AL WHITE SUICIDES.

In a Demented Condition He Shoots Himself at Goshen.

HAD TROUBLE WITH HIS WIFE.

Daily Guard June 25. This morning Coroner G W Griffin received a telephone message from Goshen informing him that Al White, a saloon-keeper of Cottage Grove, had committed suicide at the former named place some time last night by shooting himself through the head. Mr Griffin left here at 10 o'clock for Goshen for the purpose of holding an inquest over the remains this afternoon. White's body was found early this morning by a man by the name of Lutman on the side of the hill back of A L Ronney's residence and near where the county rock crusher is at work. It was not known who the dead man was for awhile, but it soon became known that it was Al White who had been staying with his friend, Bert Nunn, at Goshen since Monday night. White, who was a partner with Lee Miner in the ownership of the Bohemia saloon at Cottage Grove, was married on May 7th at the Hotel Eugene to Miss Etta Spong, a young lady of Cottage Grove. Since their marriage it seems that they have had trouble, and his wife has been at Goshen for some time. During the last few days White has seemed to be mentally unbalanced, his mind being affected from the trouble with his wife and probably from hard drinking. He was in Eugene Monday and seemed to be depressed at that time, and told several friends of his troubles. He went to Goshen Monday night and staid at the home of Bert Nunn formerly city marshal of Cottage Grove. Mr Nunn says that last night White would not sleep in the house, but asked for some blankets and took them out to the hill where he was found dead this morning with a bullet-hole through his head, having shot himself with a revolver, the bullet entering the right temple. Indications pointed to the belief that he killed himself about daylight this morning.

THE CORONER'S INQUEST. Coroner Griffin returned to Eugene late this afternoon. After examining several witnesses the jury empaneled rendered the following verdict: GOSHEN, Or. June 25, 1902. We, the coroner's jury empaneled in the case of A M White, deceased, of Cottage Grove, Oregon, who was found dead on the south hillside in V B Matthews' pasture at Goshen, Oregon, on the morning of June 25, 1902, after viewing the remains and listening to the testimony adduced in the case, find that the deceased came to his death by a pistol shot fired into his own head by his own hand some time during the night of June 24, 1902. V B MATTHEWS, Foreman. A L RONEY, C M DORRY, W R DILLARD, W H EDMONS, J M BERKSHIRE.

Died. Mrs Hester A Gearhart, wife of James M Gearhart died at her home one and one-half miles west of Eugene, Thursday June 12, after an illness of three years from organic heart disease. The funeral was held to the Mulkey cemetery June 13, a large number of friends paying their last sad respects. Rev J S McCallum officiated at the grave.

Hester A daughter of J B and Julia A McPherson was born in Missouri May 15, 1859. Came to Oregon in 1892 and had resided almost continuously in Lane county. Was married to James M Gearhart May 19, 1885. Five children were born to them four dying in infancy. She was a sister of L F McPherson.

WEDDINGS AT NAIRON.

Special to the Guard. NAIRON, June 24.—It will be many moons ere a happier event will occur within the borders of Lane county than the marriage of B F Keeney to Miss Charity A, daughter of Mr and Mrs M B Tallafero, at their home at Nairon, this county, Sunday, June 22, 1902.

At the appointed hour Mrs James Tallafero began the wedding march and A J Osman and Miss Minnie Edwards entered the parlor as best man and bridesmaid, and were followed by the groom and bride who took a position beneath a prettily arranged floral arch whereupon the Rev G N Wall, pastor of the C P church of Eugene, immediately began the impressive ceremony that made them man and wife.

Heartfelt congratulations were extended after which the groom and bride, followed by the guests repaired to the dining-room where a bountiful spread of richest viands awaited them, and was served by Miss Belle Keeney and Ollie Smith.

The parlor and dining room were handsomely decorated with flowers and evergreens. The bride in a gown of beautiful cream silk poplin over pink silk with yoke and cuffs of chiffon presented a most charming appearance. The bridesmaid wore a pretty dress of cream.

Mr Keeney has been a deputy assessor for the past eight years, and resides on a small farm near Goshen, where he enjoys the confidence of all and has been honored with positions of trust many times by his neighbors, occupying a position of prominence in the local, lodge and political circles of the locality.

The bride, Miss "Dollie," as she was familiarly known, is a most popular young lady and commands the respect, admiration and love of all those with whom she associates. Many beautiful and valuable presents and letters of congratulations were received, and as the happy couple drove away toward their future home they were showered with rice by those whose hearts were like their own, gladdened by the occasion.
