A FACTIONAL WAR ON HAND

Republican Convention Will See Much Strife.

W. I. Vawter Has Already Engaged Rooms in Eugene-- Big Time at Republican Convention.

John E. Lathrop, of the Portland Journal, who is now in Eugene, writes to his paper as follows:

Eugene, Oregon, March 16. Eugene is the storm center of the first congressional fight. The republican convention meets here on April 19. The line-up is the Fulton-Booth-Kaykendall people, who are out for Binger Hermann and have the entire field against them. The candidacy of A. C. Woodcock, the lawyer, has been part of the plan of the Hermann-Fulton fight. Woodcock has the support of the anti-Fulton element.

W. I. Vawter, of Medford, is a republican candidate for congress and has engaged quarters at the Smeede Hotel. It is said that Vawter represents the anti-Fulton element and will be opposed by the supporters of Senator E. V. Carter.

Here, as everywhere, the recent course of the democratic members of the legislature and the record made by Governor Chamberlain, has built up the democratic party. The Mays law, honored by the democrats and dishonored by the republican authors, has been a boomerang which would cause an Australian bushman to turn green with envy.

The coming of Vawter indicates a factional fight since he is so strongly opposed by Carter, who will be the Hermann general in Jackson county. This is the view taken by some of the big politicians. There has been an intimation that the embarrassing home candidate plea might compel the Carter-Fulton people to avoid a hot fight in Jackson county. Yet the Fulton-Carter-Hermann clique, when faced by this local candidate proposition in Lane and several other counties, will endeavor to send Hermann delegates to the Eugene convention.

BROWNELL'S CANDIDACY.

"George C. Brownell as United States District Attorney, will mean almost 1,000 votes in the first district in favor of the democrats," said E. R. Skipworth of Eugene, democratic state central committeeman for Lane county. "It looks like he would secure the appointment," continued Mr. Skipworth, "but if he does the democrats will have placed in their hands the most powerful weapon with which to belabor the opposition. All in all, the democrats are in a very advantageous position. If Brownell is not appointed certain factions in the other party will be disappointed that the Fulton machine does not reward the faithful."

SPRINGFIELD ITEMS.

(The News, March 13.) A large drive of logs due to arrive yesterday and today are coming in rapidly. This means that the Springfield mill will gradually increase its present capacity.

M. M. Peery, the druggist, who came to Springfield a few weeks ago has been suffering with pneumonia. We are glad to state, however, that he is now recovering, and it will not be long until he will be well again.

James Clark, B. A. Washburne and Henry Stewart left last night for Joseph, Oregon, in the northeastern part of the state, to be gone about two weeks. They are going to look at some land. They stated, however, that they were going to herd sheep.

The Fischer Mercantile Company, of this city, last week sold their merchandise business to N. Bachand and J. Boutin, of Bayfield, Wisconsin. Mr. Bachand is here in charge and expects his partner to arrive in about a month. They are experienced in the business and think Springfield a good point. While the Fischer Mercantile Company expect to devote their time to the Marcola sawmill, they will have their headquarters at Springfield.

Hops Sold.

Frank Page, agent for Faber & Neils, has bought of Geo. A. Dorris 70 bales of hops. Terms private. There are only a few lots of hops left in the growers' hands.

TO PARDON JOHN GATES

Governor Chamberlain has received a petition for the pardon of John H. Gates, who is serving a three-year sentence in the penitentiary from this county, upon conviction of forgery. Gates, it will be remembered, was tried and convicted here, in May, 1901, for forging Hon. H. W. Corbett's name for $75. The petition was signed by many prominent people of Lane and Marion counties. Woodburn was Gates' home town. Here the petition was signed by all the business men, including the names of Hon. J. M. Poorman, Hon. J. H. Settlemier and Walter L. Tooze. It is also reported that Hon. Frank Davey and all the Marion county officials signed the petition.

It is said that prior to his conviction, Gates was a good responsible citizen, and that his downfall was caused by the excessive use of liquor, that he was mentally not responsible for the crime of which he was convicted and it is also said that H. W. Corbett has waived all objections in case the Governor sees fit to use his executive clemency.

Hon. L. T. Harris, deputy district attorney, who prosecuted Gates, has accepted notice and waived time so as to admit of the consideration of the petition at once. Mr. Harris does not consider Gates a natural criminal and will make no objections to the pardon. A large part of the sentence has been served and Gates has been a trusty since last June, which indicates a good record.

Gates had been on a protracted spree at the time of the deed and in addition to the above had forged the name of Hon. J. H. Booth. His work was of a bungling nature.

CUPID QUIETLY KEEPS BUSY

(Daily Guard, March 15.)

Without ostentation and announcement the busy body Cupid keeps quietly at work in our midst. He successfully guarded the announcement of the engagement of Miss Cecile Dorris to Mr. Allen Eaton until the consummation of the ceremony Saturday evening at 9 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Dorris, 400 Pearl street.

The ceremony was performed by President Boardman, of McMinnville College.

The wedding was a happy surprise to the numerous friends of both parties and congratulations will overwhelm them.

The guests at the ceremony were limited to the relatives of the contracting parties. Mr. Eaton recently launched into the bookstore business in Eugene and is doing well. Both Mr. and Mrs. Eaton are graduates of the University. They will reside in Eugene.

Walter McCormack Dead.

After an illness of three years from kidney troubles, W. R. McCormack died at his home near Acme, on the Lower Siuslaw Wednesday, March 12th, at midnight. His death came suddenly, though not unexpectedly. He had been sitting by the fire when he said that he would return to his bed from which he had arisen shortly before then died easily and painlessly.

W. R. McCormack was born near Elgin, Illinois, in 1845, being 58 years of age at the time of his death. The family emigrated to the Pacific coast in 1853, first settling near Olympia, Washington, removing to the farm on the prairie four miles westerly from Eugene in 1858. Arriving at manhood he left the farm and came to Eugene. Was engaged in the dry and truck business several years, hops a season or two, served as deputy sheriff of Lane county under S. B. Eakin, during the latter's continuance in the office from 1874 to 1880, then as deputy county clerk under Joel Ware till the latter retired from the office in 1892. He then moved to property he owned on the North Fork of the Siuslaw, residing there till death. His wife and two sons, aged seventeen and twenty-one survive him. The burial took place in the Acme Masonic cemetery Saturday.

The writer had an intimate acquaintance with the deceased through occupying office in the old courthouses for four years. In all that time, meeting him nearly everyday, we never heard him express a sentiment that was not in accord with the character of an honest, upright man. There was no equivocation, no faltering with duty about Walter McCormack.

ANOTHER PIONEER GONE TO REST.

J. W. Richardson, one of Lane county's honored pioneers, died at the family home at Franklin, Saturday, March 14, 1903.

Mr. Richardson was born in 1837, crossing the plains to Oregon in 1846. He was married in 1857 to Miss Rebecca Cantrell. Nine children were born to them, five of whom are now living.

The first year after arriving in Oregon was spent in Yamhill county, but since then the subject of this sketch has resided in the Long Tom country in Lane county.

The funeral was held at 2 o'clock today with interment in the Richardson cemetery.

OFFICERS OF THE NEW COMPANY

(Daily Guard, March 16.)

Last evening in the office of Dr. D. A. Paine, the Lane County Electric Company held a business meeting resulting in the election of a board of directors from among the stockholders. Nearly all the members were present.

Paine, president; S. H. Friendly, vice president; F. W. Osburn, treasurer; J. F. Robinson, secretary and superintendent.

The original light company will exist until the first of May when it will be replaced by the new. The new plant at Springfield will be ready for operation by next fall. It will be a big improvement on the present service.

Eugeneites in California.

Harry Cherry, who, with this father, David Cherry, is traveling in California, writes as follows:

Santa Barbara, Cal., March 14. Editor Guard, Eugene, Oregon.

Sir:—Kindly forward the Daily Guard to general delivery at San Francisco, until further directions. We are now on our return, stopping off here today. Will spend a brief time at Monterey. Of course it is needless to say we are enjoying the glorious sunshine and other good things in this famous section.

Was just informed that Messrs. McClung and Brown are expected here tomorrow from Long Beach. M. L. Campbell is located at San Pedro. Arthur Comegys visited Los Angeles last week. Wm. Clark has gone to Monterey. R. Y. Parks, formerly of Eugene, has located in Long Beach.

Yours truly, HARRY CHERRY.

Improvements in the Church.

The Christian church Sunday School has grown so rapidly lately that the Sunday school room is overcrowded and the whole building is rendered too small to hold the large number of classes. It has been decided to finish up another room in the second story directly over the Sunday school room and probably three recitation rooms in the basement. The plans have not been decided upon as yet but the capacity of the building will be greatly increased when the proposed improvements have been completed.

The Sunday school yesterday had an actual attendance of 280 with an enrollment of over 300.

THE B. P. O. ELKS' LADIES' SOCIAL

A Splendid Evening of Entertainment Last Night—Other Social Notes.

(Daily Guard, March 17.)

The Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks last evening according to announcement entertained their lady friends in their hall. The evening spent was one of the most notable of the season's lodge functions. Every guest won enjoyment and every Elk was an ideal host. The committees worked in pleasurable harmony and the B. P. O. Elks have again sustained the high order of entertainment which has heretofore been synonymous with their name.

The following musical program was rendered: Music, orchestra. Solo, Miss Lulu Renshaw. Duet, "Poet and Peasant," Misses Hallie Watson and Lena Tarpley, (Salem.) Song and dance, Vera Eastham. Solo, D. B. Murray. Music, Orchestra.

The orchestra, McElroy's, was at its best and the numbers during the remainder of the evening were as much appreciated as the program numbers. The banquet is the Elks' long suit. They excel at the tables where the true spirit of hospitality is heartily in evidence. The following menu testifies of marked excellence:

Pickles	Oyster cocktail	Olives
Cold Ham	Stuffed Eggs	Potato Salad
Jellied Tongue	Chicken on Mayonnaise	Celery
	Salted Almonds
	Vanilla Ice Cream
Angel, Neapolitan and Marshmallow Cakes
Cheese Crackers	Fruit Cakes
Tea	Coffee	Chocolate

The dancing program was the final feature of the evening. Every number was thoroughly enjoyed. The various committees did their work well.

That of arrangements consisting of M. S. Wallis, Alf Walker and Julius Goldsmith, and the reception committee, G. W. Griffin, R. M. Donahue, C. A. Wintermeier and Al Hampton were especially responsible for the success of the evening.

Stagge Again Arrested.

Portland Journal, March 16: Lionel Stagge, well known in Portland, was arrested in Washington, D. C., this morning by Chief of Police Richard Sylvester on a charge of forgery. The local police received a query from Sylvester this morning, asking into Stagge's record in Portland. Stagge formerly worked on the Oregonian. He served a term of one year in the state penitentiary at Salem for forgery. He is very well known here.

Died.

In the Good Samaritan hospital, yesterday afternoon March 15, 1903, Mrs. L. S. Lakin passed away, succumbing to a long illness and the indirect result of two operations performed in hope to restore her health.

Deceased was a daughter-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Lakin, of Eugene, and was a former resident of this city.

In Memoriam.

Daphne Beard, who died at Coburg Friday morning, March 6, 1903, scarlet fever, was 15 years old a few days before her death. Many of her earlier childhood days were spent in and around Creswell, and she is well remembered as a bright and merry girl. She was a bright member of the Ninth grade class of the Coburg public school, and a general favorite in school. Just a week before her death she was in her accustomed place with bright plans for the future. She will be greatly missed by teachers and schoolmates.

The remains were taken to Walker for burial.

O, death, what distress you have brought!

What great desolation you've wrought! You've stricken with sorrow a father and mother—

You've thrown your dark shadow o'er sister and brother.

How sad is the home you have left; How many the friends you've bereft. Take comfort, sad mourners, No sickness nor dying, No enter that region beyond the grave lying.

For Jesus has conquered the grave, Yes Jesus "the mighty to save."

A Denial.

Coburg, Oregon, March 14. Editor Guard, Eugene, Oregon:

Dear Sir: In reading the Weekly Guard of March 14th I saw an account of J. M. Tillman's boy being put in the McKenzie river by three boys, I, Fred L. Wilcox, was supposed to be one of the said boys. The other two were Mitchell Wilkins and William Elliott, both my friends and both of Coburg.

That we ran after and caught the Tillman boy and carried him to the water is true, but we no more thought of putting him in the water than we thought of jumping in ourselves.

What is more, we were not at the McKenzie river, but at the Booth-Kelly Co's log ditch, and we have proof that we did not put the boy in the ditch.

Yours truly, FREDERICK L. WILCOX.

S. O. State Normal.

The Southern Oregon State Normal School will be greatly improved in every way during the present year, having secured an appropriation from the legislature of $18,636 for maintenance and $8000 with which to construct an additional building. It is the purpose of President Mulkey to make it one of the best educational institutions in the Northwest.

Hotel Sold.

Saturday's Albany Democrat: Hart & Bussard, of this city yesterday perfected the sale of the Harrisburg hotel by A. J. Murphy to R. H. Schlusser, recently from of Mayfield, Mo. Consideration $5,500. This is a new hotel, having been erected only recently and is considered a good property.

Roseburg Plaindealer: Frank Gornell, of Lower Calapooia, refused to accept the $1,050 allowed him by the probate court for damages received by the falling down of the county bridge over Hubbard creek. Attorney O. P. Coshaw will file suit soon in the circuit court for the full amount which was originally claimed, $10,000.
