Scathing Words for Hermann.

It is not often that a Catholic priest takes an open stand in a political campaign. This fact gives the letter of Joseph Schell, of Sumpter, under date of May 3, no little significance. Here are a few extracts:

No honest citizen, be he a Republican, a Democrat, a Populist, or a Socialist, can conscientiously vote for Binger Hermann for Congress.

I can say that to elect Binger Hermann to Congress is a disgrace to Oregon, a surprise to Washington and an insult to the present Republican administration, besides a public calamity.

It is not my purpose to tell the public for whom to vote. As a Catholic priest I have no interests in party politics. I have no political friends, I am not looking for political favors, as they are of no value to me, but since I have looked into the timber frauds, having been asked to do so by poor people to help to save their homesteads against timber speculators, I have found out that Binger Hermann was the main cause of this enormous and irreparable loss to the State of Oregon, of untold miseries of thousands of poor families on honest homesteads, and of putting fabulous wealth into the wrong pockets of soulless corporations.

Strong Words? Yes! And there is more of this character.

Which Mr. Roosevelt?

President Roosevelt plays the politician, shifts ground on the race question. In November last, for example, he declared that "It is, and should be my consistent policy, WHERE THE NUMBERS WARRANT IT, to recognize colored men of good repute and standing in making appointments to office."

That is, where negroes are few and the "recognition" of them would produce neither trouble nor delegates, they must not look for office, whereas where the numbers are large and trouble follows if they are not recognized, there they will get office.

Thus Mr. Roosevelt frankly as a politician.

But in March, in his letter to Mr. Clark Howell, editor of the Atlanta Constitution, he said: "I cannot treat mere color as a bar to holding office, any more than I could so treat creed or birthplace—always providing that in other respects the applicant or incumbent is worthy and a well-behaved American citizen."

That was Mr. Roosevelt, the friend of man, the opener of the door of hope and opportunity, the voice of high and noble opinions, who cares nothing about "numbers" and "recognition."

Which Mr. Roosevelt may we believe?

The Rural Northwest says: "The advance in the price of lumber in Oregon has made wire fencing cheaper than good board fences in certain localities. Mr. A. T. Webb, who owns a fine farm in Multnomah county, Oregon, recently had occasion to put up a considerable amount of fencing. He secured close figures on the cost of both board and wire fences and found the latter at least ten per cent less costly than the former. There is the further advantage of wire fencing that it is much more durable than boards, and when the posts rot new ones can be set without pulling down the fence. It is a little remarkable that the wire fencing is cheaper here where it is subject to heavy freight charges, whereas lumber is more abundant than in any other part of the United States.

It does not seem possible, but a dispatch says Captain John Ford, who died in a Pennsylvania town Friday, aged ninety-one, left an estate of thirty million dollars though twenty-one years ago, at the age of seventy, he was penniless! This country with its protected industries is the only possible one in which a man could make millions after passing the three score and ten years, limit of life. You men who have bought plate glass, does it not come to your minds that the building up of this fabulous fortune was made possible by robbing you?

Obituary.

Minerva Kissinger, wife of John Kissinger, who died on Fall Creek, April 7, 1903, was born in Henry County, Tenn., Dec. 29, 1822, making her 79 years, 3 months, and 18 days old. She moved with her parents to the state of Illinois when quite small and after she became grown she went to Atlanta, Ga., to visit relatives. There she became acquainted with John Kissinger and they were married January 29, 1853, when moving to Kentucky where they resided about 22 years, then moved to Oregon in May, 1874, where she resided till the time of her death. There were seven children born to them. Her husband and four children survive her. The children are: Henry and Charles M. Kissinger, of Eugene; A. J. and J. H. Kissinger, of Fall Creek.

Mrs. Kissinger joined the Methodist Episcopal church in the year of 1857, having belonged to the same for nearly fifty years. She was a devoted Christian and was loved by all who knew her.

We will miss thee from our home, dear, We will miss thee from thy place. A shadow o'er our life is cast, We miss the sunshine of thy face. We miss the thy kind and loving hand, Thy fond and earnest care.

Our home is dark without thee We miss thee every where. Calm on the bosom of thy God Fair spirit rest thee now, E'en while with our thy footsteps tread His seal was on thy brow.

Dust to its narrow house beneath, Soul to its place on high. They that have seen thy look in death No more may fear to die.

Sunday Baseball.

The following is from the Pendleton East Oregonian: "Eugene is trying to stop Sunday baseball. The only way it will ever be successfully and completely stopped is by the introduction of a stronger attraction by those who oppose it. People cannot live in this strenuous age without excitement. They must have a cause and an opportunity to yell. When a more drawing attraction than baseball is furnished, Sunday baseball will cease. Not before. It should be a matter of personal choice."
