

Weekly Eugene Guard.

SATURDAY JUNE 6.

Mr. Hermann will not forget this race for congress.

A child was born with teeth at Olympia, Washington, a few days ago. Probably his mother will feed him with a spoon. Some chances the natural way.

There are three million acres of arid land in Eastern Oregon, ninety per cent of which is tillable under irrigation. Storage of the water from the winter snows will make this bloom as the rose.

Premier Prior of British Columbia forced two members out of his cabinet last week. And today he is out of a job, having been dismissed from office by his superior, the lieutenant-governor, yesterday morning.

The first of June is rather a late date for a raging flood. And it is the state of Kansas that keeps up her reputation for things out of the ordinary with a very destructive flood just now, with great loss not only of property, but life.

That insane woman at the Salem asylum who set her dress afire at several places then gave no cry as the flames burnt her flesh, so no rescue could come, must have had great longing for the death that would relieve her of her living death.

Roseburg has a new daily paper, the Morning Plaindealer. The Evening Review is filling the limited newspaper field there splendidly, and it is too bad that the support it has been given should be divided. Roseburg may be able to support two dailies, but we doubt it. Better one strong paper than two weaklings.

Theron R. Strong, a senior in Yale University, who has been driving a hack in the emergency of the hack-drivers' strike, is under arrest for disturbing the peace, consequent to a dispute over the fare. Nothing particularly noteworthy about that except if his name was plain John Smith not a word would have been telegraphed about the occurrence.

That is a terrible tale of flood and death from Kansas City, four hundred drownings and forty thousand people homeless. At Armourdale, a suburb of Kansas City, blocks of three-story buildings crumbled before the flood. The Missouri River cut a channel through the center of the town, practically wiping it from the map.

Baron Shibusawa, visiting this country, was taken to the Chamber of Commerce and talked with the president. "I found," said the baron, "that he was a man of practical views. 'How can we make money?' seemed to be predominant in his conversation." What would the Japanese baron have the commerce man talk about? Society, dress, the ladies? And there's the weather.

The announcement that Joseph Chamberlain asked the King to bestow upon this wife a special mark of honor which his Majesty wished to confer on him, must have caused the most relentless enemy of the Colonial Secretary to lapse into momentary admiration. All the world loves a loving and gracious recognition of the obligation, and who is to measure Mr. Chamberlain's indebtedness to his American wife?

This Morning's Register: Mr. White will fold his tent and hie away to his home in Baker City. Mr. Lathrop will return to Portland and tell how it wasn't done, while the Guard can get what satisfaction it can out of 300 to 400 majority in Lane for Hermann whom it dubbed "a rascal."

The five thousand normal Republican majority in this congressional district has melted to less than two thousand. There is not a little "satisfaction" in that for the Guard, and Hermann is satisfied—one vote majority would satisfy him. Anything for office with Binger. What a load he is on his party's shoulders!

A recent census of Scotland and Ireland shows that neither country materially exceeds the state of Ohio in population and Ohio has room for a good many more people.

Six hundred and ninety-five immigrants were denied admission to the United States along the Canadian border alone, during the month of April. Most of those excluded were afflicted with some form of contagious disease.

China, according to the census just completed, has a population of 426,000,000. The inhabitants of Manchuria, Mongolia, Tibet and Turkestan were not counted, but their number was estimated.

Millionaire Swift once said that no man is rich enough to smoke 25-cent cigars. However, it is likely that Mr. Carnegie or Mr. Rockefeller could stand the strain of three or four a day without incurring a reputation for wild extravagance.

A postoffice official over in the Philippines has made a record that all but equals that of stealing a hot stove. He stole two thousand dollars of government money and with it the four hundred-pound safe in which the funds were placed.

A New York man excites the wonder of the medical profession by living with a bullet in his brain. Not so wonderful as living without brains, a condition that observant men see every day, that is if the actions of the unfortunates may be taken for proof.

President Elliott, of Harvard, is of the opinion that no man can work too hard. Possibly Professor Elliott has never tried it. Let him go to the country some day and take note of some farmer who has gone forth with his hoe at sunrise every morning and worked till sunset, and is bowed, broken and rheumatic at forty-five.

The American Society of Equity has issued a bulletin to the farmers of the United States, exhorting them not to sell wheat until the Chicago price reaches $1.00; and then to dump all they have on the market without waiting for a greater rise. We never heard of the American Society of Equity, and doubt if the farmers of the country ever heard of it before. Perhaps it has not the least connection with the speculative market; but one thing is certain. If the authors of this bulletin could have the assurance that the farmers of the country would follow their advice, they could enrich themselves beyond the dreams of avarice.

Howells' Aptness.

William Dean Howells—the "dean of American letters"—he has lately been called—strolled one evening through the Tenderloin of New York. Stout, broad, and looking very well-dressed in his loose English clothes, Mr. Howells glanced from right to left incessantly. He seemed to wish to see everything. A policeman whom he knew saluted him respectfully. "I suppose you're strolling about here, Mr. Howells," the policeman said, "picking up character, eh?" "Well, no not exactly," returned the author, "though plenty of that is lost about here, I'm told."

With the Loser.

Father—"There's something wrong with our William. He's a freak!" Mother—"How so?" Father—"Well, his sympathies are always with the cat in the cat-and-dog fight."

A Fifth Wheel.

Bridegroom—"What! Is your ma to go with us on our wedding journey?" Bride—"Of course, and you may thank your stars that we're going to take you."

And the Instructor Told the Truth.

"How is your youngest daughter getting on with her music?" "Splendidly," answered Mr. Cumrox. "Her instructor says that she plays Mozart in a way that Mozart himself would never have dreamed of."

ALFRED A. AYA, son of Lewis Aya of this city, who has been chosen to represent the graduating class of the U. O. law school at commencement exercises in Eugene this month.

SOCIAL EVENTS.

(Daily Guard, June 2.)

This afternoon at the home of Mrs. Geo Lilly a large gathering of friends were summoned to enjoy an afternoon reception of considerable magnitude with Mrs. Geo. Lilly, Mrs. Laura Bradley, and Mrs. Minnie Buckman as hostesses.

The guests numbered about one hundred and twenty-five. The home was elaborately decorated and in good taste. The June roses were in evidence on every hand. The hallway was in red, the dining room in beautiful white and green while the second and front parlors had a wealth of yellow and pink flowers. One of the pieces which attracted an amount of praise was the centerpiece on the dining table. It was composed of white roses set off with a pretty arrangement of fern and smilax. Misses Ella Dobie, Alice Bretherton, and Mary Gray presided at the dining table and Mrs. Elmer Roberts served the punch. Miss Marie Bradley assisted the hostess in receiving.

Mrs. S. P. Sladden on Friday entertained those of her friends who could not attend her delightful afternoon earlier in the week. High five was the amusement of the day and the tokens distributed fell to Mrs. Geo. W. Smith and Mrs. Laura Harris. The hostess was highly complimented by her guests for the enjoyable nature of the event. Following is a list of those present: Mesdames Chester Combs, H. E. Ankeny, R. McMurphy, T. Luckey, W. H. Abrams, Cottage Grove; L. L. Whitson, D. A. Paine, C. W. Lowe, B. L. Bogart, P. E. Snodgrass, G. R. Chrisman, J. S. Luckey, J. L. Robertson, F. W. Prentice, J. Goldsmith, Claire Willoughby, MacRea, Washington, D. C.; D. B. Jenckes, W. H. Hoffman, L. S. Logan, T. A. Gilbert, R. Gilbert, G. W. Smith, Adeline Church, Laura Harris, Minnie Washburne. Misses Mabel Brown, Ethel Allgire, Margaret Kinzie.

Cards are out for the wedding of Mr. W. Almond Hemenway of Cottage Grove and Miss Ora Elizabeth Read, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Read, of Pleasant Hill, to take place at the home of the bride's parents, June 14, 1903. Mr. Hemenway is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Hemenway of Cottage Grove, the junior member of the general merchandise firm of Garman, Hemenway Company. He is a young man of fine character and of sterling ability and worth. Miss Read is a lady of known merit throughout this section of Oregon. She has been a teacher in the Eugene schools for two years past.

There was a big sensation in Leesville, Ind., when W. H. Brown of that place, who was expected to die, had his life saved by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. He writes: "I endured insufferable agonies from Asthma, but your New Discovery gave me immediate relief and soon thereafter effected a complete cure." Similar cures of Consumption, Pneumonia, Bronchitis and Grip are numerous. It's the peerless remedy for all throat and lung troubles. Price 50 cents and $1. Guaranteed by W. L. Delano, druggist. Trial bottles free.

REWARD FOR COW.

A part Jersey left or was taken from my place, two and one-half miles southwest of Eugene Saturday night, May 30, or early Sunday morning. Is a large muley cow, light yellow, bushy part of tail missing. Perhaps 8 years old. Some marks on one ear. As the cow was in good milk and left twin calves, was supposedly stolen. Write me and get reward.

Matrimonial Snags.

"She wasn't like this before we married," muses Mr. Younghusband disconsolately. And he is quite right. If he would only carry the idea of change in his wife far enough he would be able to understand her feelings and sympathize with her condition. But his estimate of change stops at externals—at the tears, nervousness and irritability which are but surface symptoms of the real change she is undergoing.

There is no time when young women stand so much in need of good motherly advice as in the early days of married life, and there is perhaps no time when, as a rule, the young wife is left so entirely alone to grope her own way to happiness in doubt and uncertainty. Of the laws governing her womanly health she knows nothing. She becomes nervous, irritable, sleepless, dejected. To her, already, marriage is a failure. She sees long unhappy years before her, and shrinks from them.

THE HELP SHE NEEDS.

Evidently in such a case a woman needs help, and the help she needs will be found in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It will cure nervousness, sleeplessness and irritability, encourage the failing appetite, and bring back the physical buoyancy which has been lost. "When I wrote to you some time ago asking for advice I was in very poor health," writes Mrs. Ethel Trepto, Merrill (West Merrill), Wis., Box 51, "suffering continually with severe pains and terrible headaches, and confined to my bed the greater part of the time. I thought I was in a delicate condition, and thinking that something must be wrong I consulted three different doctors. None could tell me what my case was. One said that in no way could I be helped except by having an operation. Every woman dreads the thought of an operation, and so did I. After reading one of Dr. Pierce's pamphlets I decided to write to him. I did so, and was told my case resulted from catching cold and not properly caring for my health at the time of monthly period, also that my kidneys were in bad condition. My back was fairly sore from continual aching, and sometimes when I would lie down some one had to rub my back for nearly an hour before I could get any rest. I had a bad cough all the time, and my friends thought I had consumption, or was surely running into it. After taking three bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and two of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and two vials of Dr. Pierce's Pellets I am able to say truly that I am cured. I thank God and Dr. Pierce so much for being in as good health as I am to-day."

A GREAT RECORD.

Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes weak women strong, sick women well. In seven little words is summed up the cure of hundreds of thousands of weak and sick women. But it would take volumes to tell the story of these cures; for they cover every variety of womanly disease curable by medicine. Often the cure has passed the border line where the use of medicine ends and surgery begins, and is not a few cases where the sick woman had been told there was no help for her except in an operation, the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has restored her to perfect health and permanent health.

"I cannot express my joy and happiness, nor thank you enough for all the good your medicines have done for me," writes Mrs. Anna Russell, of Harrison, Maine, Box 102. "When I began taking your medicine my weight was 105 pounds, now it is 120. I was troubled with female weakness and had severe backache, ovarian trouble, also ulceration. Left lung was swollen nearly all the time and pained me very much so that at times it was all I could do to take my breath. For six years I suffered dreadfully all over and had many different medicines but with very little help, if any at all. I couldn't eat anything except it hurt me very much, would blight in bowels and have much pain. Had no appetite. A year ago last November I decided to write to Dr. Pierce, and received his kind advice, free. By following his instructions and taking the medicine faithfully I began to improve at once, and, although I have not taken a drop of medicine since last August, I feel perfectly well—better than I have for the last eight years. I believe that Dr. Pierce's medicines are a God-send to all suffering women. They saved me an operation, for three doctors told me I would never get well without going to a hospital and having an operation performed."

TO SUFFERING WOMEN.

This message comes to you from hundreds of thousands of women who were once sick and suffering: Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has completely cured us of disease and made us well and happy women. Can you afford if you are sick to neglect such an opportunity of cure? Other medicines may have failed you. Local physicians may have said you could not be cured. But if you have not tried "Favorite Prescription," you have neglected the use of the medicine which has cured when all other medicines failed, and doctors proclaimed a cure to be impossible.

Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. As a tonic and nerveine it is unequalled in its strengthening powers. It restores the lost health and gives back color to the cheek and plumpness to the form.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free, and so avoid the offensive examinations, indicate questions and obnoxious local treatments often deemed necessary by the home physician. All letters are treated as strictly private and are held confidential.
