THE TRAPPER

WAS SICK

The Man Chester, Reported Missing, is Still Alive.

Florence West, Feb. 27: The Florence correspondent of the Eugene Guard under date of February 21, reports a man by the name of Chester as missing from North Fork. The man is a trapper and has been trapping on that stream. A resident of North Fork informs us that the man has been camping in George Morris' house, and at the time referred to had been ill for some days with an ailment. Some of the neighbors had been visiting him occasionally and caring for his wants.

J. W. Fisher Wants Divorce From Lodena A. Fisher.

J. W. Fisher today commenced suit against his wife Lodena A. Fisher, for divorce. He alleges that they were married in Eugene on April 11, 1895, and that on Feb. 27, 1903, his wife deserted him without fault of his and against his will; that he endeavored to induce her to return to him but she refused. There are no children as issue of said marriage. John M. Pipes is Fisher's attorney.

Anniversary Celebrated.

Last Monday evening marked a new epoch in Lorane Odd Fellowship, it being the 11th anniversary of the establishment of the subordinate lodge in the valley, and the event was fittingly celebrated by the Rebekah lodge, assisted by the Odd Fellows at that place. An interesting impromptu program was carried out and interest was added to the occasion by the presence of Merl Nighswander, of Crow, with his fine new phonograph. At the conclusion of the exercises a splendid banquet was enjoyed by all present, and the occasion proved a most pleasant one.—Cottage Grove Leader.

Purchased Stage Line.

Walker & Elmhurst, the popular South Willamette street liveryman, have purchased the Crow stage line and will take possession of the same tomorrow. Commencing March 1st the Crow stage will make headquarters at Walker & Elmhurst's stables, formerly Frank's stables. New horses, rigs and new equipment throughout will be furnished on this stage line.

THE GOOD OLD CLOCK.

Its Mellow, Friendly Tick an Antidote For Loneliness.

"Give me the clock for company," said the observant man, "and you may have all the balance of the inanimate things under the sun, or over it, and I will throw a few of the animals in for good measure. I can conceive of nothing more friendly, more unspenkably comforting, than the mellow tick of the old family clock which towers high on the old fashioned mantel, above the good old open faced fireplace where the embers are dying down and deepening into a bluish melancholy gray late of winter nights. One never feels quite alone as long as one may hear the mellow tick tack of the old family clock, the same sweet mellow evidences which have rung in one's ear from earliest infancy, through all the changes and upheavals of time, down to the present. Other sounds may fall and deepen into the sadder silence of the night's heavy stillness, but the old clock continues to mark the flight of time, and no second may escape without hearing its passing called out dreamily by the faithful clock whose hands have measured already so many days—some bright and full of light and life and promise and sweet bodings of the future and others echoing back sepulchrally from the years already counted. Ah, the clock! But give me the clock with its ticking all through the night, and its slivery chiming on the hour, and you may have the other things, and the dog to boot. I'll take the clock in mine every time when it comes to keeping off that feeling of loneliness which creeps upon us now and then."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

NUMBER ON PAPER MONEY.

How to Tell Without Seeing the Figures if It is Odd or Even.

"If any one comes up to you and wants to bet you that he can tell whether the number of any of Uncle Sam's paper money is odd or even by looking at that part of the bill on which the number does not appear, shun him as you would the plague," said a guest at the Hotel McKay the other night. "Why? What is the joke?" asked another guest.

"Only this," replied the first: "I was out this afternoon with a number of men with whom I have business dealings. We ate lunch, and then one man wanted to bet me that he could call the even or odd on the number of any bill I had, the loser to pay for the lunch. I took a bill from my pocket, folded it so that the number did not show, and after he had looked at it he said, 'Even!'"

"It was even. Soon afterward I got stuck for the cigars the same way. After I had been done four or five times they explained to me that all of the bills marked 'A' and 'C' were odd, while those marked 'B' and 'D' were even. It cost about $5 to find it out, but I guess it was a good investment at that. It is the same on all bills. Be careful when attempting to do the work not to take the series letter in front of the number, but hunt for a small letter on the left hand side of the bill."—Duluth Herald.

Poet Riley on His Native Heath.

Several years ago James Whitcomb Riley returned to his native town, Greenfield, Ind., for the purpose of giving a reading, the proceeds of which were for some charitable purpose. It had been many years since he had visited the old town, and as the affair had been well advertised people poured in from all sections of the county. Riley arrived on an evening train. The "old hand" was at the station to meet him. The poet was put in a low necked carriage with a reception committee, and, headed by the band, a procession was formed of citizens, and they paraded the business streets. A very old man loped up against the Gynmond House, a hotel of Riley's day, and as the carriage passed he squinted one eye and said of the opposite corner of his mouth out, "I've seen the time in this here burg when they would have got a brass band to git Jimmie Riley out of town."—Cleveland Leader.

An Arithmetical Wonder.

If twelve persons were to agree to dine together every day, but never sit exactly in the same order around the table, it would take them 13,000,000 years at the rate of one dinner a day, and they would have to eat more than 470,000,000 dinners before they could get through all the possible arrangements in which they could place themselves. A has only 1 change; A, B, 2; A, B, C, 6; four letters, 24; five, 120; six, 720; seven, 5,040; eight, 40,320; nine, 362,880; ten, 3,628,800; eleven, 39,916,800; twelve, 479,001,600.

A Mean Dig.

Mrs. Bragg—I gave quite a nice little luncheon the other day. Didn't Mrs. Jenkins tell you?
Mrs. Sty—No.
Mrs. Bragg—Strange! Why, she was one of my guests.
Mrs. Sty—Yes, she told me that.

Accurate Painters.

The famous Tintoretto, in a painting of the Israelites gathering manna, showed them armed with guns, and a latter day Neapolitan artist has depicted the holy family crossing the Nile, in their flight into Egypt, in a magnificently ornamented barge.

The Doctor's Expectation.

Friend—I'm glad to see you so much better, old man. Does the doctor expect you to be out soon?
Invalid—Well, I think he expects me soon to be out the amount of his bill. He sent it in today.—Exchange.

HOUSE BURNED BY TRAMPS

Harrisburg, Or., Feb. 29.—The residence of George Davis was burned to the ground about 12 o'clock last Friday night. It was owned by Leonard E. Douglas, of Eastern Oregon, and was insured for $500. Mr. Davis and family were in Coburg and, as the fire was not discovered until the house could not be approached, all his furniture was consumed. The fire is supposed to have been started by tramps, as a light was seen in the house about 10 o'clock at night, and no one had been there since about noon, when Mr. Davis started for Coburg.

Florence Items.

Born—In Florence, Oregon, Tuesday February 23, 1904, to Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Funks, a son.

A card from F. J. Kobe dated at Everett, Wash., February 21, states that Mrs. Kobe was then very low and could not last more than a day or two longer. She has been ill several months.

The schooner Mayflower, five days out from San Francisco, arrived here Wednesday evening. She brought up an engine and some other machinery for the Siuslaw Lumber Co.

A meeting of the school board was held at the Western House yesterday afternoon in response to a petition of the voters asking that a special meeting be called to authorize the issue of district bonds for $200 to build a school house. The clerk was directed to call a special meeting of the district for that purpose.

M. D. Johnson of Mound was in Florence Monday. Mr. Johnson came down the river with a crew of men to drive out their logs on the high water. He informed us that all the logs are below the mouth of Lake creek and all except a few came down to the booms. He estimates that here were 12,000,000 or 13,000,000 feet in the drive.—West, Feb. 27.

SSS FOR THE BLOOD

The best known and most popular blood purifier and tonic on the market to-day is S. S. S. There is hardly a man, woman or child in America who has not heard of "S. S. S. for the Blood." It is a standard remedy, a specific for all blood troubles and unequalled as a general tonic and appetizer. S. S. S. is guaranteed purely vegetable, the herbs and roots of which it is composed are selected for their alterative and tonic properties, making it the ideal remedy for all blood and skin diseases, as it not only purifies, enriches and invigorates the blood, but at the same time tones up the tired nerves and gives strength and vigor to the entire system.

For Chronic Sores and Ulcers, Catarrh, Rheumatism, Blood Poison, Malaria, Anaemia, Scrofula, Eczema, Psoriasis, Salt Rheum, Tetter, Acne and such other diseases as are due to a polluted or impoverished condition of the blood, nothing acts so promptly and effectually as S. S. S. It counteracts and eradicates the germs and poisons; cleanses the system of all unhealthy accumulations and soon restores the patient to health. Write us and our physicians will give your case prompt attention without charge.

FROM CONGRESSMAN LIVINGSTON, OF GEORGIA.
I know of the successful use of S. S. S. in many cases. It is the best blood remedy in the market.

FROM EX-GOV. ALLEN D. CANDLER.
S. S. S. is unquestionably a good blood purifier, and the best tonic I ever used.
