They take possession of the body, and are attended by pimples, boils, itching, redness, and other cutaneous eruptions; by feelings of weakness, nervous depression, and what not. They cause more suffering than anything else.

A Story of the Prairie.

The Century magazine is about to print a serial which will have an especial interest to people who are at home on the prairie. It is called "The Biography of a Prairie Girl," and the author is Eleanor Gates, a young woman who spent her childhood in Dakota and who thus writes from the closest personal observation.

The time of Miss Gates' story is about 25 years ago; it is put in the form of a personal narrative of the life of a little girl, and there is hardly a phase or event of prairie life which is not touched upon in these pages—the wild, breaking colts, horse stealing by Indians, school days on the frontier, fighting gophers and badgers, cattle raising and other typical phases of hardship or prosperity.

It is not a novel, but the same characters appear and reappear in the story with a reality which impresses the reader with confidence in the truth of the narrative.

"The Biography of a Prairie Girl" will begin in the August number of the Century and it will be illustrated.

DANGER IN CHEAP PERFUMES.

They Are Said to Have a Bad Effect on the Nostrils.

According to a local perfumery dealer, cheap perfumes are gradually deadening the nostrils of those who come in contact with them, says the Chicago Inter Ocean.

"The perfumes that were popular a few years ago you wouldn't notice now," he said. "Before long they will have to make violets and roses as strong as onions or pennyroyal before you can smell them."

Making due allowance for the hyperbole of an older generation, there may be something in this theory.

Violet is by all odds the most popular perfume of this year. "Clover," according to some, would stand second. Rose, of course, is perennially popular. "Clover," by the way, is not made from clover blossoms at all. The ordinary white and red clover has very little odor, and what it has would not be particularly agreeable if detached from a landscape and a waving field. So the perfumery makes a combination of essence resembling remotely the scene of the tall "sweet clover," and calls it "clover."

The orange gives four different perfumes, obtained from different parts of the flower and plant. Each of the four has been imitated synthetically, making eight in all. The odors of blue and the carnation have also been produced with some success by chemical means. Ten years ago the idea of imitating the strange and penetrating odor of musk was laughed at, yet now the artificial musk is a regular article of commerce.

Sachet powders are again waning in popularity. After their extraordinary vogue about fifteen years ago they were almost forgotten, and a second revival in the demand for them three years ago has now passed.

A novelty from Paris this year is intended to take the place of the old sachet bag. It goes by the name of "amulet," and consists of a little filigree box of metal containing a compressed scented tablet. These are made in a variety of floral odors, and can be carried in a watch chain or chainette, carried in the pocket, or laid in a closet or bureau drawer.

NERVOUS PROSTRATION

CURED BY PE-RU-NA.

Hal P. Denton.

Mr. Hal P. Denton, Chief Department of Publicity and Promotion of National Export Exposition, writes:

Philadelphia, Dec. 20, 1899.

The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O. Gentlemen:—"Toward the latter part of August I found myself in a very much run-down condition. I suffered particularly from catarrh of the stomach, aggravated no doubt by the responsibilities and worry incident to the preparation of a great international exposition. What I ate distressed me and I would lie awake at night 'treshing over,' if I may use that expression, the affairs of the previous day.

"My family physician said I had nervous prostration and recommended a sea voyage. I gradually grew worse. A kind friend whom I had known in Ohio recommended Peruna. Though skeptical, I finally yielded to his advice. After using one bottle I was much improved and with the fifth bottle came complete recovery. I am in perfect health today and owe everything to Peruna."

Very truly yours,
HAL P. DENTON.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice free.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

PREMONITIONS OF DEATH

Premonitions of death are often scouted at, said a well-known Washington newspaper man, "but there are occasionally authentic instances of things which raise doubts as to whether there may not be, after all, some sort of indefinable spiritual phenomena in the incidents."

"It may be recalled that a well-known chief of division in one of the departments, in apparent perfect health on the last day he appeared at the office, died recently of apoplexy on that evening in question, shortly before he retired, a large dog in his household set up such a prolonged and dismal howling in his yard that he went out with a revolver, under the supposition that about midnight he would be prowling about, although the dog howled and did not bark. The dog refused to stop howling upon the appearance of his master, and followed him in the house, whining and showing evidences of distress, looking up into the official's face in such a peculiar manner that the members of the family at the time thought it exceedingly strange. The dog continued to follow his master about the house, acting strangely in the manner I have described. On the following morning the official was found dead in his room."

"The above incident is a curious fact, as is also the following, and while not of startling ghostly interest, is also local to Washington, the parties being members of my own family.

"Some time ago my wife's mother started on a journey to California. Several days after her departure an elderly colored woman, who had been a slave in her family, having been raised with my wife's mother, called at the house. As in similar instances in the South, there had been a warm attachment existing between former mistress and slave, which had continued through life. She declared she had been 'warned' that my wife's mother had died at an early hour on that morning on the train. When asked to that effect she replied that she had not, but that at the hour in question she had been awakened by the ringing of the front door bell. In responding to the call she had found no one on the steps in each instance, the bell having been pulled three successive times. Her house, by the way, was on a down town street, and was recently razed to make room for a business structure.

"At about 10 o'clock on the morning of the day when the former slave had communicated the intelligence of my wife's mother's death, we received a telegram from the officials of the railroad, dated from a far Western State, announcing her sudden death at about one hour when the colored companion of her early childhood had heard the pulls at the bell. Had the bell been rung during the ordinary hours of the day we would have attached no importance to the former slave's positive assertion of a spiritual visitation from the deceased lady, but as it was at about 3 o'clock in the morning the incident has ever been one of more than usual interest to our family. If the pulls at the bell were not supernatural, they were assuredly a strange coincidence."—Washington Star.

Almost Universally Used.

The tomato has a curious history. After the revolution of San Domingo, many French families came from there to Philadelphia, where they introduced their favorite pomme d' amour. Although introduced as early as 1593 from South America into England, it was looked upon with suspicion, and its specific name, "Ly-copersicon," derived from lykos, "wolf," and persikon, "peachy," referring to the beautiful but deceptive appearance of its fruit, intimates pretty clearly the kind of estimation in which it was held. It is now, however, all but universally used.

Happy Homes of Poo.

Some of the happiest and most ideal homes where peace, contentment and harmony dwell have been the abodes of poor people. No rich carpets covered the floors, no costly paintings were on the walls, and there were no pianos, no works of art; but there were contented minds and unselfish and devoted lives. Each member of the family contributed as much as possible to the happiness of all, endeavoring to compensate by kindness and intelligence for the poverty of their surroundings.

To Repeal Woman Suffrage.

Colorado politicians are quietly maturing plans to repeal the constitutional amendment relating to equal suffrage, and at the next session of the Legislature will introduce a bill to that effect. The movement will have backing in both parties and will undoubtedly pass if put to a vote of the people.

QUEER STORIES

A Lynn firm recently made a shoe in thirteen minutes.

The oldest general in the French Army has died, at the age of 95.

It is said that a full-grown bear can draw twenty times its own weight. It can fly about five miles an hour, and it will seek its food at a distance of four miles.

Of the thirty-eight Sultans who have ruled the Ottoman Empire since the conquest of Constantinople by the Turks, thirty-four have died violent deaths.

Scott is said to have written "Waverley" in less than six weeks. He wrote very rapidly, seldom revised, and as a consequence his novels are full of blunders, inaccuracies and anachronisms.

Burns committed his poems to memory as he composed them, and when he sat down to write he had before him no labor of composition, but only the task of writing down what he had already finished.

Milan has a curiosity in a clock which is made entirely of bread. The maker is a native of India and has devoted three years of his life to the construction of this curiosity. The clock is of good size and goes well.

The Siamese have an instrument which they call the ranat, a species of harmonicon, with seventeen different wooden keys, united by cords and resting upon a stand, each strip of wood giving a different note. The instrument is played with two wooden hammers.

A French explorer has discovered on the west coast of Africa what he regards as the richest mine on earth. They are the Pahouins, a warlike tribe. Their main employment is personal adornment, chiefly by means of tattooing. Great ingenuity is also exhibited in dressing the hair, which is arranged in astonishingly elaborate fashion.

HAIR SPLITS

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for thirty years. It is elegant for a hair dressing and for keeping the hair from splitting at the ends."—J. A. Gruenfelder, Grantford, Ill.

Hair-splitting splits friendships. If the hair-splitting is done on your own head, it loses friends for you, for every hair of your head is a friend.

Ayer's Hair Vigor in advance will prevent the splitting. If the splitting has begun, it will stop it.

50c a bottle. All druggists.

If your druggist cannot supply you, send us one dollar and we will express you a bottle. Be sure and give the name of your nearest express office. Address: J. C. AYER CO., Lowell, Mass.
