WHO OWNS KUYKENDALL?

The big mill corporations are making a very strenuous effort just now to get possession of the logging streams of the state. And, of course, possession means control to a greater or less extent of the price of every acre of timber land. How do the Lane county senators stand on the measure? Of course no one may particularly censure Senator Booth. He is working for the interests of self. But how about Dr Kuykendall? The Portland Journal's Salem report of yesterday says:

There are but five members of the Senate who will declare themselves in favor of House Bill 197, to give a few timbermen exclusive franchises on the Oregon rivers. They are: Booth, Kuykendall, Mulkey, Sweek and Fulton.

* * *

Here is how the Journal reported the Lane County Senator:

Kuykendall—I made a campaign on that bill. My people want it and of course I shall support it. It is a good thing.

* * *

It may be a "good thing" for Senator Kuykendall but not for the owners of Lane County timber lands, apart from the Booth-Kelly Company. There is no confessional in the Methodist Church. If there were Senator Kuykendall's first duty on returning home would be to make some atonement for lying.

It is a monumental lie! It is a bad word but nothing else fits the case. The people of Lane county do not want it. Senator Kuykendall has immensely lowered himself in the estimation of many friends who credited him with being an honest man. It is shameful!

An instance of the immense possibilities of this sought-for legislative graft: Eugene people mostly own about twenty sections of fine timber land on Quartz Creek, a tributary of the McKenzie River forty miles east of Eugene. On a very conservative estimate it will go 32,000,000 feet to the section, 640,000,000 feet in all. Now figure. Allowing $20,000 for improving the creek, at 75 cents a thousand the holder of the franchise would clear $460,000 off his privilege!

And this off less than five miles square! Great possibilities in this "logging stream" bill, all over the country considered. Not only millions, but many millions.

Secretary Moody thinks the reception room of his office in the Navy Department should be made more commemorative of naval history. In the library at Annapolis there is the largest collection of captured British flags in the world. It has been suggested that some of these be taken to Washington.

With the delightful day in Eugene yesterday just think of what Chicago on about the same line of parallel suffered with seven inches of snow, the thermometer six degrees above zero and a forty-mile an hour zephyr to drive the cold through everything living that could not find shelter. And man or animal would not live long exposed to the fury of such a wind.

An outcry having been made about a Philadelphia firm taking a contract to supply Corea with idols, wooden and metal ones, Bishop Foss of the Methodist Church says he does not think it so bad as sending them opium and whiskey. Of course not, but this is a commercial age and if there is a demand abroad for opium, whiskey or wooden goods they will be supplied.

The Portland Telegram publishes the pictures of the two young girls 15 and 16 years of age, who eloped with father and son—23 and 58 years of age, last Wednesday. If pictures show anything the old man not only got the youngest girl but the best looker by odds. And why not? He had the experience of years, besides the filial son could not but give the old man choice.

It don't always pay to be large. A H Simonton of Alabama, a former army surgeon with a good record, is petitioning the Navy Department for a second hearing upon his application to become an acting assistant surgeon in the Navy. He was turned down by a medical board because he was too big to get through hatches and could only navigate with difficulty the corridors and staterooms of the average warship. He weighs more than 300 pounds.

FATHER AND SON MARRIED TOGETHER—FATHER GOT YOUNGEST GIRL.

The Oregonian is responsible for this:

A double wedding of no usual sort was performed by Justice Reid Thursday afternoon. W. C Walker, aged 58 years, and his son, Henry Walker, aged 22, were both married at the same time and the father got the youngest girl. Martha C. Simmons, aged 18 years, will hereafter be the mother-in-law of Mary Payne, aged 19 years, whose name will also be changed to Walker.

"There surely must be a mistake," thought Justice Reed, as he was about to perform the ceremony. He was ushered into the room and introduced to Mr Walker and his two sons.

"Very nice," said the Judge, "that you can attend the marriage of both your boys at once." The old man certainly looked pleased and the Judge supposed he was thinking of the fine match of his boys

"Stand up together," said Justice Reid, "and we will perform both the ceremonies at once," and to his great surprise the old man took his place beside the youngest girl, looking even more pleased than ever.

"What, you going to get married?" said he, thinking the old man was surely trying to play some trick. He was assured that it was all right, however, and performed the ceremony which makes family relations such as are read about, when the son is older than his mother, and some one else has a grandmother who is the youngest one in the family.

SHE WAS SATISFIED.

Her Mamma—Daughter, I am surprised that you would suffer a man to kiss you.

Her Daughter—But, mamma, it was not suffering!

HER MARRIAGE PAID.

Maude—So she married and did well?

Annie—Yes. She gets $25 a week now.

Maude—Pin money?

Annie—No; alimony.

Blanche Boise got boisterous back at Topeka, Kansas, Saturday and did some business smashing plate glass in saloon and drug store windows.

The government does not propose that letter carriers shall be subjected to temptation. An order has been made that any carrier found borrowing money at an exorbitant rate of interest shall be dismissed from the service.

It might be well for parties who have made a practice of tying up branded sawlogs and cutting them for wood, to remember that this is a crime which may be punished under the law. Lane county has just had a terrible example of what may result from wrongfully taking property.

A new scheme is to have the state printer elected by the legislature, a resolution having been passed providing for the submission of an amendment to the vote of the people. It will undoubtedly fail. The people are the proper ones to name all the state officials, and if it comes to a vote it will be gloriously defeated. The resolution is in keeping with the charactor of the present legislature, says the Albany Democrat.

Mr H Haggins, of Melbourne, Fla., writes, "My doctor told me I had consumption and nothing could be done for me. I was given up to die. The offer of a free trial bottle of Dr King's New Discovery for Consumption, induced me to try it. Results were startling. I am now on the road to recovery and owe all to Dr King's New Discovery. It surely saved my life." This great cure is guaranteed for all throat and lung diseases by W L DeLano, druggist. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

SAYS SHE WOULD NOT COOK FOR HIM

Yesterday afternoon Chas F Mitchell, of Eugene, by his attorney, J C Johnson, of Cottage Grove, commenced suit in the Lane county circuit court against his wife, Lucy E Mitchell, for divorce, by filing the necessary papers with the county clerk.

Mitchell alleges that he and his wife were married in Salem May 2, 1885; that Mrs Mitchell has continued in the last four months to make his life burdensome by heaping insults and abuses upon him, calling him vile names and insulting him by alluding to his relatives in unfriendly terms. He says that his wife refuses to cook his meals, though he furnishes plenty for that purpose, and that he is compelled to prepare his own meals. Mitchell alleges that there is no excuse for said action on the part of his wife.

A Tough City.

Chas Croner, who has just returned from Seattle, says that city is the toughest place at present that he ever saw. The sheriff of King county has 146 prisoners jailed at present, ten of them being for murder. A murder was committed the night Charles spent there, but he said he didn't do it.

The reason of this is because the city is overrun with broken gamblers, pimps and lewd women who cannot get away from Seattle because they have no money and they cannot do business because of the strict enforcement of the law. The result is almost absolute lawlessness.

CURSES AND CALLS HER VILE NAMES

Papers in suits for divorce are coming into County Clerk E U Lee's office thick and fast. The latest, in which Mary C Eby, of Cottage Grove, sues F G Eby for a legal separation, were filed this morning. Mrs Eby in her complaint alleges as follows:

That they were married in Lane county Oct 11, 1884; that Eby is possessed of a violent and ungovernable disposition, and that during the past two years has grown much worse; that he has for the past year heaped upon her insults and personal indignities by cursing and swearing at her and calling her vile names in the presence of company; that he has accused her of being unchaste, which she states is false; that her health has been greatly impaired by reason of said treatment.

J S Medley, of Cottage Grove, is the plaintiff's attorney.

Goodpasture vs Stewart.

Roseburg Review, Saturday: The jury in the case of Thos. Goodpasture vs Mrs Amanda Stewart, suit to recover possession of a team of horses, buggy, harness and rug, heard for the third time in Justice J A Buchanan's court, brought in two verdicts this afternoon, the first one being as follows: To give plaintiff possession of property sued for, but same would be subject to a lien of $110 loaned to him by the defendant. As the court held that a lien could not be created in a justice court, the verdict was accordingly returned to the jury with instructions to that effect. The jury then brought in a second and final verdict giving the plaintiff right to take possession of the property upon paymant of $110 to Mrs Stewart, who holds said property as security for her loan. The case may be appealed.

"THE POETRY OF THE ORANGE."

It appeals to you when the fruit hangs ripe anq sweet late in February, or early in March. Then the blossoms break out, and the trees are yellow with golden globes, and white with orange flowers. It may be that a flurry of snow has whitened the mountain tops, and then you have an artistic background for a tropical forest. The air is full of sunshine, and heavy with fragrance as night comes on, and then if the moon be shining, you may hear at midnight through open windows the song of the mocking bird in the scented grove, and it never seemed so melodious before.

An experience like this is possible any winter, and it is worth a journey of a thousand miles, while you can have it by taking the scenic Shasta route through the grand and picturesque Siskiyou and Shasta mountains to Southern California. Complete information about the trip, and descriptive matter, telling about California, may be had from any Southenr Pacific agent or
