NEW MOSBY CREEK MILL

Cottage Grove, Aug. 24.—Senator R. A. Booth was in this city the other day conferring with President Heugen, of the Oregon & Southeastern Railroad, with reference to that company building a spur of its line up Mosby Creek, a distance of about eight miles to tap valuable timber lands belonging to the Booth-Kelly Company. Arrangements are not yet complete, but the Booth-Kelly Company proposes to put in a sawmill plant on Mosby Creek of 100,000 feet capacity per day, if arrangements can be made for transportation facilities with the railroad.

THE NEW BANK.
Mr. Booth was also conferring with Mr. J. I. Jones with reference to the new bank to be organized here, and it is understood that he will become a heavy stockholder in the concern. All the foundation work for the Jones and Phillip two-story brick building is completed, and the contractor has orders to rush the building to completion. The corner room of the building will be occupied by the new bank and a safe and vault door have already been purchased at an expense of $1,500.

SOCIAL REALM.

(Daily Guard, August 24.)
C. M. Elspass, proprietor of the Eugene creamery, was given a surprise party last Friday evening at his home on East Tenth and Mill streets in honor of the 30th anniversary of his birth.

The party consisted of sixteen couples and a most enjoyable evening was spent till the "wee small" hours when the guests departed, wishing Mr. Elspass many happy returns of the day.

Games and social chat were indulged in and a dainty luncheon was served. Mr. Elspass proved himself to be a splendid entertainer and jovial host. It was one of the most pleasant affairs of the summer.

Mr. Edwin Jeary, of Elmwood, Nebraska, who is visiting in this city with his daughters Mary and Lena, gave an informal dinner at the Gross House yesterday to a number of old time Elmwood friends who are now residents of Eugene. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Horton and son Irl; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rivett and son Floyd; Mr. and Mrs. John C. Current; Mrs. Eliza Stacy; Mrs. Anna Hobbs-Alley; Miss Grace Hobbs; Miss May Jeary and Miss Lena Jeary. Mr. Jeary is president of the First National Bank of Elmwood, Nebraska, and is on a tour of the Pacific coast with his daughters. This little meeting of friends was heartily enjoyed by all, and the management of the Gross House came in for a large share of praise for adding so much to the enjoyment of the occasion.

McKENZIE ELEVATIONS

Great Power Between Belknap Bridge and Blue River.

Result of Prof. McAllister's Survey Shows the Extent of Power in the River.

Prof. E. H. McAllister, of the University of Oregon, who recently made a survey of the McKenzie river to find its elevations and extent of power which could be developed, finds that at Belknap bridge, seven miles from the mouth of Blue River on the McKenzie, the elevation is 1215 feet above sea level. At the mouth of Blue river the elevation is 970 feet above sea level, showing a fall of 245 feet in seven miles, or 35 feet to the mile.

This fall indicates an enormous power in the river current. The exact figures are not now obtainable but the result is entirely satisfactory to the Lucky Boy Mining Company, which is to make use of the McKenzie as a source of power for the immense electric plant which is being built at the present time.

HERMANN ON THE SIUSLAW

Florence West: Hon. Binger Hermann, representative in congress from the first district of Oregon, has been spending a couple of days on the Siuslaw, informing himself of the needs of this section of the state, its resources and development. He came in by way of Eugene, arriving at Mapleton Wednesday noon. Here he was met by a delegation of citizens from Florence and Acme and conveyed to the latter town.

Thursday morning he took a trip around the town, visiting the mills and other places of interest, then boarded the steamer for Florence. Here he received a hearty welcome by the citizens, and during the afternoon took a trip to the jetty on the steamer Lillian, accompanied by several of the business men of Florence and Acme.

After spending some time looking over the work already done, considering the plan for the jetties as drawn by the engineers, and acquainting himself with what is needed to improve the bar, the party returned to town.

Mr. Hermann expressed himself as greatly pleased at the improvement made on the river since his last visit thirteen years ago. He remained here over night and left early this morning on Barrett's stage.

Killed Eighteen Deer.

P. D. Paine, who left some time ago with a party of eight, for a hunt out in Southwestern Oregon, returned home Sunday. Mr. Paine told a Guard reporter today that the party killed 18 deer on the trip and saw some of the finest scenery in the world.

Leaving Roseburg they drove 28 miles to Camas Prairie, packed 30 miles to the Coquille river, then went over into the Rogue River country. This country is seldom visited by hunters, but Mr. Paine says there is a well defined trail leading there, made by the few who have been in there. They saw no elk or bear, it being a little too early for the latter.

The office rooms in the Old Fellows' block are being fitted up for the office of Dr. Hosmer, the nose, eye and ear specialist, who will soon remove to this city from Cottage Grove, as before stated by the Guard.

The Cottage Grove public schools will open Sept. 21. The teachers are: Prof. Briggs, principal; Misses Estelle Armitage, Gertrude Hamble, Mickey Hemenway, Newland, Taylor, Kelly and Mrs. Lincoln Taylor.

BETTER LOCATION IS IN EUGENE

The Albany Herald states that the Commercial Department of the Albany College has been offered to Prof. F. S. Haroun and Mrs. Haroun, who have been in Eugene preparing to establish a commercial college in this city to open September 14.

Prof. Haroun was shown the clipping in his office this morning and said:

"It is true that Mrs. Haroun and myself have been offered the position. Dr. Lee and I have been in correspondence concerning the matter and I have informed the authorities there that if they would allow me to select a head of the department, I would take the department and conduct it from my Eugene office."

"I consider Eugene the best place to open the school and will not consent to go to Albany and personally conduct the business department of Albany College. It is only on these conditions that I will accept. The position is a good one and I hope they will accept my proposal regarding it. The plan of inter-communication between business colleges could be adopted between the two schools very nicely and all the work go on without interruption, directed from the Eugene office."

MAY HAVE BEEN POISONED

Dr. C. H. Atwood returned Sunday afternoon from the western part of the county, where he went to attend a man by the name of Swedler at Swiss Home, but he died shortly after the doctor left here.

The man's wife wrote to Dr. Atwood stating that she thought her husband had been poisoned in some way. He had been sick for about a week, occasionally frothed at the mouth and a week ago Sunday they thought he was dead. They laid him out for burial but several days later he revived and lived several days longer, expiring Friday night.

The doctor did not reach the place, being apprised of the man's death several miles this side of there by the stage driver.

It is not known what Swedler ate to cause his death, but the people in that vicinity seem to think he was poisoned.

There was no physician near and he had no medical attention at all aside from what was given him by the family.

REPRESENTATIVE OF BIG PEOPLE

Mr. Hanna, Coast representative of "The Packers," the largest publication devoted to fruit in the world, published in six sections in Kansas City, Mo., was in Eugene Saturday evening. He was on his way south through the valley, noting the various conditions in Oregon at every stopping place along the road. His paper runs special Pacific coast departments and every issue contains valuable information concerning the fruit of all the world.

"Oregon growers have yet to learn the advantages and opportunities awaiting them," said Mr. Hanna. "The fruit this country is capable of producing would put California in the shade. You have a wonderful valley, a great climate and a rich soil. When Oregon gets to raising fruit on a scale commensurate with the producing ability, let other sections look to their laurels. But Oregon should commence the work. There are many fine little patches of orchards, rich in bearing and they need little attention. Let them spread. The railway accommodations will come when the fruit is ready to be picked."

Night School.

Miss Minerva Hemenway, who has been a teacher in the Spokane public schools, has resigned from her place and decided to open a night school in Eugene. She will conduct the school at Thirteenth and Pearl streets and will be ready for the opening session September 14. There are many who wish to take advantage of hours outside of business to better their education.

Born.

The Lane county bridge crew, in charge of A. N. Striker, order their Daily Guard changed from Deadwood to Swiss Home postoffice.

The occupants of the Chinese laundry on Eighth street are having internal dissensions. It is feared that unless they compromise a boxer uprising may be the outcome.

The rain storm Saturday morning and Friday evening in Eugene amounted to an inch and a half. The surface is thoroughly wet and the street sprinkler is out of commission for a few days.

The Postville ice cream freezer is the simplest, because it has fewer parts and best because it freezes quicker and smoother cream. We sell them.

FALL CREEK WILL BOOM

Mining Locations Indicate Faith in the Locality.

Easy of Access and Believed to Be Rich in Resources— Capital Will Be Soon Attracted.

The records of the mining locations constantly being made in the Fall Creek district indicate that there is a strong belief among mining men that that district has a golden future. Dozens of claims have been taken up in that locality during the past year and hardly a week passes by but new ones are being entered on the records of the county clerk of Lane county.

The reasons for this quiet activity among those looking for good mining claims are said to be simply on account of the promising features about the district from a gold-bearing standpoint. Fall Creek is situated about 10 miles east of Eugene, is easy of access by fairly good roads and has a considerable supply of water from which power could easily be developed. Prospectors have traversed its surface over and plenty of indications have been found as to the gold-producing character of the region. Experts have examined the creek and give as their opinion that Fall Creek is as valuable in gold deposits as other localities which have been under development for the past ten years and more.

DEVELOPMENT WILL COME.

There has been no development, beyond a casual prospecting and a little placer work, done in the Fall Creek region. The locality awaits the recognition and "discovery" which always comes to the worthy mining district. Men who have claims in the Fall Creek country, and they number near one hundred, expect good capital to be attracted to their holdings, sooner or later. Local capital is declared to be too conservative for risk in developing mines and is even chary about investment in the well known Blue River and Bohemia properties. But the time will come, so the claim-holders declare, when the needed money for a big establishment in Fall Creek for the development of mines which will turn out the golden metal. From the activity in taking up locations in that district this time cannot be very far off.

CRUSHED BY FALLING BARN

Joseph McFall, a young man who resides seven miles west of Eugene on the McFall farm, met with an accident Saturday afternoon which may prove fatal. He was assisting in building a barn and the structure was but partly finished when he ascended a ladder about 25 feet from the ground. In some way the frame of the building became loosened and let his ladder slip, throwing young McFall 22 feet to the ground upon his back. The frame of the barn continued to fall and the whole side fell upon the unconscious and prostrate man.

He was hurriedly extracted from the ruins and was thought to be dead. His injuries were attended to as well as possible and yesterday morning he was able to be moved to Eugene. He was taken to the home of his father, S. T. McFall, 429 Olive street, where Drs. F. M. Day and T. W. Harris attended him. The injuries are said to be quiet serious.

This evening the young man was restless. An operation which will tend to correct internal injuries may be attempted.

HAD CHANGE OF HEART

Some time ago F. E. Dunn, the dry goods merchant, received the following letter:

Mr. Frank Dunn, Eugene, Oregon:
"Dear sir:—About three or four years ago I was in your store and saw a blue lumber markers' pencil on one of your counters and took a fancy to it and stole it. About five months ago I was converted and the Lord made it plain to me that I must make restitution. Enclosed you will find the balance of the pencil and 10 cents in stamps. Please forgive me."
"Your humble servant,"

The name was signed and the address of the writer given, but the Guard will refrain from printing it, as the writer is a well known resident of the county.

OWNER OF THE SACKS FOUND

Readers of the Guard will remember an item printed in this paper last Thursday telling about a man trying to dispose of 650 wheat sacks to various persons in Eugene, and when he saw the sheriff coming ran away and has not been seen since.

HE READ THE GUARD.

It now appears that the sacks belong to Casper Ziroff, of Corvallis, who saw the item in the Guard and forthwith wrote to Sheriff Fisk that the sacks were his and were stolen from him some time ago. He arrived today to get the sacks and take them home. They have been at the Ax Billy Department Store, where the fellow tried to dispose of them.

Birthday Dinner.

(Daily Guard, August 25.)
A birthday dinner was given today at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Keeney, 374 East Fourteenth street, this being the 74th anniversary of "Uncle John" Kitchen's birthday. "Uncle John" was a Union soldier 40 years ago and has made his home in Lane county for many years past. His many friends wish that he may live to see many more years roll around. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Keeney, Masters Artie and Clara Keeney, B. F. Keeney, (Goshen), "Uncle John" Kitchen, Mr. and Mrs. S. Handsaker, Mrs. J. J. Handsaker.

David Cherry's Estate.

County Judge Kincaid made an order yesterday appointing Harry D. Cherry administrator of the estate of his father, David Cherry, who died in Portland the other day. The probable value of the estate is $30,000, and the only heirs at law are Harry D. and Rolt. W. A., sons of the deceased.

The administrator has filed the necessary bond of $30,000 with S. B. Eakin as surety. Mr. Cherry had made no will.

Prominent Nebraska Visitor.

Hiram Fisk, a prominent cattleman of Sidney, Nebraska, arrived in Eugene yesterday morning on a visit of several weeks with his nephew, Sheriff Fred Fisk. The gentleman spent the winter of 1904-05 in this vicinity. When some one asked him if he noticed much change in the country in that time Mr. Fisk looked up at the rain and said: "Well, it was raining when I was here before and it is raining now; I can't see that there has been much change."
