

BURGLARS DO MORE WORK

Two Residences Entered Last Saturday Night.

About $90 Taken From Dr. Cheshire's House—Rev. McCullum's House Also Visited—An Attempt Last Night.

The burglar or burglars who entered E. R. Skipworth's residence on West Sixth street Friday night continued their work Saturday night, but this time changed their scene of operations to an opposite part of the city. They were more successful than on the previous night, being well repaid for their nefarious work in one instance at least.

Some time during the night the residence of Dr. W. L. Cheshire, at 788 Willamette street, was entered and about $90, belonging to Mrs. Cheshire's father, P. P. Palmer, was taken.

Sunday morning Mrs. Cheshire found that one of the flower pots in the parlor window had been knocked over on the floor. Investigation which followed resulted in the discovery that the house had been entered and robbed. The robber seemed to be acquainted with the premises and many believe that it was the work of local talent. He first entered the downstairs bedroom where Mr. Palmer was sleeping. He took several dollars out of that gentleman's trousers pockets, also a key to a writing desk in the sitting room where was located a pocket book containing nearly $90.

This was taken, and the robber concluding that he had made a rich enough haul, molested nothing else and left the house the same way he went in.

Tracks seen on the ground beneath the window indicate that the miscreant wore new shoes, as the tracks were clean cut. The shoe was about a number eight and was rather broad and might have been square-toed.

Mr. Palmer, being an elderly gentleman, sleeps very soundly or he might have heard the burglar and frightened him away. Dr. and Mrs. Cheshire who sleep upstairs, heard nothing unusual going on.

THIEF READ SERMON NOTES.
An entrance was effected to the residence of Rev. J. S. McCallum, 47 West Eleventh street, the same night and all the small change in sight was appropriated. The kitchen window was forced open and the two kitchen doors unlocked and opened as a means of escape should he be surprised in his work. Then the thief leisurely walked all over the lower floor of the house and found what small change that was left lying around, amounting to about $2.00, including the sums the children had saved up in little missionary boxes.

He entered the study of the pastor where notes for the Sunday morning sermon lay on the desk. As the thief carried a candle the wax melted and dropped on the desk all about the notes as if he had been reading them. The fellow was evidently hungry. He ate a big slice of banana cake and some bread and butter, also drank a big glass of milk. After tumbling the silverware over and looking through all the drawers down stairs he left the premises, and his work was not discovered until Sunday morning.

AN UNSUCCESSFUL ATTEMPT.
The thieves resumed activities last night. This morning John McDonald, who lives at West Thirteenth and Charnelton streets, reported to the police officers that an attempt was made to enter his house about 11 o'clock last night. About that time he heard someone on his porch. Having read in the Guard of the attempt to burglarize the residence of Mr. Skipworth Friday night, Mr. McDonald at once concluded that his house had been singled out by the robbers as one most likely to contain valuables, and that they were about to effect an entrance. Getting up, he went to the door. He had some trouble in getting it unlocked. The robbers, two in number, heard the noise and ran down the sidewalk. Mr. McDonald did not get a very good view of them, the night being dark, but thought they were of about the same height. One seemed to be heavy-set, while the other was rather slim.

CLOSING OUT PIANO SALE.

F. A. Rankin to Build a New Brick Building

F. A. Rankin has inaugurated a genuine closing out sale of pianos, organs and all small goods and sheet music, preparatory to tearing down his building to make room for a brick to go up at once.

Prices on pianos are lost sight of in this sale. They must go. This means a big saving to piano buyers and the opportunity only comes once in a life-time for such genuine bargains.

Our line of pianos consist of the following well known makes: Chickering, Weber, Kimball, Crown, Dickens & Sons, Busch & Gerts, and a dozen other makes.

How do you like the list? Can anybody beat it? We think not. Call early and get first choice. Sale on now. If you don't embrace this chance the loss is yours.

F. A. RANKIN,
No. 22-24 West Seventh street.

Prof. Schafer's Trip.

Professor Joseph Schafer, of the department of history, has been absent in California all last week. While he was in the Golden State the professor made some hurried preparations for the compilation of his new Pacific Coast History. At San Francisco and Sacramento he made arrangements for a number of illustrations which will appear in the work. He also took the opportunity to familiarize himself with the repositories of historical information. Professor Schafer will spend a considerable part of the summer vacation examining the original sources before he begins the work of compilation. The views of the historic sites in Oregon and Washington are yet to be arranged for. The views of historic sites in Oregon will be a valuable contribution to the pioneer history of the west.—U. O. Weekly.

Welcomed Former Pastor.

(Daily Guard, May 18.)

There was a large congregation at the services of the Congregational church yesterday on account of the visit of the former pastor of the church, Rev. R. C. Brooks, and his wife, the popular soloist. Rev. Brooks occupied the pulpit both morning and evening and Mrs. Brooks delighted the audience with her beautiful voice, which with the passage of years has not lost its quality.

A GREAT SENSATION.

There was a big sensation in Leesville, Ind., when W. H. Brown of that place, who was expected to die, had his life saved by Dr. King's New discovery for Consumption. He writes: "I endured insufferable agonies from Asthma, but your New Discovery gave me immediate relief and soon thereafter effected a complete cure." Similar cures of Consumption, Pneumonia, Bronchitis and Grip are numerous. It's the peerless remedy for all throat and lung troubles. Price 50 cents and $1. Guaranteed by W. L. Delano, druggist. Trial bottles free.

Saturday—Eugene 14, Salem 10; Albany 11, Roseburg 2.

Sunday—Salem 14, Eugene 0; Roseburg 15, Albany 10.

The above are the scores of the games played by the teams of the Willamette Valley Baseball League. It will be seen that each team won a game in the series, giving each a percentage of 500, the teams having also broken even on the first series of games.

The local fans were very much pleased at the showing made by the home team at Salem Saturday, and hopes were entertained that they would win the Sunday game, but when the news came that the team had gone down to defeat by the one-sided score of 14 to 0, you should have seen the long faces.

SATURDAY'S GAME.

The Salem Statesman mentions individual players on Eugene's team in Saturday's game as follows:

The Eugene aggregation had no difficulty in finding Graham, who evidently had a day off. His curves proved ineffectual, and the ball found much recreation in the field while he occupied the box. Tallifero pitched a better game, but nevertheless, the Redskins touched him up for eleven hits. Hartley, Eugene's first baseman, played an errorless game, and won the admiration of the spectators.

Chapin came in second in the slugging race, making three singles and a home run out of the same number of times at the bat. The star plays of the games were chalked up to Johnson and B. Jermain. The former made a beautiful throw from center field to third base, catching Graham, who was trying to transfer his headquarters from second.

During the first eight innings the 'Nobles' played all around the Salem nine, but in the ninth both teams went up in the air in field work, and thirteen tallies were added to the score." As will be noticed, the Statesman has dubbed the local team the "Nobles."

SUNDAY'S GAME.

In the Sunday game the "Nobles" played in hard luck. It seems that they started out "on the wrong foot" and couldn't break the hoodoo at any time in the game. Lorimer pitched a good game but he was not as well supported as Tallifero was the day before.

Morris, Salem's Indian pitcher, was touched up pretty lively at times by the visitors, but very few safe hits were made.

The team and their supporters are not at all discouraged, in fact are encouraged at the showing made. It is claimed that Eugene has as good a team as there is in the league, and it stands a good chance of winning the pennant.

Passes Eugene By.

Salem has secured the Southern Carnival Company's attraction for the week which Eugene had formerly reserved. Now Salem papers are writing about the great enterprise of that city as a carnival town, showing how thousands of people visit the place in one week to take in the shows and spend their money. The accounts of the affair from wide-awake California, where the outfit has played the winter, show that it merits recognition and popularity. The Woodmen of Portland will conduct the big show in that city.

Burning Brick.

J. M. Martin, the local brick man, is just finishing burning the largest kiln of brick ever over a fire in this county. The lot amounts to about 250,000. They will supply the opera house contractors and Beckwith's building for the present. Another, equally large kiln will be prepared at once.

Baseball News.

The Guard printed the results of the Willamette Valley League games Saturday a few minutes after they were finished. The results of the Sunday games were placed on the Guard's bulletin board at 5:30 o'clock Sunday evening. The public appreciates a quick news service.

NORWEGIAN ANNIVERSARY PICNIC

(Daily Guard, May 18.)

In pursuance to an invitation extended by the people of Spencer Creek about 20 of the native sons of Norway, from Eugene, went out yesterday to enjoy a day out and celebrate in the good old way the 17th of May, in memory of the adoption of a written constitution by Norway in 1814. The first thing on the program was a picnic dinner, and here it might be said that at one time it was seriously feared that some of the Eugeneites had lost their appetites but it seemed that they did fairly well without it, if such was the case. We will not mention names, but the way some of them stuffed chicken into their physiognomies was simply an indication that the chicken was well done.

The dinner was such a one as would make a man think of home and mother, and the valors of his ancestors in the days of St. Olaf.

After dinner there was some music—song, "Ja vi elsker dette Landet," by the audience, the song that will make a Norwegian turn in his grave in any clime. Simon Kløvdahl then gave a historical sketch in the Norwegian language, of the events leading up to the adoption of the Constitution and securing to the people the government of their country; calling attention to the fact that it was not the result of a day, but the necessary conclusion of a series of events in which the people and not some foreign ruler played the important role.

Mr. Kløvdahl is an orator and the only fault there was to find with his presentation was that it was too short—because it was interesting. S. P. Ness made a few remarks in the English language, dwelling upon the privileges which we enjoy in being able to understand a language that is so rich in classical literature as the Norwegian, so poetical in expression, and to call "ours" a history that is and forever will be an inspiration to the world. He called attention to the fact that liberty meant a duty to exercise it by every man and woman; and that the Norwegian who had already learned that lesson in his mother-country, must always bear in mind under this, the most democratic government under the sun, he can not depend upon some one else to exercise the duties incumbent upon a citizen. M. Svarerud introduced the speakers in a few well chosen remarks.

The remainder of the day was spent with music and song. The old songs were given with a vim, praising the land and its heroes. The day was a success, and here is to the people of Spencer Creek; your hospitality is only equalled by our appreciation.

One of them.

Typographical Union.

The Eugene Typographical Union met in their hall Sunday afternoon and elected officers for the ensuing year as follows: President, Harry M. Shaw, of the Register; W. M. Moore, Register, vice-president; Miss A. A. Miller, Guard, Secretary-Treasurer; B. H. Miller, Guard, Sergeant-at-arms.

Executive Committee, H. M. Shaw, R. H. Miller, W. M. Moore.

The printers union, though organized only eight months, is in a thriving condition, and every printer in town stands loyally by the Eugene Typographical Union No. 528.

Hermann's Hay Prices.

Albany Democrat: People with good sized heads are having considerable fun at the expense of Mr. Hermann. He remarked that hay is $20 a ton now, where it was only $7 under the Wilson bill, a fact he declared due to the high tariff. About as much to do with the tariff as the high water here in the winter. A year or two ago under the same laws it was only about $5. If due to the Dingley bill now certainly then just the same. A boy ten years old should be ashamed of such foolishness.

Married.

Miss Mabel Cluer and Thos. E. Morehead were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Cluer, 336 East Twelfth street, Saturday evening, May 16, 1903, Rev. H. A. Green, pastor of the Baptist church, officiating.

They are both popular young people, and their many friends tender congratulations.

They left on Sunday afternoon's train for Portland where they will reside.

Born.

To Mr. and Mrs. Mike Gross, Sunday, May 17, a fine girl baby.

TO VOTE ON THE $15,000 BONDS

City Council Orders Special Election on May 29 to Consider the Question.

At a special meeting of the city council held Saturday evening, it was voted to ask the citizens whether they were favorable to the establishment of the Jefferson street sewer and if so they will vote the $15,000 necessary, in the shape of bonds which will be floated in Eugene.

The sewer should be built. No city can make value of property increase rapidly without putting in these necessary improvements. Every citizen in the benefited district should vote in favor of the bonds. It means but little expense to connect and means a world of good to the city in the way of health.

"If this was not such a phenomenally healthy city," said a citizen the other day, "in spite of the arrangement of drinking wells, sewers and cesspools, the death rate would be terrible. In slightly unhealthy communities ten times the precautions against disease would have to be taken. Eugene gets off lucky when it is compared with other cities of the same size."

County Clerk Lee is busy preparing supplies to be used at the polling places in the various precincts on June 1st, the date of the special congressional election. The articles for each precinct are as follows:

A supply of white ballots, colored ballots, two poll books, three tally sheets, 20 official seals, two copies election laws, three pens and penholders, three bottles ink, four indelible copy pencils, three blotting pads, one needle and string, one stick sealing wax, one ballot box with keys.

PUT ONLY BALLOTS IN BOXES.

Clerk Lee wishes to impress upon the judges and clerks of election the matter of reading the election law carefully in regard to sealing the ballots in the boxes. The law states that the ballots shall be sealed in an envelope provided for the purpose, then place them and NOTHING ELSE in the ballot box which shall then be sealed.

At the last election considerable trouble was occasioned by the judges and clerks putting the tally sheets in the ballot boxes. It was necessary to have the tally sheets to make the official count, and an order of the court had to be obtained before the boxes could be opened and the sheets secured.
