

MALARIA AND YELLOW JACK

(From N. Y. Herald, January 14, 1902.)
"The widow of Dr. Lazear, who, in the employ of the Government, went to Cuba, was inoculated with Yellow Fever through mosquito bites, and died, applied to Congress for relief to-day."
The above tells of the sad culmination of a series of experiments by the Government, all of which proved conclusively that the familiar mosquito is a dangerous vehicle for carrying malaria, "Yellow Jack," and other malarial fevers.

Those who are exposed to mosquitoes or other malarial influences should take warning. Iron is the fighting element in the blood and provides nature with sufficient resistance to ward off disease. But if the blood is impure or impoverished, or if there is weakness, the blood has been lowered, and consequently there is danger. If you would escape, keep the blood pure and properly nourished with

Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic

It supplies the blood with iron in a natural way. It is recognized everywhere as the best blood purifier and tonic in use, and it has been used for half a century.

Houston, Tex., Aug. 1, 1901.
"I have used Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic myself and in my family for over twenty-five years, and can heartily recommend it. It is particularly valuable to ward off malarial and other fevers."

MAKE EUGENE A BASEBALL TOWN

The following from the Salem Journal should also apply to Eugene:
A town in this day of the world that is not a good baseball town is next to being not on the map of the American empire.

The directors of the Salem baseball league have made a splendid showing keeping their team at the top of the league column.

With good management and good team work, there should be a reduction of the disposition to employ hot air, instead of playing ball.

With this single criticism, The Journal calls on the people of Salem to do their part, and patronize the game whenever the Salem team plays.

There should be cordial rivalry to give the home team big crowds in the grandstand whenever they play, and give Salem a reputation of being a town where the national game gets hearty support.

If Salem gets that reputation and the team gets the discipline and pride of being well supported at home, thousands will come to Salem to see the game played.

Before this season is over Salem can have some of the greatest teams on the Pacific coast playing here. A town that is dead on baseball has no hope of the future before it, and the people of Salem must awaken to an interest in the only great American outdoor sport.

LOGGING ROAD GASE DECIDED

(Daily Guard, July 2.)

Judge Kincaid this afternoon decided the Fellman-Nicoll-Hurd logging road case in favor of Mr. Hurd. The evidence introduced showed that Mr. Hurd built a road in a narrow canyon at an expense of many hundred dollars, and if the Fellman-Nicoll road were established it would completely shut Mr. Hurd out, so the petition for the road was not allowed.

SHUTALLY TORTURED

A case came to light that for persistence and unmerciful torture has perhaps never been equaled. Joe Golobrick of Colusa, Calif., writes: "For 15 years I endured insufferable pain from rheumatism and nothing relieved me though I tried everything known. I came across Electric Bitters and its greatest medicine on earth for that trouble. A few bottles of it completely relieved and cured me." Just as good for liver and kidney troubles and general debility. Only 50 cents. Satisfaction guaranteed by W. L. DeLano, druggist.

STREET COMMISSIONER TURNER IS HAVING A SPRINKLING OF GRAVEL PUT ALONG THE EDGE OF THE CROSS-WALKS ON WILLAMETTE STREETS TODAY, WHERE IT HAS GROWN ROUGH.

A Salem couple started on their bridal trip determined that no one should know they were just married. They acted very demurely, but a sympathetic friend had put this on the end of their suit case: "We are newly married; please congratulate us," which of course everybody saw, and there was rice by the time Woodburn was reached.

INDIAN SHOOT FROM AMBUSH

Fresno, Cal., July 2.—A report has reached this city of a desperate battle among Indians on the Tulo River reservation, 30 miles back of Porterville, in the Sierras. Last week there was an Indian holiday, the chief features of which was horse racing. One of the principal contestants was an athletic young fellow named Bob Filas. He was the last man in the race and was taunted by his companions.

Both Filas and his companions had been drinking, and, smarting under the jibes of the other horsemen, he stole away to his cabin and secured his rifle. Sneaking back through the underbrush till he got within range of the other Indians, he opened fire upon them. One of the men had a revolver and returned the fire, but ineffectually. The lookers-on scattered rapidly, but not until four men were stretched upon the ground as a result of Filas' aim. He then took to the brush and is still at large.
