Getting Ready to Protect Herself in Case Other States Attack Her.

Havana, March 30.—A Nicaraguan transport is here loading twenty thousand rifles and a million rounds of ammunition, together with commissary supplies, sailing tonight. Bryan from the decision requiring the probate of the sealed letter designating the disposition of $50,000 of the estate of Philo Bennett and naming Bryan as trustee, was begun before Judge Gager in the Superior Court at ten o'clock this morning. Beside Bryan sat Charles Town, Henry Newson and Harrison Hewitt, his counsel. Mrs. Grace Bennett, the widow, sat among a score of witnesses. There were many women spectators. The jury was readily selected. When Clerk of the Probate Court Blake produced the will and sealed letter, identifying same, the counsel for Mrs. Bennett objected to the introduction of the sealed letter. The court took a recess till one o'clock.

The police are warning the people on the low lands to get out. A heavy loss of sheep on the range is anticipated.

He appealed to General Bell for protection and is now escorted by a squad of soldiers. Five deported unionists who attempted to return to Telluride were arrested by the military at Ophir Loop and thrown into the bull-pen.
