WATTS BOUGHT JANNEY STOCK

Will Conduct the Jewelry Store on Ninth Street.

J. O. Watts, the optician and pioneer jeweler, has succeeded in securing the M. R. Janney bankrupt stock of jewelry, his bid being the highest. Mr. Watts will reopen the place at once and continue the business at Janney's old stand. He is too well known in Eugene to need any introduction at our hands. He was formerly in the jewelry business, selling out to Janney & Meyer, Mr. Meyer selling his interest to Mr. Janney. Mr. Watts will conduct his optical business in connection with the jewelry business.

ACCUSED OF HAVING CONCEALED GUN

(Daily Guard, October 5.)

As the outcome of an altercation at the race track last Friday afternoon, between Les Galbraith, the jockey, and A. W. Ream, in which a pistol was seen in Galbraith's possession, Galbraith was tried this afternoon before Justice C. A. Wintermeyer and a jury, on the charge of carrying a concealed weapon. The jury was as follows: F. T. Plank, J. M. Gearhart, Mat Purkerson, M. Schneider, Chas. Croner, Sr., and John Blanton. Deputy Prosecuting Attorney L. T. Harris appeared for the state, and C. A. Hardy was Galbraith's attorney. The jury went out at 4:10 o'clock and returned a verdict of not guilty.

A Hop Sale.

Hall & Son today bought 37 bales of hops from Geo. Yarnell, the price being 22 cents. This one of the first sales of the 1903 crop.

SUIT ON A PRUNE CONTRACT

George Widmer Sues for Damage For Non-Compliance with Contract.

George Widmer has commenced suit in the circuit court against Rust & Page, who own a fruit farm below the city, for damages in the sum of $75, and to recover $75.38.

The suit is the outcome of an alleged non-compliance with a contract made between Widmer and Rust & Page in which the latter agreed to buy the former's crop of prunes. Widmer alleges that he delivered 16,985 pounds of the prunes, but Rust & Page refused to accept 15,900 pounds more which were left on the trees and rotted. He states that he was depending upon the contract made for the purchase of the prunes or could have made other arrangements for their sale. He claims that he is damaged in the sum of $75, and also seeks to recover $75.38, the price for the prunes delivered, only $5.04 having been paid.

DEATH OF MRS. ELLA LYNES

Died at Her Home in Eugene After Three Months' Illness.

Mrs. Ella Lynes, wife of David Lynes, aged 50 years, died this morning at 8 o'clock, at 311 East Eighth street, after an illness of three months' duration. Mr. and Mrs. Lynes and family have been residing in Eugene for about a year, having come here from California. The remains will be taken to Jefferson on tonight's train for burial, that place being Mrs. Lynes' former home. Besides her husband, the deceased leaves a sister, Mrs. C. McAlpin, of Eugene, and four children as follows: Myrtle, Gladys and Lillie, daughters, and Pearl, son. Mrs. Lynes was a member of the local M. E. church. She had many friends who will mourn her demise.

WILL ENGAGE IN BUSINESS

Another Store for Eugene--E. H. Will, of Aurora the Man.

E. H. Will left this week for Eugene, where he will go into business. His wife left for Portland to visit friends, after which she will join Mr. Will at Eugene--Aurora Borealis. Mr. Will conducted a general merchandise store at Aurora and is said to be a first-class business man. The Guard welcomes him and his family to our midst.

BNQUET CAFE CLOSSES BUSINESS

Chas. Austin, who purchased the Banquet Cafe from M. R. Janney last July, closed the doors of the establishment last night and announced that the place would cease business. The Guard regrets to see Mr. Austin close the place, as he was giving excellent service. But the business didn't seem to justify him continuing it.

THE FAIR BOARD AUDITS BILLS

(Daily Guard, October 5.)

The District Fair Board held a meeting this morning and audited a number of bills. It was found that the receipts at the fair will enable the board to come out with some money ahead.

John Barger, of Roseburg, is in the city.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

(Guard Special Service.)

Elmira, Oct. 5--W. Nichols made Eugene a business call last week.

Mrs. Fred Hockley is reported on the sick list.

Mr. Haggerty arrived home from Alaska, where he and his son Charles, have been for upwards of two years. Charles will arrive in a few days.

Miss Annie Inman is very sick with typhoid fever. She is now in Eugene.

E. W. Jordan spent Friday and Saturday near Monroe.

W. T. Kayser, of Cottage Grove, was in Elmira last Saturday.

Mrs. F. C. Walters is very sick at this writing.

Miss Allice Fisk will open the Thompson-Inman school next Monday, Oct. 5. This will be her fourth term at this place.

Charles Inman finished sawing wood, and is now on his road home with his machine.

Several new families arrived in Elmira this week. It is reported that the men are going to log for the Walters' Milling Company.

Clate Inman came very near being gored to death by a wild deer last week.

More Sheep to be Shipped.

Pickard and Stewart will ship another train load of sheep to San Francisco as soon as the company can furnish the cars. The last train-load consisted of 18 cars and it is expected that the next one will be as large or larger.

Free Ferry.

The Linn county court has made the ferry across the Willamette at Harrisburg a free ferry. This move was long delayed but is better late than never.

DISSOLUTION OF PARTNERSHIP.

Notice is hereby given that the partnership heretofore existing between W. L. McFarland and G. W. Lill has this day been dissolved.

Parties indebted to the late firm are requested to call at the shop and make settlement.

Eugene Oct. 5, 1903.
W. L. McFarland
G. W. Lill.

Old Timers Meet.

A few days ago P. H. Farrell, for many years leader of the Eugene Brass Band, and who recently came here from Woodburn to work awhile for E. C. Lake, met James McClaren on the street and were talking of Eugene when it was a village.

Presently a stranger, well-dressed, accosted them and called each by name. Neither McClaren nor Farrell could place the man in their memory of the past. "Why," said the stranger to Farrell, "You don't mean to say you don't know me? I played alongside of you in the band here for years." But Farrell was at sea and McClaren couldn't help him out.

The stranger was A. L. Johnson, a former Eugene man, now a leading photographer of Tacoma. McClaren and Farrell admitted the treats were on them.

Teaches at Monroe.

Prof. Ross Matthews, of Eugene, has accepted the principalship of the Monroe public schools, and went down there today to make arrangements to move his family to that place for the opening of the schools, which will be soon.

Prof. Matthews is a competent teacher and will no doubt give satisfaction at Monroe.

APPROACH WENT OUT

New Span of the Colburg Bridge Destroyed.

A Drive of Logs Struck the Falsework and Tore the Structure Out.

(Daily Guard, October 6.)

A telephone message to the Guard at 8 o'clock this morning brought the first information that the new south approach to the Colburg bridge was washed away early this morning.

The Guard immediately telephoned to Judge Kincaid, who hunted up Commissioner Edwards and sent him over to the bridge to ascertain the extent of the damage and the cause of the accident.

The approach which was washed away is the one which G. W. Taylor was building, was 104 feet long and was finished except for the log guards which hold had not yet been constructed.

LOGS CAUSED IT.

A big drive of logs for the Booth-Kelly Lumber Company's mill at Colburg began arriving at the bridge yesterday.

The heavy logs would strike the falsework, which had not yet been taken away, and at once Contractor Taylor saw that the new approach was in danger. He warned the drivers of the logs of the danger but it seems the drive was too far along and could not be stopped.

To make matters worse the rains of the past few days caused the river to rise two feet during the night.

All last night a force of men worked to prevent the destruction of the new approach, but their efforts were unavailing. Early this morning the entire approach went down with a crash and is a total loss.

It will probably cost as much to rebuild the approach as it did to construct it new.

DAMAGE NOT SO GREAT.

Commissioner Edwards returned from the bridge late this afternoon. He told the Guard that the damage was not so great as first reported.

The falsework and the old portion of the approach were washed away, but the newly built part remained intact.

Aside from the loss of time the damage is not very great. Mr. Edwards said he thought it would not amount to much more than $100.

TERRIFIC STORM IN EUROPEAN WATERS

Numerous Marine Casualties--Great Loss of Life Reported.

Berlin, Oct. 6.--A terrific storm swept over the Baltic and North Seas today. A number of maritime casualties are reported. The steamer Finburg foundered and thirteen persons were drowned. The bark Clara was also wrecked off the coast of Schleswig, and twelve persons drowned.

Important Labor News.

New York, Oct. 6.--Sam Parks, President of the Iron and Steel Workers' Amalgamated Association, arrived here yesterday. He denied the report that he would call another strike in the iron building trades.

Parks announces that he will voluntarily retire from the leadership of the iron workers.

Suicide of a Big Italian.

Paris, Oct. 6.--The body of Count Poggio, formerly Italian consul at Paris, was found at Seine this morning. He had suicided because of financial embarrassment.
