Tired Feeling
Common Spring Trouble.
The following conversation of two young ladies was overheard a few nights ago in a Sixth Avenue electric car, reports the New York Times:
"Do you know, I think she is absolutely the meanest woman I ever knew."
"Why, what is the matter with her?"
"Matter? Why, everything. She does nothing but scold from morning to night. You know, she has the apartment just across the hall from us, and the day she moved in she started by borrowing an egg from mother. The next day she borrowed a cup of sugar, and since that time she has borrowed everything from a piece of butter to the baby carriage, and has never made any attempt to return a single thing. I have often told mother that I was going to borrow some of the things back, but she has always forbidden me. Last night, however, I had to write some letters, and I had no ink. It was raining very hard, and mother was out, so I resolved that rather than go out in the rain I would disobey orders and ask our neighbor to let me have her ink. I asked her, and what do you think she said? 'I haven't any ink, but I'll let you take my shoe polish. It is just as good. It dries quickly, but you can write just as well with it.' Oh, I never met a meaner woman in my life!"

Dr. Williams' Sarsaparilla and Pills
It gives new life, new courage and animation. It cleanses the blood and clears the skin. It is a substitute. It is tired all the time and could not after taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I could sleep well and the tired had gone. This great medicine has cured me of scrofula." Mrs. C. M. Head, Conn.
Sarsaparilla promises to keep the promise.

An Accommodating Neighbor.

Beautiful Marks of Maple.
Nobody seems to know what cause it is which produces those delicate and beautiful lines in maple, known as bird's-eye. Some people think they come from the hundreds of little branches which shoot out over the trunk of the tree as soon as a clearing is made around it. Expert timbermen say that is not the case. The only way to tell a bird's-eye maple tree is to cut it. There are no outward signs by which one can judge. The Railroad Gazette tells a story of the late George M. Pullman. Many years ago he was offered a mahogany log for $3,000, to be cut into veneers. It was supposed to be a very fine piece of wood, but this could only be determined by cutting it. He declined the offer, but agreed to take the log cut into veneers for what it was worth. The owner had it sawed and was paid $7,000 for his veneers. Any one who can discover the secret of determining the interior nature of wood from the outside will have a fortune.

Eggs-Actly.
"I see," said the telegraph editor, "that a woman in New York has sued her husband for divorce because he pelted her with eggs."
"And she probably wants to get out of the yolk," remarked the stock bu- rist.

No Bath, No Wife.
Among the Turks bath money forms an item in every marriage contract, the husband engaging to allow his wife a certain sum for bathing pur- poses. Should he withhold she has only to go before the cadl and turn her slipper upside down, and if the complain be not then redressed it is ground for a divorce.

Taking No Chances.
"Some one was telling me that par- lot matches aren't legal any more," said Marmaduke.

"Is that so?"
"Yes. He's even willing to have it come off by cable."

RHEUMATISM

ACUTE AND CHRONIC, MUSCULAR, MERCURIAL, ARTICULAR AND INFLAMMATORY.

Some people have been suffering from Rheumatism so long that they can scarcely remember the time when they were entirely free from an ache or pain, and have long since forgotten the joys of a painless existence. They are at the mercy of every ill wind and their misery is aggravated by exposure to cold or sudden changes in the temperature. They become walking barometers and most accurate in weather predictions, the increasing pains in muscles and joints foretelling the coming of bad weather. It is from these constant sufferers that the great army of rheumatic cripples is recruited. Their bodies are and the joints become so stiffened and bent that they are at last compelled to give up or hobble about on crutches.

Nobody ever outlived Rheumatism; the disease never loosens its grip or leaves of its own accord, but must be driven out by intelligent and persistent treatment through the blood, for Rheumatism of every variety and form is caused by an over acid condition of the blood, and the deposit in muscles, joints and nerves of corrosive poisons and gritty particles, and it is these irritating substances that produce the inflammation, swelling and pains, which last as long as the blood remains in this sour and acid state.

To cure Rheumatism permanently the blood must be purified and invigorated, and no other remedy does this so well or so promptly as S. S. S. It refreshes and restores to the thin acid blood its normal condition through training properties. And when strong, rich blood is again circulating through the body the acid poisons and irritating matter are washed out of the muscles and Rheumatism is a thing of the past. S. S. S. is a purely vegetable medicine and does not derange the stomach like the strong mineral remedies, but builds up the general health, increases the appetite and tones up the digestion.

Through our Medical Department the pain-racked, despondent Rheumatic sufferer will receive helpful advice from Physicians of experience and skill without charge. Write us fully about your case.

CHANGE OF LIFE. "POOR DIGESTION LANGUID AND TIRED."

Some sensible advice to women passing through this trying period.
The painful and annoying symptoms experienced by most women at this period of life are easily overcome by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It is especially designed to meet the needs of woman's system at the trying time of change of life.
It is no exaggeration to state that Mrs. Pinkham has over 5000 letters like the following proving the great value of her medicine at such times.
"I wish to thank Mrs. Pinkham for what her medicine has done for me. My trouble was change of life. Four years ago my health began to fail, my head began to grow dizzy, my eyes pained me, and at times it seemed as if my back would fall me, had terrible pains across the kidneys. Hot flashes were very frequent and trying. A friend advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I have taken six bottles of it and am to-day free from those troubles. I cannot speak in high enough terms of the medicine. I recommend it to all and wish every suffering woman would give it a trial."—Bella Ross, 858 Montclair Ave., Rosindale, Mass.—$5000 fee felt if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

Miss Della Janveau, Globe Hotel, Ottawa, Ont., is from one of the oldest and best known French Canadian families in Canada. In a recent letter to The Peruna Medicine Co., of Columbus, Ohio, she says:
"Last spring my blood seemed clogged up, my digestion poor, my head ached and I felt languid and tired all the time. My physician prescribed for me, but a friend advised me to try Peruna. I tried it and am pleased to state that I found it a wonderful cleanser and purifier of the system. In three weeks I was like a new woman, my appetite had increased, I felt buoyant, light and happy and without an ache or pain. Peruna is a reliable family medicine."
Adia Brittain, of Skilton, O., writes:
"After using your wonderful Peruna three months I have had great relief. I had continual heaviness in my stomach, was bilious, and had fainting spells, but they all have left me since using Peruna."—Adia Brittain.

GOOD Short Stories

A Brown University student once had the audacity to ask Professor Caswell whether his name would not be as well understood as the C.
Lord Houghton's epigram on "Sordello," though it has often gone the rounds, is worth recalling. Said Lord Houghton, then only "Dicky" Milnes: "There are but two lines in 'Sordello' I can understand—the first and last—'Who will may hear Sordello's story told,' and 'Who would hath heard Sordello's story told,' and both are false."
Senator Hoar was showing some Massachusetts visitors about Washing- ton, D. C., one day recently, and was pointing out a magnificent old resi- dence built years ago by a famous and rather shady lawyer of his time. "Why," the Senator was asked, "was he able to build a house like that by his practice?" "Yes," replied Hoar, "by his practice and his practices."
Cyrus D. Drew, of Louisville, thus describes an amusing incident which occurred in New Orleans in the spring of 1894. "I met Eugene Field on one of his pilgrimages for old bottles, pewter ware, and any old thing in the junk line. Some friends of mine introduced our party to Mr. Field and Wilson Barrett and members of his company, then, playing an engagement in New Orleans. Mr. Field's greatest delight was in teasing Miss Maude Jeffries, a Miss- sissippi girl, then leading lady in Mr. Barrett's company. She was very sensitive and modest, and it delighted Field greatly when he could playfully embarrass her. One day I found him in his room busy on the floor pasting large sheets of brown paper together. He had written a poem to Miss Jeffries in the center of a large sheet of this wrapping paper in his characteristic small hand—indeed, much smaller than usual. On the edges of this sheet I found him pasting others of equal size, so that the whole, when complete, made a single sheet about eight feet square. This he carefully folded up to fit an improvised envelope about the size of a Mardi Gras souvenir, then being distributed about the city. With the joyousness of a boy about to play a prank, he chased downstairs at the noon hour, when he knew Miss Jeffries was at lunch with Mr. Barrett in the cafe of the Grunewald. Calling a waiter, he sent the huge envelope in to her table. She glanced at it a moment, and then gradually drew the package from its envelope, while Field and I stood watching behind the en- trance. It spread all over the table as she continued to unfold the enormous sheet, and its rattle attracted the attention of nearly every one in the room. When it had spread itself all over Mr. Barrett who, meanwhile, was laughing heartily, Miss Jeffries discovered the poem in Field's hand, and, although blushing crimson, joined in the laughter, for she knew he was some- where about, enjoying her discomfit- ure."

Lengthening the Joy.
Dot—Is that all the pie I may have, mother?
Mother—Yes, dear.
Dot—Then, mother, will you please cut it in two pieces and give me one at a time?

Merely a Listener.
"And you never gossip about your friends?"
"Never," answered Miss Cayenne. "I can't bring myself to be so cruel as to interrupt my friends when they are gossiping about one another."

An Expert Opinion.
"Yes," he started a matrimonial agency and expected to make a lot of money.

"He married his typewriter girl inside of a week, and she wouldn't let him go on with the business because it was too dangerous."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Perplexing Situation.
Parker—What's wrong? You seem worried.
Streeter—I am. I wrote two notes—one to my broker asking him if he took me for a fool, and the other to Miss Golding asking her if she would be mine. While I was out somebody telephoned "Yes," and I don't know which of 'em it was.—Tit-Bits.

She Thought of Him.
Creamley—I didn't know you were acquainted with Miss Lovett. She asked me last night if I knew you.
Hoamley—That was nice of her. What led her to ask you that, I wonder?
Why—or—I had just asked her if she could imagine anyone uglier than Bill Thompson.—Philadelphia Press.

Et tu, Brute.
Dr. Pellett—I hate to twit on facts, Mr. Pharmer, but how many persons do you suppose you have killed by putting up the wrong medicine?
Mr. Pharmer—Can't say; but think of the lives I have saved by failing to follow your prescriptions.—Boston Transcript.

Roy Stannard Baker's description of "The Great Northwest" are giving the men and women of the East a better understanding of the vastness and wealth of that wonderful region. The magnitude of the Northwest's forests and of its lumbering industry—Tacoma can boast the greatest sawmill, with one exception in the world—will be the text of the fascinating story, in the May Century, of "The Conquest of the Forest."
