WOOD WANTED.

The subscribers of the Guard who wish to pay their subscription in wood, will please deliver the same as soon as possible.

ANOTHER RICH FIND

Great Deposit of Free Milling Ore in Belle of Fairview.

North Fairview Company Opened Up Another Wonderful Body of Ore in Bohemia.

Report has just been received that the North Fairview Mining Company of Bohemia has opened up another wonderful body of ore on the Belle of Fairview claim, showing probably the largest deposit of free milling ore ever struck in this section.

Tunnels and shafts already made block out over 100,000 tons of oxidized decomposed quartz, carrying an average of $7 per ton in free gold.

The ledge is a great true fissure and is from 18 to 40 feet wide where it has been opened up in the different crosscut tunnels.

The ore shows continuous croppings for 2,300 feet over on the west slope of Fairview Mountain and from the present indications there is over 1,000,000 tons of the same quality as that already blocked out, and the vein is 40 feet wide at the west end of the claims, where a tunnel on the vein will tap the ore body at a vertical depth of 1200 feet.

This ore can be mined and milled for $1.50 per ton, which leaves a handsome profit for the owners.

This big strike is on the same vein on which the recent rich strike was made, an account of which appeared in the Guard. The new strike is about 5000 feet west of that point.

REMARK-ABLE CURE OF KUBLI

Former Eugene Athlete at Death's Door, Well Again.

Drank Water From a Wonderful Spring and Was Cured After Noted Physicians Had Given Him Up.

The Oregonian tells of the remarkable cure of K. K. Kubli, a former well known University of Oregon athlete, and who graduated in 1893.

While playing football in Eugene, he met with an accident, having been batted squarely in the face by another of the players, and sustained a fracture of the bones of the nose. The damage was repaired, and the only noticeable result was a slight cant of his nose to one side.

The story goes on to tell how Kubli distinguished himself in the East on the gridiron and in other athletics, until his fame became world-wide; how after finishing his education he took up his father's work in the Southern Oregon mines and, how after about a year's work he suffered a serious attack of catarrh. This was just about a year ago. He consulted a doctor, and was led to submit to an operation for the cure of the catarrh, following which, and as he believes, caused by it, his nasal bones, injured ten years before, were attacked by necrosis. This dreadful disease speedily extended to his frontal bone or skull, just above the eyes, and his condition became very serious. Another doctor was called into consultation, but soon pronounced the case hopeless.

He then took a trip to San Francisco and Los Angeles and received treatment, but he gradually grew worse. Finally a doctor told him that there was just one chance for him. If he would have his frontal bone sawed out and a silver plate put in its place, the bones of his nose removed and a silver substitute put in, there was a bare chance of his life being prolonged, though it was probable that the operation would kill him.

As Mr. Kubli had spent $2000 in dealing with doctors and didn't want to die right away, he declined the offer.

A WONDERFUL SPRING. He knew of a wonderful mineral spring in the Siskiyou mountains, near which his father had located a mining claim many years ago. He decided to go there, hoping that the change would do him good. At this time he was near death's door, but as soon as he was able to be went to the spring and stayed there four months. He returned to his work a few days ago a sound man, not a scar or mark on his face, and his nose, which had been knocked askew ten years ago, as straight as anybody's. All this from drinking and washing in the waters of that spring.

Quite a shower we've been having. The farmers are hardly ready for it yet.

School has opened with Mr. Bertch, of Springfield, as teacher.

Mrs. Nancy Griffith is quite sick. Drs. Attwood are in attendance.

E. Bowen has moved on his ranch here, and we are now left without a ferryman.

was released he stole some neck ties, stick pins and other small articles from the Minnesota Hotel in this city. The late Sheriff Withers caught him near Drain and he was sentenced to one year in the penitentiary by Judge Hamilton at the March, 1901, term of circuit court.

Frost served his year in the pen and the next heard of him by the local officers was that he was wanted in Douglas county for burglary. He dropped out of sight for awhile and appeared recently in Harney county, where the terrible tragedy was enacted while the officers were attempting to make the fugitive's arrest.

The officers here did not class Frost as a bad man, only placing him in the petty thief class.
