Thanks to the the largest in the world, is to shut ruined home crop, Cailfornia fruit is being imported in larger quantities than ever before. The sales last week in London marked a record with 25,-000 boxes of American fruit, representing about 675,000 pounds weight. The fruit was sold at a two days' auction in Covent Garden Market, the prices averaging 30 per cent above what has heretofore been obtained here. The sales were chiefly of California pears and plums with a fair consignment of New York state Bartlett pears

There is practically no English fruit obtainable, while France, which usually exports large quantities of pears to England, is sending none. The American section of Covent Garden market is now almost the sole source of supply, and there are no signs of the demand decreasing. American apples, which hitherto would not be profitably shipped hither till later in the year, now have a brisk trade. Forty-two thousand barrels of Canadian apples are expected in the London market today, and record prices are assured.
