CHICAGO HOLOCAUST INQUIRY

Mayor Said City Lacked Funds to Enforce Laws.

Was Custom to Pass by Antiquated, impractical Ordinances.

Chicago, Jan. 13.—Mayor Harrison, Fire Marshal Misham and Inspector Laughlin have been summoned by Coroner Traper to appear before the jury in the Iroquois theatre fire inquiry this afternoon and explain why the ordinances regarding theatres were not enforced as soon as the discovery of their violation was made, instead of turning over the report to the council where it eventually landed in a pigeon hole?

Mayor Harrison admitted that he fail e to take action on the report other than to refer it to the council. Said it was the custom that antiquated and impractical laws should not be enforced. After the fire he ordered the theatres closed. Chicago lacked money to properly conduct any department.

INTERMINABLE CHICAGO TRIAL

Only One Juror Secured in Carbarn Bandits' Trial During Two Weeks.

Chicago, Jan. 13.—Aonther panel of a hundred men was exhausted this forenoon in the attempt to secure a jury in the carbarn bandits' trial. Only one juror has been secured thus far during the two weeks of the trial.

VANDINE'S SWEETHEART.

The court reversed the order of yesterday excluding Miss Mamie Dunn, sweetheart of Vandine, one of the defendants, from the courtroom, a file having been found concealed in her clothing yesterday. She was permitted to resume her seat in the courtroom.

HUNDRED KILLED BY EXPLOSION

Berlin, Jan. 13.—The Die Post to day reports an explosion of petroleum at Botkin in Caucasus. More than a hundred workmen were killed.

Ex-Minister Denby Dead.

Buffalo, Jan. 13.—Charles Denby, formerly United States minister at Pekin, died suddenly at the Hotel Sherman at Jamestown this morning, where he delivered an address Tuesday night. His home is at Evansville, Ind.

Mr. Denby was a noted diplomast. He served nearly fourteen years in the diplomatic service at Pekin in both of Cleveland's terms, and seventeen months under McKinley. He was a member of the commission which investigated the army accounts in the war with Spain, including the embalmed beef case. He was a member of the Philippine commission with Taft and Schurman.

In Machen's Favor.

Wahington, Jan. 13.—The Machen trial today was devoted to an examination of clerks and others connected with the postoffice, showing the laxity of methods formerly prevailing. The chief clerk of First Assistant Postmaster General Wayne admitted that letters signed "Machen" might have been signed by any of the several clerks in Machen's department. He said up to April 1st it had been the usage for division chiefs to delegate the signing of routine mail to subordinates.

This testimony created a sensation as it showed how completely assistant postmaster generals are at the mercy of subordinates, even to expenditures.

After a Commission.

Washington, Jan. 13.—In the committee of the whole in the house today Hepburn's amendment striking out the appropriation of $170,000 for maintenance of the Civil Service Commission carried. Notice was given that the yea and nay vote would be demanded on the amendment when the bill was reported back to the house.

ST. LOUIS GETS DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION

Washington, Jan. 12.—St. Louis gets the National Democratic convention. That city was chosen on the second ballot by a vote of 29 to 21 at the meeting of the National Committee this afternoon. July sixth is the date set for the opening of the convention.

Candidate talk is still confined mainly to Gorman and Chief Justice Parker of New York. All other boomlets including Marshall Field, Olney, Gray and Hearst are still in swaddling clothes.

One of the strongest advocates for an early convention is ex-Governor Steunneberg of Idaho representing that state in the committtee by proxy. He favors holding the convention in avdance of the Republicans.

HEPPNER'S TERRIBLE FLOOD

Hundreds of Cords of Building Wreckage StillCumber Creek Bottoms Below Town.

A Heppner dispatch says that in the creek bottom between Heppner and Lexington are perhaps more than 1000 cords of wreckage from the flood, consisting of broken houses and fences, railroad ties, lumber, bridge timbers, trees and other relics of that disaster.

The farmers on whose property the wreckage stopped are now piling it up and selling it at $1 per load, and settlers from 12 and 15 miles in the interior of the country are hauling hundreds of cords of it away for fuel.

On these creek bottom farms is now to be found from two inches to a foot of wash silt and soil as a result of the cloudburst, and intsead of the farms being damaged, they are greatly enriched by the deposit of this silt. It will require considerable work to clear off the wreckage, but further than this the damage was slight.

PENDLETON A WIDE-OPEN TOWN

Gambling Run Under Fine System and Slot Machines in Full Blast.

Pendleton, Or., Jan. 13.—The new city administration, which is for an open town and which favors gambling, believes a revenue should be derived from the gamblers, and the officers have already started in to obtain that revenue.

Nine of the gamblers, those who own tables and gambling outfits, were arrested Saturday and each forfeited a $150 bond. It is understood that such arrests are to be made every three months.

The town is wide open, and gambling is being run on every side. Games of all kinds have been opened, and even the nickle-in-the-slot machines, stored away so long that they had rusted, are now rustling, eating money.

Gamblers of all kinds are coming into the town from Washington and from the Coeur d'Alenes, where several thousand dollars' worth of gambling property was burned recently.

"Senator" Hanna Again.

Columbus, Ohio, Jan. 13.—Mark Hanna was today officially declared elected United States senator for six years. Senator Hanna made an address before the joint legislature.

New German Consulates.

Berlin, Jan. 13.—The Reichstag today decided to establish new consulates in Atlanta, Ga., Seattle, Wash., New Orleans, La., and St. Paul, Minn.

Treaty Ratified.

Washington, Jan. 13.—The Chinese minister, Cheng, and Secretary Hay this morning exchanged ratifications of the Chinese commercial treaty. A copy of the treaty ratified at Pekin is now on the way here by mail, but the minister yesterday received cable instructions to make the exchange at once.

Spent Night in Jail.

New York, Jan. 13.—Former Congressman Driggs, who was fined $10,000 and sentenced to serve one day in prison, was released at 6:30 this morning after being in a cell all night. He was met by friends and driven away in a carriage. The fine was promptly paid.

CHANGE IN 'PHONE ARRANGEMENT

Improvement at Universit Other Interesting Notes.

A change in the arrangement of the telephones in Villard Hall is soon to be made which will be of great advantage to students and others who wish to use the 'phone and also to the registrar, who has to answer it some fitfy times daily. As arranged at present the registrar must leave his desk and walk across the room to answer the 'phone, and outsiders have to go inside the office proper to use it. The 'phone now in use will be placed outside, accessible to all without trouble to anyone, and a desk telephone will be put in for the use of the registrar, enabling him to answer all calls without leaving his desk.

The work of fitting up the reception room at the dormitory was begun yesterday. Heavy Brussels carpet was laid and several new tables put in.

Professor Glen addressed the students at assembly this morning on the subject, "An Anglo-Saxon Saint," the saint in question being Guthlac. The professor read and explained the poem quite fully and gave many interesting facts about the man Guthlac and early English poetry.

In order to have a greater number of debaters compete at the tryout for the Pacific-Oregon debate it was decided this morning to leave their selection in the hands of the Committee on Oratory and Debate.

President Campbell received the staff of the Monthly last evening at his home. The evening was spent in discussion of literary methods and work connected with the Monthly.

MAY BUILD ON SIUSLAW

Booth-Kelly Co. May Ship Lumber By Steamers.

Reported That They Are After Siuslaw Timber for New Mills on the Coast.

(Daily Guard January 13.)

The following appears in a Portland paper as a dispatch from Eugene:

"The Booth-Kelly Lumber Company, which has heretofore confined its timber land buying operations to the Cascade mountains east of Eugene, is reported to have cruisers in the vicinity of Blachley and Lake Creek, in the western part of Lane county, for the purpose of estimating the amount of timber there, with a view of purchasing a large tract.

"In the event that the purchase is made, it is said, the company will erect one or more large mills at the mouth of the Siuslaw river and ship their lumber by water to California points. This step may be made necessary if the railroad company continues its present high tariff on lumber from here to California.

"At present some of the Booth-Kelly mills are idle on that account and their once extensive business has been almost ruined."

A GIFT TO THE HIGH SCHOOL

A File of "La Republica Filipino" Presented by Lieut. Huston.

First Lieutenant Robert S. Huston, of Co. C Second Oregon Volunteer Infantry, which saw much service in the Philippines in 1898 and 1899, has presented the High School with a file of "La Republica Filipino," a newspaper published by the Filipinos at Malolos, Aguinoldo's headquarters. The numbers begin with the forming of the republic and on until the war began against the Americans. Lt. Huston secured the papers at Polo shortly after the battle of Malabon and the capture of Malolos.

The gift is appreciated very much by the High School, as the papers give a good account of affairs on the Island from a Filipino standpoint of view. The print is in Spanish and most High School students are unable to read it. It is very interesting to look over them and gives many students an inspiration to study Spanish.
