly, and then Lady Leeland moved over Waldorf-Astoria t' set in de gallery at ent remove their hats. The message dog wuz in front er de range. De liteness I would remove my hat to the "Clever little thing-quite an air baby takes a piece er pape wot comes most humble peasant in his country, 'round de groceries, an' makes a lot o' but as a command I would not remove Katherine took elaborate care not to black scratches on de pape. Den she it for no damn man on earth. I am an look in their direction, and did not hear comes over ter me an' sez kinder soft emperor myself." his reply, but the patronizing tone of like: 'Baby give oo boofer pictur' dog- The interpreter told Dom Pedro in his the girl's voice filled her with indigna- gie.' Say," said Dockerty, excitedly, own language precisely what Jack had tion. The evening seemed terribly long "dern me if 'twasn't a purty good dog said, whereupon the emperor ordered drawn out, and Katherine thought it picture. Jes' den de baby's mudder another golden cup filled from the same would never end. She found herself she comes in an' sees de baby's black decanter and handed it to his interpresitting in a corner alone just after re- hands, an' den she looks at the char- ter, telling him to present it to the "othfreshments were served, when she coal dog. Den she makes a dive fur er emperor." Jack took it and Dom fightin', and if he licks me me father'll later.

ogling her not far away. That their "Well, dere wuz a arbitration over I have had the opportunity and pleasconversation was meant for her to hear dat piece o' pape. De swell lady w'is- ure of drinking with an emperor. Here she had not the least doubt, and her pered ter me, an' I t'anks de baby an' is to your health and long life." At this moment Sig. Maroni, the little wuz full er swell ladies, an' hangin' on Kansas City Star. Dockerty paused and looked at his newspaper friend, says the New York Tribune. Then he bluntly demanded: "Now, youse make good an' tell me England's Resident Aristocracy. It is curious how many members of the aristocracy and upper classes reside in the colonies and in America, says the London Express. Lord Charles Fitzger-"O, no," replied Katherine faintly, "I ald has for many years past made his beneath the Creek, in Victoria. The Earl of Seafield the shape of a gigantic Japanese crab, again. has resided for many years in New Zea-

Sir Norman Campbell, of Auchinbreck, resides in New Zealand, as do which inhabits the waters of the group "O, Katherine, let's run away from it also Sir Kenneth Mackenzie Douglas of islands forming the empire of Japan. all," he began with sudden eagerness. and Sir William Forbes, at Pitsligo. "But what, Wallis?" she asked soft and Sir William Brown, of Colstoun, resides in New South Wales.

Lord Fairfax makes his permanent has taken up his abode in Bulawayo, "Yes," she said, with a proud little Rhodesia. The Hon. Claud Anson, who Travelers in the celebrated Death lars that small whirlwinds sometimes send spinning across the hot plain. Even more remarkable are the "dust devils" seen by H. F. Witherby, the New Line of Torpedoes. The Portsmouth (England) torpedo school has devised a line of torpedoes to prevent submarine attacks.

OUT OF THE DEPTHS.

The illustration is a reproduction of a photograph of the first British submarine boat coming to the top of the water after its inaugural trip. The boat is natterned somewhat after the Holland submarine boat. For more than a year the British government has been experimenting secretly with submarine craft, having been stirred to this action by the access of the French submarine boats, Gustav Zede, Gymnote and Norwal and our own Holland boats. No one knows what the Admiralty has accomplished, but it is certain that soon the world's greatest pary will be greatly re-enforced by vessels of the new type,

HUMOR OF THE WEEK

Why a Freeborn Kentuckian Refused Just after the close of the civil war STORIES TOLD BY FUNNY MEN Emperor Dom Pedro of Brazil visited the United States. One of the places > of Human Nature Graphically Portrayed by Emineut Word Artists of Our Own Day-A Budget of Fun.

> you. Your wife merely has a small alcer on the end of her tongue. Enpeck-Say, doctor, is that a fact? Doctor-Certainly, sir! I hope you Enpeck-No, but your discovery that her tongue really had an end seems too played hearts to catch diamonds." good to be true.

Hung Up His Ulster. cave. The emperor's party consisted tion last evening?" asked the bud, as was to me! they met downtown. "No," replied the young man, "but I there? You knew-> was at three balls.' "Why, how delightful!" she exclaimed. "Where were they?" "At my uncle's," replied the youth, with a strenuous sigh.

Bravery Handicapped.

The Big One-Aw yer afraid to fight. The Scared One-I ain't afraid, but if may answer it with a refusal." I lick him me mudder'll whip me fer "Yes, sir," answered the key manipu-

Masculine View of It. Mrs. Wederly - What impossible things one sees in the newspapers! For cation. instance, here is an account of an angry woman who wept scalding tears. Wederly-What's impossible about course, an' den I wonders wot kinder drinking without clinking cups with Why, the idea of any one's weeping scalding tears!

Wederly-Oh, that's all right. In this case the woman was probably mar-

Mrs. Wederly-What would her marriage have to do with her weeping calding tears, I'd like to know? Wederly-Well, a married woman, you know, seems to think it is up to her to keep her husband in hot water

Her Ups and Downs. She-Doesn't Miss Snubbleigh's nosturn up awfully? He-Yes. But I understand her noes

Doing Their Best. Father-Now, remember, I have for-have turned several young men down

"No, papa; we'll try not to."-Life

Another Great Discovery, Gyer-A new brand of hay fever has fool it was ever his misfortune to meet. been discovered in Kansas. Myer-So? What made the discov

Gyer-A physician who was simulta-

"Hello, Pat! Have you seen Mike

"Yes, begorra! Of thought Of saw

"What a clumsy creature this nev "What's the trouble?" asked the

"In order to satisfy public senti-newspapers and read aloud editorials publishing the news of their execuand articles approved by the teachers; tion. He actually cut their heads off." -Washington Star.

almost the acme of philanthropic work | "Beware, sir, how you order me not in that line, and shows a far reaching to see your daughter again. I belong policy that should commend it to other to the Lovers' Union and one word from me will boycott her."-Life.

oil country.

a No. 8 hat, No. 12 shoe, and dresses after the most approved business fash- as there is a prospect of new discoverles."-Life. "I wouldn't marry the best man on earth," said the fair female, who had been up against a game of solitaire for mer. some forty odd summers. "Huh!" growled the old bachelor, "I

Born Diplomis. "John," exclaimed the indignant other half of the combination, "do you cases in Which the Camera Has Come see this blond halr on your coat just to the Aid of Justice.

see this blond hair on your coat just where one of the buttons is missing? that demanded an explanation.

the cat. "I put the hair where you found. A policeman familiar with the found it for the purpose of attracting artifices of the native criminals sug-Doctor-Nothing serious, I assure been missing for nearly a week."

> The View Masculine. passenger with the bargain-counter tie.

"all women are born gamblers." "That's right," observed the jewelry drummer. "I know of several who Ayres were receiving gems through the

A Useful Lesson.

"James! She was born a Valancey; fic was stopped, and a large sum was she goes everywhere. Besides, now I saved to the customs revenue. know how it is done."-Life.

More of Our Nobility.

reversed inheritance.

Hank Dubbs, the potato king, of York County, Pennsylvania, is prepar- on a foreign steamer in the harbor of ing for a trip to London. He expects Rto de Janeiro included a small yacht. a royal box at the coronation.-Balti- Two men, Grayson and Linares, bad more American.

A Preliminary. "Then those pugilists are going to his companion had fallen from the must "Yes; they've reached an amicable believed, and he was tried and senagreement."-Puck.

Save the Pennies. "Here's a begging letter," said Russell Sage to his stenographer. "You

"You will observe," continued the falling man. He reported his discovfinancier, "that there is a two-cent ery, and as soon as it had been offipostal card in answering the communi-

Proof Positive. flat-iron at your husband.

Teacher-William, and the square root of any number. William-I thought they found them all last term.-Exchange. Ping-Goff strikes me as being a remarkably good judge of human na-

Pong-Sure he is. Why, only yesterday he told me you were the biggest

Willing to Work. "Lady," said Meandering Mike, "I'm willin' to work fur me dinner." "You are?"

"Yes'm. Dat dog o' yours has nipped me two or three times a season reg'lar fur the last three years. I'm ready fur revenge, an' I want to make ing their natural diet of leaves, which dat'll harrow his feelin's; somet'ing dat would humiliate me furever if I was him. Lady, if you'll gimme a bar o' soap an' a pan o' water I'll wash de the hay on the floor of their paddock log."-Washington Star.

Felt It. asked the victim of a subway explo-

"Oh, about a minute, Why?" New York!"-Life.

A Horrible Suspicion. Blowitt-A man in North Carolina recently bought a farm for $90 and sold one walnut tree on it for $700. Wisewell-There is one thing about that story I really admire. Blowitt-What's that?

The Length the Thing. "Do you believe in the efficacy of prayer?"

Wisewell-The tree, at least, wasn't a chestnut.—Chicago News.

"Well, I believe that if you pray for pasture, where it was overtaken by the rain it's bound to come, if you pray heavy fall of snow and imbedded in it. long enough."-Phfladelphia Record.

Accounted For. Gladys-Why is it that ministers isually marry so young? Harold-Oh! That's the only game of chance they're allowed to play!-Puck.

When a glacier dislodges itself and salls away over the Arctic Ocean, it never travels alone. In the wake of every large one floats a line of smaller companions. The Eskimos call this phenomenon "the duck and ducklings," schools are these instructions for the and any one who has watched the pro- fire drill of the pupils; gress of the eider duck followed by her brood will appreciate the aptitude of the name. Strange as it may seem. The Daddy-Let me give you a bit plants grow and blossom upon these of the Cherokee Nation, measures 6 of advice, my dear. To a man the great ice mountains. When a glacier feet 6 inches in his stockings and heart of the woman he loves is like an is at rest moss attaches itself to it, protecting the ice beneath it, just as saw-The Daughter-How can that be, pa? dust does. After a time the moss de-"The interest is intense only so long cays and forms a soil, in which the and hats of the children.-New York seeds of buttercups and dandellons, brought by the wind, take root and flourish. Those who have traveled in Arctic lands say they have found no point yet where the poppy does not great majority of mosquitoes never bloom during the brief northern sum- taste either human blood or that of Wire Fences Cause Accidents. eighteen years, has cost over $400,000 see no reason why you should have Accidents due to the increasing use matter, found in the localities where What has become of the old-fashion permitted that remark to escape. I of wire fences have done much to they are most numerous, and thus pered woman who were a long gold chain didn't ask you to make my life a bur-cause a decline in the popularity of form a valuable service as nature's around her neck?

DETECTIVE PHOTOGRAPHY.

Photography is every year proving "Yes, my dear," meekly replied John. Its usefulness as a friend of justice "Well, sir?" she queried, in a tone and enemy of crime. A writer in Tit-Bits describes a case of diamond theft "Oh, it's all right," answered the n Calcutta, in which no evidence head of the house, as he winked at against the arrested person could be your attention to the button which has gested that an X-ray photograph be taken of the man's throat. The test revealed the hidden diamond. By a trick which Hindu jewel thieves learn "I tell you, sir," said the sad-eyed after severe practice, the fellow had

"side-swallowed" the stone. A little more than a year ago some evidence that smugglers in Buenos mails put the authorities on the watch. Postal matter in transit could not be Mrs. Pusher-Thank heaven, that legally opened, but on suspicion sixty-"Were you at Mrs. DeStyles' recep- visit is over. How rude the woman six registered letters and parcels were examined by the X-ray, and found to Mr. Pusher-But what took you contain twenty thousand dollars' worth o. precious stones. The dishonest traf-

A person taking long-distance views from one of the upper windows of a tall building in Rochester, N. Y., Mrs. Hy Drillem, wife of the wellknown oil magnate, will attend the ket-wagon with a man behind in the coronation, ranking as an oil Baroness. act of lifting a tub of butter from the Mr. Richasmudd, who purchased a load. The thief got away with his Count for his daughter last year, has booty unnoticed by the driver or any demanded a front seat at the corona- one on the street, but the photograph, tion, claiming the rank of a Count by when sufficiently enlarged, identified and convicted him.

A marine view taken by a passenger gone out in the yacht that morning. Only Grayson returned alive. He said and been killed; but his story was not tenced as a murderer. The trial had been pretty fully reported in the papers, and one day it occurred to the photographer to apply a powerful glass to his picture, in order to discover the character of a small dark mark on the sail. Under the magnifier the spot on the sail proved to be the figure of a stamp attached for reply; so use a cially verified Grayson was released.

A similar timely discovery was made after the village tragedy known as "The Cooper Murder," in Laucashire, The Judge-According to the evi- England. Cooper, apprentice to Mcdence, Mrs. O'Hoolihan, you threw a Kenna, a blacksmith, was found dead on the floor of the latter's shop, and Mrs. O'Hoolihan-Yis, you honor; an' the coroner's jury brought in a verdict accardin' t' his face Oi hit him, b'gory. of suicide. An amateur photographer who had been through the village taking "snap-shots" on the day of Cooper's death, developed his films, and one of them showed the smithy with a partial view of the interior through the open door, revealing evidence which caused McKenna's arrest-and his final confession of the murder.

Complaints are heard against the camera as a nuisance, and undoubtedly the owners sometimes abuse their privilege, but cases multiply in which its use is beneficent, and even its accidental work proves valuable.

Dogs are to be used as river police on the Seine in Paris. Twenty Newfoundlands, warranted to save the apparently drowning, are allotted to as many gendarmes, and it is hoped that in consequence the rate of suicide will decrease in the French capital.

Giraffes in zoological gardens seem to be aware of their pecuniary value somet'ing disagree'ble, somet'ing they strip from the trees with their long, black prehensile tongues, they eat only the finest clover hay. Moreover, they are lazy, wasteful brutes, spilling and rarely troubling to recover it. For this reluctance, however, their prover-"How long was I up in the air?" bial fastidiousness may be partly responsible. Only an occasional onlon, apple or lump of sugar pleases them apart from their hay and there is even "What a long time to be away from a belief that, fond as a giraffe is of a whole apple, nothing will induce it to eat one from which its keeper first takes a bite.

An instance of the possibility of living under a snowdrift is recorded during severe storms in England. On Dec. 9 a large flock of sheep belonging to a cattle dealer of Garsdale were out on the open moor. The shepherds with their dogs collected the sheep and drove them to a more sheltered locality. dreading a threatening storm which soon followed: One sheep, however, escaped and made its way back to the There it remained until the snow melted, when the shepherds were astontshed to find it alive and well. It had stayed under the snow for twenty-two days. On its release it was found perfectly able to walk home, a distance of a mile and a half. It is curious to note that this same animal had undergone a similar burial in November, when it was "snowed up" for ten days.

No Sensation Intended. Among the printed and posted regulations of one of the New York public

"Fire drill-(A) 3 Bells-To the sidewalk and return, with clothing. "(B) 4 Bells-To the yard and return, without clothing." As a matter of fact, this performance is not as sensational as this principal's ambiguity might suggest, for the clothing referred to is only the outer wraps Mall and Express.

Defense of Mosquitoes.

A defender of the mosquito says the any animal, not having the opportunity. They live upon vegetable juices and decomposing animal and vegetable

OF THE PRESS.

he visited was the Mammoth Cave in Kentucky. On his arrival at Cave City. Odd, Curious and Laughable Phases the nearest point on a railroad to the cave, he stopped, with his suite, at the village hotel and sent his interpreter to get a conveyance to take the party to the cave. The interpreter found all the public conveyances had already gone to the cave. The landlord told him the only suitable private conveyance in the village belonged to Jack Thompson, who was not in the habit don't think I would misrepresent the of driving his Kentucky horses and his one canopy-topped, three-scated rig except for his own family. However, a f six persons. After a pleasant ride of six miles the party arrived at a grove of maple trees. where they stepped and alighted for refreshments, of which a bountiful supply had been brought. One of the party filled a golden cup with fine spirits and handed it to Dom Pedro. Upthe emperor's taking the cup the party all removed their hats-all except Jack. wid a message, wich fuz werry pertic- of Brazil and that it was the custom was conveyed, the interpreter adding: catchy little coon song, and when she "I wuz down in de basemen' an' dere "You will please remove your hat." finished it was greeted with well-bred wuz de kid, wich has de run er de Jack, holding his lines in one hand, applause. Lady Marian had come so house. Well, de baby wuz on de floor straightened up and replied: "Sir, say near that she could hear her remark to wid a piece er charcoal an' de house to your emperor that as an act of po-

price was named that suited Jack and the party was soon under way to the

WAS AN EMPEROR HIMSELF.

to Uncover Before Dom Pedro

"This is the first time in my life that goes out into de westibule. De lady During the rest of the visit, which "She looks a jolly sort," said one. "I follies me out 'n' wot yer t'ink? She was three days at the cave, Dom Pedro have half a mind to ask her out in the says: 'You dear boy, here's $5 fur dat and Jack and the interpreter were the conservatory. Those Americans do piece o' paper.' I takes der money, o' best of friends, the emperor never "Aw, quite so," assented the other. gol' mine I'll run into nex'. Well, I Jack. Dom Pedro paid all bills, and at "Go and ask her and I'll join you goes t' dat same place to-day, an' de parting with Jack Thompson shook same lady takes me in de parlor wot both his hands, many, many times .-

WORLD'S LARGEST CRAB.

In the American Museum of Natural bidden you to go out with young Tomresides at Fernica Villa, Riddell's History is a wonder of marine life in kins; don't let me catch you together measuring twelve feet, making it the largest crustacean in the world. The specimen is a type of the spider crab.

The size of the crab is strikingly Sir Alexander Cockburn-Campbell, of shown in comparison with the ordinary Gartsford, lives in western Australia, sized type shown in the center, together with the outstretched arms of the neously engaged to five grass widows. man holding the frame. The body portion is the size of a half bushel meashome in New York, and Lord Ffrench | ure, while its two great arms, containing saw-like teeth called "pinchers," could easily encircle the figure of a gesture, laying her hand on his sleeve. married Lady Susan Beresford, has a man. Its eight arms, or legs, resemble "I know I said it once, but that was ranch in Texas, as has also his brother, huge bamboo poles and are extremely elastic, and if strung into one line they would reach to the top of a four-story apartment building.

One of the extraordinary peculiarities Valley of California have described the of this crab is the faculty of assuming wonderful contortions of the sand pil- a disguise by affixing pieces of seaweed and sponges to the body.

Far Reaching Policy.

One of the New York department was just in from a dash through the English explorer, in the valley of the stores has recently opened under its ested her and beguiled the time, for rain recently, when he was hailed by White Nile. Sometimes two of these own roof a school for its cash girls, thus whirling columns, gyrating in oppo- giving them a chance to obtain a fair site directions, meet, "and if they be education while earning their needed "Well, dey ain't much doin'," said well matched the collision stops them pittance. The girls have desks, blackbined begin to gyrate alike and then taught the essentials, and when suffirush on together." Some of these ciently advanced in these are then aid- him across the street t'other day, and ing entertained by Lady Henry Clay- er woolly, if youse'll tell me de name whirls will strip the clothes from an ed to develop any individual bent or he thought he saw me, but when we Arab's back, or twist a goat round and real ability. Classes in dressmaking are got up to one another, bedad, it was formed and each girl is carefully neither of us?" trained to appreciate and secure tidiness in dress and general appearance It is said that a great majority take much interest in their studies, and the "What's the trouble?" asked to fact that they are so much together and court official. Many a man who is capable of giv- have so much in common would nat-Clayborne was evidently not averse to but he wuz took wid spiner mengectus. ing good advice isn't capable of earn- urally lead to this result. Another fea- ment, I ordered the decapitation of ture of the plan deserving special com- two of my favorite attendants." mendation is the weekly social gathering where attention is paid to the study out?" of good conversation. The girls bring "Of course. He wasn't content with and they receive instruction in good manners and the restrictions of social codes. The whole scheme would seem

> This Governor Is a Skyscraper. Gen. T. M. Buffington, the governor weighs 275 pounds, and is not overburdened with superfluous flesh. He wears stores.

Peterborough Cathedral. The restoration of Peterborough cahedral, which has been in progress for

on. His one-eighth Cherokee bloo.

gives him the ruddy appearance characteristic of the race of which he is so