Three thousand Russians hold Anju and thousands are at strategic points on the Korean bank of the Yalu. Five hundred Russian infantry occupy Chinju, while Russian troops are reported to be moving back to the Japanese side of the Yalu river, where the latter have thrown up entrenchments. The hostile forces are thus face to face. Desultory shots have already been exchanged, but with few casualties.

COLORADO STRIKE SITUATION

It is learned by mail, were ordered from home during a howling blizzard, marched to the depot, placed on cars and ordered never to return. The exiles, some with small babes, reached Ridgeway, almost frozen, entirely destitute, and were taken care of by the Western Federation. It is understood that Wells today repeated the performance. The captain is charged

SALEMS TEAM'S LINEUP

Manager Edmonson Announces His Men. A Strong Team.

The Salem team of the Oregon State League will line up as follows:

A COSSACK WATCH STATION IN MANCHURIA.

Some time ago Russia, having heard that bands of Japanese were stationed at advantageous points along the Transiberian railroad for the purpose of disabling Russia's only means of intercommunication between Russia and the east, established a system of watch stations in Siberia and Manchuria. The illustration shows one of these stations garrisoned by Cossacks, whose tribal signs will be noticed over the men's hats.

Cathars, Lewis of Santa Barbara, Cal., Teabo, last year's team, and Sneels of Portland; pitchers, Calif of Oregon City Arieks, from California, Cryderman, from Midland League, and Lucas with Salem last year; first base Hehrung, of Centralia; second base Edmonson, (manager); third base Downie, with Salem last year; shortstop, Peacock, from the Canadian League; outfielders, Lea of Oregon City and Sanders of last year's team.

Manager Edmonson has been slow in announcing his men but he seems to have picked a good team. Last year's Raglans were the pennant winners of the league but they will have to go some if they carry it off this year.

WILD MAN SEEN

CORBETT BRITT FIGHT

Ex-Champion Feeling Pretty Bad Today Over Defeat.

Victorious Britt Shows More Bruises than the Defeated Pugilist.

San Francisco, March 25.—Little the worse for the terrific battle in which they engaged last night, Britt and Corbett are around today, one receiving the congratulations of friends and the other condolences. The sentiment of many who last night agreed that Britt was entitled to the decision changed today, the opinion being that a draw would have been the better verdict.

Corbett spent the night in his bed. His utter dejection prevented good rest. When he arose this morning his feeling that he had been given the worst of it by the referee was undiminished. He is without a mark as a result of the fight save a slight cut over the left eye. His plans for the prisoner, Wm. Jennings, arrested on the charge of seduction, and for whom he went to Fremont, Nebraska, to bring back for trial.

Jennings was taken directly from the train to the jail and did not meet any of his old acquaintances, in fact, very few people knew Fisk was coming and the prisoner was saved the embarrassment of being confronted by any one. Both sheriff and prisoner were very tired from their long journey, and were glad to reach their destination.

Sheriff Fisk travelled forty-two hundred miles in eight days. An uneventful trip is reported and sheriff had little to say concerning it.

The prisoner, Wm. Jennings, had nothing to say, but seemed not to be worried about his arrest on the charge preferred against him, but seemed embarrassed to be in custody. Sheriff Fisk said that Jennings' people were of high standing in Fremont, his father being a state senator, a banker and a highly respected citizen. It is the intention of Jennings' father to furnish bonds for his release until his trial comes up at the next term of the circuit court. It will probably be until the first of next week before any such action can be taken.

KEMERY DID NOT SUICIDE

Friends Claim the Shooting Was Accidental. Evidence Not Suitable.

Daily Guard March 25

Yesterday evening Peter Nye, one of the coroner's jury on the case of Wm. R. Kemery, who committed suicide last Tuesday evening, asked Coroner C. B. King to call the jury together again, as there was new evidence developed in the case. Mr. Nye claims that there is evidence enough to prove that Kemery came to his death accidentally. The evidence is to the effect that Kemery went into the room to get his gun to protect himself from his supposed enemy or pursuer, and his little boy saw him take the gun up and told his father to put it down, and in doing so Kemery struck the gun against the bed, discharging it accidentally and unintentionally, the shot causing his death.

Dr. King says it is impracticable to call the jury together again and that the verdict cannot be changed by any evidence which may be shown. The case seems from all previous evidence taken that the man was deranged mentally and meant to kill himself.

"PAT" HOWE'S FINGERS INJURED

Caught Under a Falling "Form" of Type in Guard Composing Room This Forenoon.

Daily Guard March 25

"Pat" Howe, of the Guard composing room force, was the victim of an accident shortly before noon today that might have been worse, but still is bad enough.

While assisting in swinging the heavy "forms" containing the type of two of the pages of the Daily Guard into the washing sink, the hitch rope broke, allowing the probably two hundred pounds of metal to fall so that the tip of the third finger of his left hand was shaved off, bruising the nail so he will lose it, and bruising the under part of the middle finger. Dr. John Harris dressed the wound.

Of course the type in the forms went into "pi," which accounts for the lack of editorial and advertisements on two inside pages of today's paper, their places being supplied with plate reading matter. We are not caring for that, though, the injury to the faithful boy causing us concern. However, it might have been worse, if that can count for consolation in case of accident.

KILLED BY FALLING TREE

Daniel Cox of Roseburg was killed by a falling tree, while asleep in his tent on Union creek, eight miles south west of Riddle, during a heavy wind storm on Wednesday night, Fred Pilkington, of Roseburg, and Herbert Leonard, of Cottage Grove, were slumbering alongside of him in one bed, when a small sized tree went crashing through the tent under which they slept, at such an angle that it missed Pilkington and Leonard and struck Cox squarely on the head, killing him instantly while he was asleep.

MALARIA AND YELLOW JACK

(From N. Y. Herald, January 14, 1902.)
The widow of Dr. Lazare, who, in the employ of the Government, went to Cuba, was inoculated with Yellow Fever through mosquito bites, and died. The above tells of the sad culmination of a series of experiments by the Government, all of which proved conclusively that the familiar mosquito is a dangerous vehicle for carrying malaria, "Yellow Jack," and other malarial fevers.

Those who are exposed to mosquitos or other malarial influences should take warning. Iron is the fighting element in the blood and provides nature with sufficient resistance to ward off disease. But if the blood is impure or impoverished, or if there is weakness, it means that the fighting qualities of the blood have been lowered, and consequently there is danger. If you would escape, keep the blood pure and properly nourished with
