Eugene 3, Albany 2. Eugene 6, Albany 2. Salem 3, Roseburg 7. Fourth of July enthusiasm found glorious vent on the baseball grounds Saturday when Eugene and Albany mixed things on the diamond. Albany had strengthened its team wonderfully and put up a magnificent battle for the victory. The score, 3 to 2, shows the quality of the game. The whole holiday crowd was out to witness the contest and rooting was free for all.

Sunday's game seemed to be listless probably on account of too much celebration. Errors were plentiful and loose plays allowed Albany two runs when they might as well have been shut out.

The following tables tell the story of the games in detail:

NOTES.
Saturday's game has been protested by the Albany management because the umpire changed his decision, and by the change Eugene made the winning run. A fly was hit out past third. The umpire called it a foul, but when he saw where the ball struck and was convinced that he was wrong he called it a fair ball.

The Salem-Roseburg game Sunday was called off during the fourth inning on account of the rain. Roseburg was ahead when they quit.

While Umpire Westbrook's decisions Saturday were fair and impartial as a rule, he caused considerable dissatisfaction Sunday by calling a number of strikes when they were plainly balls.

Charley Strub, the idol of the ladies, made several bad errors at third Sunday, more than he ought to have made. But never mind Charley, no player is infallible. It was your off day.

The grounds Sunday were a little sticky, making fast playing almost impossible.

No better game than Saturday's was ever witnessed in Eugene. Over 1000 people paid admission at the gate while a hundred or more climbed the fence.

Albany's battery Saturday did splendid work, as the score testifies. In Sunday's game the team was considerably weakened by playing Bilyeu and Keil in the box and behind the bat respectively.

Did you ever see a prettier or quicker double play than was pulled off by Harper and O'Day Saturday? Bill Chapin's home run yesterday brought him a shower of half dollar pieces from the grand stand. Bill is a swatter from Swattersville.

"Toots" Somers fulfilled the expectations of his many admirers yesterday. Pratt also pitched a splendid game Saturday.

Springfield Rebekahs.

News: Juanita Rebekah lodge held another interesting meeting and social entertainment last Monday evening at the I. O. O. F. hall. Before the adjournment ice cream, cake, etc., were served.

Thrown From a Buggy.

Jessie Calkins, the little daughter of Attorney W. W. Calkins, was thrown from a buggy today about noon while driving the family horse down East Eleventh street.

Besides a severe shaking up and a bad scare, she sustained no serious injuries.

The cause of the runaway is not known exactly but it is thought that the horse was feeling a little playful and she could not control him.

Died.

At the family home in Perkins addition to Cottage Grove, July 1, 1903, Mrs. Geo. H. Young, of consumption, aged 41 years and 8 months.

Born.

The Springfield News presents a much improved appearance with last week's issue.

The small boy mentioned in the Guard a few days ago as being lost has been found with the Arnold Shoe Company. His height was five feet instead of 10, as his mother stated.

Mrs. Wm. Perman of Cottage Grove, who was recently arrested at Junction City for the alleged theft of a ring, was discharged, the evidence not being sufficient to convict.

The Portland Mercantile Co., of Springfield, who bought out the Fischer store some time ago are erecting a large store building and warehouse at Fall Creek which will be filled with a $10,000 stock of goods. Mr. Allen, the senior member of the firm, is in Portland buying the goods and adjusting other business matters, preparatory to moving his family to Springfield. Frank Blair, of Eugene, another member of the firm, will divide his time between Springfield and Fall Creek.

DRAGGED TO HIS DEATH

Marcola, July 6.—Friday afternoon a most distressing accident occurred on the farm of I. E. Ernest, two miles above Marcola. As his son Elijah, a bright boy of nine years, was driving the hay rake the horses got beyond his control and finally ran away. In some unaccountable way the lines became tangled about his waist and he was dragged about 40 rods. He lived only a moment after they brought him into the house. His father in trying to catch the horses was thrown under the rake and received a severe scalp wound and other bruises. His mother was just ready to start to Trent for a final rehearsal of the music for the picnic planned for the Fourth. Instead a messenger was dispatched to summon relatives and call off the picnic.

Saturday afternoon he was laid away in the Purtle church yard.

Rev. Gettings of Eugene conducted the services at the church and a large number of friends assembled to pay their last tribute of love and show their sympathy and sorrow. At the conclusion of the services the boys and girls—his little playmates—covered the grave with beautiful flowers, which loving friends had provided.

Mr. Ernest and family came to Oregon from Dakota about three years ago and lived in Eugene six months before coming up the Mohawk. Elijah was their eldest son.

They have the sympathy of everyone in the community in this their time of sorrow and bereavement.

Born.

To the wife of Hermann Ray, at Lorane, June 29, 1903, an 8½ pound daughter.

July 1, 1903, to Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Bean, on the Lower Siuslaw, a son.

The cold weather has disappeared and warmth is again a feature of the atmosphere. But we hope Oregon is not becoming Californized.

The Albany Democrat editor welcomes the return to humdrum existence after the very strenuous carnival week. We find that we have the easiest time to dish up a good paper when everything else is strenuous. When "humdrum" existence happens news is scarce.

Lebanon Criterion: I. E. Stevens of Eugene, was in this city last Thursday, and drove to Sodaville, to see W. W. Parish, who is an old comrade of Mr. Stevens, in the Indian wars of 1856-6. These men had never met from the day of their discharge until last Thursday, a period of 46 years. They enjoyed the meeting very much and took occasion to talk over old times.

The initiative and referendum amendment to the Oregon constitution was pronounced invalid yesterday by the circuit court of Multnomah county. The opinion was rendered by Judge Cleland and was concurred in by Judges Frazer, Sears and George. The decision is of far reaching importance, inasmuch as if upheld by the supreme court it will restore all legislative powers to the legislative assembly.

Streetcar Collision.

(Scripps News Association.)
St. Louis, July 3.—A terrible accident occurred at the intersection of Olive and Jefferson streets in this city this forenoon.

Four were killed outright and twenty-five injured.

Texas Cloudburst.

(Scripps News Association.)
Gainesville, Texas, July 3.—A terrible cloudburst took place a short distance above the city last night. The creek bed here was entirely unable to carry the rushing flood and it ran through the streets, causing great destruction of property and considerable loss of life. Thousands took to roofs of stores, residences or barns, wherever possible to escape the water.

A number of bodies have been recovered, while many are missing. (Gainesville is situated in the north central part of Texas, on the banks of a small creek. The 1900 census gave it a population of 7,874. —Ed. Guard.)

Spokane Tragedy.

(Scripps News Association.)
Spokane, July 3.—The body of an unknown man was found on the river bank under the Monroe street bridge early this morning.

His head was crushed by blows from an iron bar which the murderer had left by his victim as he fled.

The pockets were turned inside out, an indication that robbery was the motive of the murder. The ground along the bank showed that the body had been dragged some distance.

He is supposed to be a man who sold whisky to Indians.

(Guard Special Service.)
Junction City, July 3.—Mrs. Paridine Nibert, the wife of Aid Nibert, died at her home in Junction City this morning at 2 o'clock.

The Albany Lady and the Snake

(Salem Journal.)
A show man at Albany says that there are more ladies in that city interested in watching the snakes than in any other city he has ever been in. This shows the Eden-like naturalness and charming naivete of the bright eyed, bewitching heart-hypnotizers of the valley town, famous alike for its beauty and its beer.

H. W. Davis of this place, has purchased the City Drug Store at Halsey from Dr. T. Marks, the price paid being $3000. Mr. Davis is an experienced druggist and will no doubt make a success. He owned the drugstore before and sold out two years before.
