THE ART OF KILLING MEN.

That millennium when the lion and the lamb shall lie down together without the lamb occupying quarters inside the lion is not yet in sight, judging from figures from the British admiralty office. The "estimates" for naval expenses introduced in the House of Commons yesterday provide for an expenditure of nearly one hundred and eighty million dollars. The figures shocked even the Secretary of Admiralty, as he remarked that these estimates were "unparalleled in peace or war," and as a private citizen he could "not help regretting that the great competition and rivalry in the matter of naval armaments continued to make this enormous and unproductive expenditure necessary."

It is not a mere matter of men nowadays as formerly. The soldier on land or water must have the most efficient tools to fight with else he has no hope for victory. Personal prowess or bravery has little or nothing to do with the result. How will it all end?

McMinnville honors the orator to-night. And they will listen to the prize oration from the lips of Orator Smith, the winner of the collegiate oratorical contest. They will wear the young man out.

King Edward's subjects have little respect for him. His discarded clothes were recently unblushingly exposed for sale in the window of one of the London dress agencies. Proper public sentiment for royalty would not tolerate such a spectacle.

The archbishop of the Russian orthodox church will no longer allow priests to accept brandy from their parishioners for services—an exchange of their spiritual wares as it were. They need a temperance society exclusively for the church over there.

Portland will get city advertising done for next to nothing for the next year through strenuous newspaper competition. The Telegram bid a cent a line, but the Journal clipped off an eighth from that figure and got the elephant at seven-eighths of a cent.

A man just arrested at Chicago is the possessor of a dangerous secret—that is dangerous to handlers of jewelry. He makes a metal that looks so nearly like gold that the deception will not ordinarily be noted besides it stands the acid test for gold, heretofore considered infallible.

That authority on leprosy, Mr. Jonathan Hutchinson, who believes the disease is caused by eating imperfectly cured fish, is not disturbed by the argument that leprosy prevails among the vegetarians of India. He does not believe that the Brahmans really abstain from fish, but accepts the Hindoo proverb that "where there are no eyes there is no caste."

A Brooklyn police judge says women must not swear on the street. He reinforced the admonition by giving two women who used improper language on a public thoroughfare ten months each in jail. Not only a hard sentence but discriminatory. Men are swearing publicly all the time yet arrests are not made for what is at least an offense against decency.

Hadleyville News.

Hadleyville, March 18.—The farmers are busy sowing spring grain. We understand Mr. John McCulloch will soon erect a large hall at this place.

There is to be a basket social at our school house the eleventh of April. We suppose the proceeds are to go to the Crow Band boys.

Mr. F. M. Nighswander has planted an onion patch on the bank of the Jordan. He expects to raise onions for the Jerusalem market.

Hides Wanted.

Look here! I pay the high at price for hides and furs. Sheep pelts 50 cents to $1.00. Dry hides from 10 to 14 cents a pound. Beef hides, green, from 5 to 8 cents a pound. Old rubber wanted, founts a pound; also old brass and copper, 4 cents a pound; for old iron 40 cents a hundred.

W. SANDERS, Eugene.

LUMBER COMPANY INCORPORATED

The London Timber and Milling Company has filed articles of incorporation with the county clerk. The incorporators are A. S. Powell, A. B. Lyon and F. E. Lyon, and headquarters are at Cottage Grove.

The objects of the corporation are as follows: To deal in timber lands, to purchase, own and operate saw-mills, shingle mills and other wood manufacturing machinery; to provide transportation of timber to the company's mills and from thence to market.

The incorporators are well known residents of the southern part of the county and will engage in the timber business on quite an extensive scale.

FELL OVER CLIFF FORTY FEET HIGH

Cottage Grove, Or., March 19.—Word was received here yesterday by telephone from Bohemia that Bert Hart, a miner in the employ of the Oregon Securities Company, was seriously injured. He, with three other men, was out snowshoeing, when Hart lost control of himself and fell over a cliff 40 feet in height. He was unconscious when reached, and was carried to the Champion mine. Dr. Job, the company's physician, left immediately to aid the wounded man.

Died.

Claude Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Taylor, of Coburg, died at the home of his parents this morning of tuberculosis of the bone, aged 15 years and 19 days. He had been ill with the painful hip disease for three years, and death came as a welcome relief. The afflicted leg had drawn three inches shorter than the other. Funeral at the Coburg church at 3 o'clock Friday. Interment in Coburg cemetery.

J. R. CAMPBELL. L. L. CAMPBELL.

GOOD TIMBER CLAIMS.

Anyone wishing to locate good timber claims would do well to call on or address Horace Barnes, Guard office, Eugene. The claims which he represents, some 24 in number, are situated in the southwestern part of the state, only a few miles from the ocean and mostly all bordering on some stream where logs can be floated down. They will cut from 5,000,000 to 7,000,000 feet each. This is a splendid proposition and it would pay anyone who is interested in timber lands to investigate it.

C. S. Farrow & Company will sell you the best plows and harrows.

NEW EMPLOYMENT AGENCY

A new enterprise, and one that should be of great use and convenience to citizens of the city, is being organized and promoted by Jerry Dammon, the well known timberman. It is an employment agency conducted on metropolitan lines and first-class in every particular.

Mr. Dammon has secured good office rooms in the Lane County Bank building and will fit up a first-class office. As soon as stationary is printed and other details attended to the office will be ready for business. Mr. Dammon's family will reside on his homestead while Mr. Dammon is engaged in business in Eugene.

Creswell Items.

(Guard Special Service.) Creswell, March 18.—Rev. Housel, of this place, is holding a protracted meeting at Goshen.

Mrs. Geo. Smith was called to Cottage Grove Saturday evening by a telephone message announcing the death of her mother, Mrs. Shields. A tramp barber has been holding forth for several days in the real estate office. He is being very well patronized and talks of setting up here permanently.

Mrs. B. S. Martin went to Eugene Tuesday to consult a dentist. A mistake in composition or type made us say that Mr. Page's son was taken to Eugene when it should have been Portland, for an operation for appendicitis. The operation was performed Thursday at St. Vincent's hospital, and the little fellow is getting on nicely.

P. Wallace, who has been visiting in Washington for some time, returned to his home near Walkers, Monday.

Mr. McFarland, of Cottage Grove, spends many of his Sundays in Creswell and vicinity. He is thinking of locating here or something of that sort, before long. Get the tin pans and cow bells ready boys.

We understand that the night operator Drain will take charge of the office at this place soon.

Dr. Scarborough left today for Los Angeles, California. He expects to be absent about ten days.

The young people enjoyed a social gathering at Charlie Howe's residence last Friday evening. Those present report a very enjoyable time.

Goshen's Nasby, C. H. Mathews, was shaking hands with Creswell friends Saturday.

Report has it that Ely Scarborough is purchasing new furniture. What do you suppose the boy has in his head? He evidently thinks the sign is just about right.

Creswell should have more houses built this summer. There is not a vacant house in the village to be had. If we are to share in the general incoming emigration, we should have houses for them to live in. Prepare the cage that you may catch the bird.

Miss Moore, a cousin of Henry Melton's who has been visiting his family for some time, started Tuesday on her return trip to Illinois. Situated as it is in a fine farming country, with excellent shipping facilities, Creswell should have a first-class flour mill. Anyone wishing to undertake such an enterprise would meet with substantial inducements at the hands of our citizens. We would like very much to see a mill in operation.

We would most respectfully suggest to the board of school directors that it would be a bright idea to have the school house thoroughly disinfected occasionally in view of the prevalence of contagious diseases. The cost is slight and the benefits might be very great. A gentleman, whose name is unknown to the writer, is in town trying to organize a band. Creswell once had a first-class country band, a number of the old members still living here. We trust the effort will succeed so that once more the festive toot may again resound.

Cloverdale Gossip.

(Guard Special Service.) Cloverdale, March 17.—Jim Scrivner, who had his hand cut some time ago, is improving. Albert Winzenried made his regular trip to Jasper Sunday as usual. Alex McKinsey and his sister, Roda, visited their brother and sister, Lorne Scrivner and wife at this place, Saturday and Sunday. Warren McFarland made his regular trip down on the farm Sunday as usual. Loyd Doyle makes his regular trips every Sunday evening to Creswell. Wonder why? Mr. and Mrs. Jim Scrivner visited their son and daughter, Mr. Lorne Scrivner and wife, at this place Sunday.

The pleasant weather has begun again but we do not know how long 'twill last.

Siuslaw Grange Resolutions.

Lorane, March 18. Editor Guard: I am requested by Siuslaw Grange to forward you for publication the following preamble and resolutions: Whereas, the grangers of Siuslaw Grange No. 54, P. of H, assembled in full this 14th day of March, 1903, make known that we are bitterly opposed to Senate bill No. 50, introduced by Senator Booth of Lane, to prevent home-builders and hard-working isolated growers from burning their brush or slashings until a time of the year when it couldn't be burnt.

Therefore, be it resolved: That we, the grangers in session of the above grange do hereby commend and endorse the broad liberal views of Governor Chamberlain in vetoing the above obnoxious bill. And be it further resolved: That we place implicit confidence in the governor's future administration, believing he will ever be ready to carry out the best interests of the agricultural and logging interests of the state.
