Russia Makes Imperative De mands on Turkey ... Jeffries-Corbett Fight Receipts.

(Scripps News Association.) San Francisco, Aug. 15.-James J. leffries, champion heavyweight prizefighter of the world, defeated James J. Corbett, in the tenth round last night.

A blow on the stomach sent the conqueror of John L. Sullivan and ex-champion to the floor in agony. He gained his feet and faced the champion again almost without hesitation, only to meet with another blow on the stomach from Jeffries' right, landed with terrible execution, Corbett dropped to the floor as if shot and his seconds gave up the fight.

There was little betting on the fight, it being considered a foregone conclasion that Jeffries would win. Bets were freely made though that Corbett would not last twelve rounds.
