THE CARNIVAL WILL BE HELD

Fourth Regiment Band Accepts Leavitt's Offer.

Will Conduct Street Fair and Carnival the Week of June 29th to July 4th Inclusive.

The meeting called last evening through the columns of the Guard for the purpose of listening to H. L. Leavitt, manager of the Southern Carnival Company, assembled in due time in the band parlor in the armory and proceeded to business.

M. S. Wallis called order and when the crowd was placed there was found to be present all the band members with about sixty of the leading citizens of the city.

HARMONIOUS SESSION.

Everyone listened with interest to the gentleman who presented some gilt-edge recommendations and inducements from every city where his company have played for the last few years. He explained that some organization should take the matter in charge. The only responsibility would be the raising of $500 for the preliminary expenses of the event. The organization conducting the affair would receive 25 per cent. of the gross receipts.

This proposition met with the hearty endorsement of every one present, before the band members would consent to take hold of it. The carnival was an assured fact from the word go. The band members then voted to shoulder the project and that assures its success. The popularity of the band will be a big thing in favor of the fair. It will mean much to the organization indeed and the boys are to be congratulated upon their business sense in hooking on to one of the best offers ever made.

A KICKER. In the entire audience there was but one dissenter and he was too wise to be open and above board with his opposition at the meeting. However, it cropped out this morning, and "Impressions" in the Register doubts the advisability of attempting to hold a street fair, and opens up its inexhaustible cold-draught tank and tries to quench the proposition from the start.

However, everyone understands why the Register cannot support any undertaking which the Fourth Regiment Band fathers, and the opposition will not hurt the carnival in the least. It will be a grand success. Eugene will have a grand Fourth of July celebration and the people will be satisfied.

HOW THE COMMITTEE FEELS.

There was such general satisfaction over the results of the last street carnival that the same committee having it in charge offered to take hold of this offer in case the band did not. They withdrew from the contest because the band deserves the opportunity of replenishing its treasury. The result will mean out of debt for the band boys, and that has been a goal towards which they have been striving for the past year.

A GREAT TIME.

The contract has been signed and the band will father the June Carnival. The Register's bugaboo will be a success.

Timber Lands Sell High.

It might be interesting to owners of timber lands in this section of the country, to see the high price paid for 640 acres of school land in township 15 south, range 3 east, Linn county, last week. The state advertised for sealed bids and the highest was $14.27 11-23 per acre, the figures being based on 30 cents a thousand and per stumpage of timber as cruised by the bidders. The purchasers were W. J. and Finlay Morrison.

H. G. McKinley, the well known timber man, was the next highest bidder at $8.81 per acre.

J. W. Shumate of Waller'sville, purchased three quarters of section 36 at $3.55 per acre.

C. C. Lyons, of Cottage Grove, died yesterday, aged 74 years.

Mr. Lyons was a pioneer of 1856. He was born in Naples, N. Y. He was a member of the Masonic order, and the Masons will attend his funeral in a body today, and the burial services will be conducted by that body. A wife survives him.

EUGENE ODD FELLOWS VISIT COBURG

That the Odd Fellows and the people in general at Coburg knew how to entertain visitors can be testified to by some thirty members of Spencer Butte lodge No. 2, I. O. O. F., of this city, who made a fraternal visit to the Coburg lodge Saturday night.

The local three-liners drove over in carriages and attended the meeting which lasted till the early hours of the morning, when the clarion notes of the farmyard rooster had begun to pierce the still morning air. The party arrived in Eugene about 6 o'clock.

Several candidates rode the goat, and work in all three degrees was put on.

A splendid banquet, such as is known only within the boundaries of Coburg, was served.

The Eugene visitors report a highly enjoyable time.

IT WASN'T CARRIE NATION

It was thought for a while this afternoon that Carrie Nation had dropped into Eugene suddenly and that she was enacting her saloon-smashing scenes in this city. A reporter upon seeing three women emerging from a saloon scented a good story and was rather disappointed to learn that the women were three members of the local W. C. T. U., who were making the rounds of the saloons and cigar stores posting up copies of Oregon's tobacco law, prohibiting the sale of tobacco in any form to minors.

It is said that one saloon keeper, upon seeing the women, headed by Chief of Police Stiles, enter his front door, thought sure the Kansas smasher was coming and lit out through the back door, only hitting the high places.

A Plain Statement.

The Albany Democrat says: "The Eugene Guard gives pictures of Murderer Lyons, his victim, Sheriff Withers, Sheriff Fisk, who hanged him, and the scaffold and jail, making quite a sensational appearance. The Register in anticipation of the fact remarked in its morning issue beforehand that it wouldn't do such a thing in the interest of good morals."

Yes that's about the truth of the matter. The Register didn't want to spend the price and knew its contemporary was alive to the situation, so it proceeded to excuse itself on the line of morals. Then it gets back to its old custom, saying that the Register on the same date published two pages more of reading matter than the Guard did on Friday. Anticipating the enterprise of the Guard they rushed in on a moral ground, and printed a whole lot of plate matter.

This is the same sheet that formerly was everlastingly howling about "home print" and plate matter—so as to claim it had printed more than the Guard by two pages, which is absolutely false. It is on par with their statement that the Guard stated that Hamilton was the only man that could be elected to congress on the Democratic ticket, and with their claims to circulation, which they have to get.

The value of advertising lies in the position and the circulation. A man who advertises in a supplement, even if it should have reading matter thereon, does not get his value. This is generally lost or burned. The best advertisers always seek a good position next to reading matter in the body of the paper.

As to showing our subscription books to the Register—Gall! well, yes, some. A party who would make misstatements knowingly and not correct them would "pad" their books if necessary. We printed the weekly edition of the Register once, and our foreman can make an affidavit regarding the circulation if necessary.

Any legitimate advertiser has always had a right to examine our books if he so desired.

Farm Purchased.

James E. Montgomery, of Waterville, Wash., has sold his interests at that place and will remove with his family to Lane county.

Mr. Montgomery spent his boyhood days in this county and is well known here. He has purchased the Schultz place, consisting of 640 acres, six miles above Elmira, and will move to the same within a few weeks. Consideration private.

Mr. Montgomery left here in 1890 and notes many improvements in this absence; says that this country looks good to him. He is glad to get back to his old home—his old home is two miles from the present purchase—where he intends to remain.

SERVES ITS BOSSES WELL

The Oregonian of yesterday in speculating on the probability of the next Republican nominee for congress from this district mentions Gatch, Harris, Kelly, Vawter and Eddy. It says: "Harris would have taken the nomination at Eugene ten days ago if it had come to him without solicitation on his part. And it would probably have gone his way but for his nomination of Brownell for chairman of the convention. Harris was obliged to nominate Brownell in order to discharge debts which he owed to the Clackamas statesman, who helped him to be speaker of the house, and in order to satisfy the Booth-Kuykendall combination. This combination has, it is reported, been secretly envious of young Harris' rapid rise to popularity, for in him it sees a possible rival in Lane. Harris desired to be elected state senator, but he made way for Kuykendall, and was put on the ticket last spring for representative, on the understanding that he should be elected speaker. The Booth-Kuykendall people carried out their agreement, but had a hard time delivering the goods. But Harris has now discharged all his obligations, and is free to do as he chooses. He is no longer bound to the leaders of his county. The Booth-Kelly Lumber Company gives him no law business and therefore has no strings on him. Harris' nomination of Brownell was very unpopular at the Eugene convention, and he knows it."

This is just in line with the Guard's former statement, and it is a well known fact, that had the bosses kept their hands off, Lane county would have insisted on naming Mr. Harris for congress. The reason Mr. Harris was not mentioned is well known to all. When the Guard made this statement the Register wouldn't have it, but it's true just the same.

Death of Aged Pioneer.

Junction City, Or., April 21.—William H. Hogan, a pioneer of this section, aged 84 years, died Sunday at his home in this city of dropsy.

Mr. Hogan was born in Virginia, October 26, 1818. At 8 years of age he moved to Missouri. He was married to Miss Barbara Jane Liles in 1841 in Polk county, Illinois, and they crossed the plains in 1853, locating in Lane county, ten miles west of Eugene. A few years later he moved to near Lebanon on a farm where he resided until he moved to Junction City, living here until the time of his death.

He was a prominent member of the Christian church since 30 years of age. His wife and six children survive him. The children are: Mrs. Haden McAllister, and Mrs. S. W. Faulkon, of Lebanon; Miss Adeline Hogan, A. H. and M. D. Hogan, of this city, and W. H. Hogan, of Albany. Mrs. Hogan is 78 years of age.

Hurlburt Bound Over.

Jacksonville, Or., April 20.—Roy Hurlburt, who was arrested at Eugene ten days ago, charged with Elliott Lyons' in stealing horses in this county last fall, had a preliminary examination Saturday and was bound over to the circuit court in $500 bonds.

The district attorney is using every effort to hunt down and bring to justice the band of thieves that raided the country last summer and fall.

FUNERAL LARGE- LY ATTENDED

Mrs. Mary E. Gray's Remains Laid to Rest in Odd Fellows Cemetery Yesterday.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary E. Gray, the noble pioneer lady who passed away Friday evening at her home in this city, was largely attended yesterday morning at 10 o'clock.

The members of the W. R. C. and the Rebekahs, of which orders she was a beloved member, attended in bodies and the Odd Fellows, out of respect to the deceased, were also in attendance. The crowd was so large that the yard contained hundreds who could not gain entrance to the house.

The ceremony was conducted by Rev. B. F. Rowland, pastor of the M. E. church. The bier was loaded with the choicest flowers brought by sorrowing friends of the deceased.

Interment was delayed until 1 p. m. in order to allow relatives who were on the road to arrive and view the remains for the last time.

STATE BARBER COMMISSION

J. C. Weis and F. T. Rogers, of Portland, and H. G. Meyers, of Salem, members of the state board of barber examiners, arrived in Eugene from the north last night and spent the greater part of the day here examining barbers, giving instructions as to the state barbers' law and looking into the sanitary conditions of the several shops in the city.

Those who were examined and who have heretofore been working on permits were: A. C. Rathwell in Vincent's shop; Woodruff, in Haynes' shop, and Lee, who conducts a 10-cent shop.

Mr. Meyer when seen by a Guard reporter today stated that the commission was making a tour of Western Oregon and would work as far south as Ashland. He stated that the state barber law was being violated to some extent in Eugene, but it was not their purpose to prosecute the violators this time, but to inform them as to the meaning of the law, and if the violation is repeated they would have to suffer.

The commission went to Springfield this afternoon, where, it was understood, the law was being openly violated in several respects. They will go on south tonight.

WORK OF HON. HENRY GILFRY

Henry H. Gilfry, formerly a Eugene man, now of Washington, D. C., well known over Oregon; who owns a farm near Creswell in his county and considers it as his home place, is the subject of a writup in the Oregonian by its special correspondent at Washington, D. C. Mr. Gilfry is a cousin of Hon. T. G. Hendricks, a brother of the well known Gilfry family of this county, and has a host of friends throughout the county. It says:

"Henry H. Gilfry, of Oregon, is legislative clerk of the United States senate; has held governmental office in Washington longer than any other Oregonian now here. He came to this city in June, 1879, and went to the clerk's desk of the senate on the first of the following December, where he has served continuously ever since. In those days Mr. Gilfry was legislative clerk and reading clerk combined, but of late, so great became the necessity of a reading clerk, that a special officer was appointed for that purpose, and now the Oregon man is relieved from all reading, save from an occasional roll call.

The office of legislative clerk is one of the most exacting, if not the most exacting, connected with the senate. Accuracy is demanded above all things. Primarily, Mr. Gilfry has charge of the official copies of all pending bills, both those introduced in the house and in the senate. When such bills are called for consideration, he must be in attendance and accurately record all amendments that are adopted and any changes of phraseology that may be ordered. Even down to punctuation, he must follow the dictates of the senate. The importance of this is recognized when it is known that the omission of a single comma in a bill so important as a tariff measure may change the purport of a bill, and mean thousands of dollars to the Government or to commercial interests. In Mr. Gilfry's time the Senate has passed five tariff bills, the act of 1881, known as the tariff commission bill, the Mills bill, which never became a law; the Dingley bill, the Wilson bill and the McKinley bill. It was upon Mr. Gilfry that the Senate relied for having these bills properly enrolled and signed by the President of the senate. No one who has not been present in the senate when important measures are being amended, after a sharp contest, can appreciate the difficulty of keeping up with the proceedings and telling accurately just what amendments are adopted, and what eliminations are made, how they are adopted, so complicated do the proceedings become. There are few men holding public office who can point to so clean and creditable a record as Mr. Gilfry can. It is said that never, during his time, has a single bill been erroneously engrossed, and what is equally creditable, during the 23 years and more of his service he has been absent from his desk but three days, and then on account of illness. In that long period he has been late but once, and that when the senate, by special order, convened at 11 o'clock, instead of at noon as is customary, and even on that occasion he was at his desk a few minutes after. He had overlooked the special order of the day before.

When calling for above, please state when advertised.
