JOHN B. COLEMAN WILL BUILD

Will Add Second Story and Extend Buildings to Park Street in Rear.

As announced in the Guard last summer, John B. Coleman, the owner of the one-story buildings between the Smeede Hotel and the McClung block, will add a second story and extend them to Park street in the rear. Mr. Coleman arrived in Eugene last night from Santa Cruz, California, for that purpose. The buildings are now occupied by the Oregon saloon, Littlefield's cigar store and Julius Goldsmith's cigar store. The second story will be divided into small rooms and probably connected with the Smeede Hotel.

When completed, the addition will greatly add to the looks of that part of Willamette street. The extension on the rear will give an open fronting on Park street.

JEWISH FEAST OF THE PASSOVER

Sundown last evening marked the beginning of the Feast of the Passover. It is the Jewish Easter, according to the Hebrew chronology, and is observed by all branches of the faith, the reformed section abbreviating the season of unleavened bread to seven days and being less strict as to the fulfillment of ancient traditions. The initial services of the feast are in the homes of the worshippers, after a season in the synagogue. Services are held in the synagogue the first two and last two days of the feast. The method varies according to the beliefs of each congregation.

The unleavened bread is made of flour and water and usually in the form of thin wafers. It was the old custom in Jerusalem to bake the matzoth in the sun. There is no rule as to meats or vegetables, but nothing of liquors save wine is permitted.

NO CHANGES IN S. P. OFFICERS

E. E. Calvin, new general manager of the O. R. & N. Co., arrived in Portland today on a special train, says yesterday's Telegram. Mr. Calvin was accompanied by President Mohler, and rode in the latter's private car. He lunched at the Portland, and early this afternoon was in conference with Mr. Mohler and Manager Koehler, of the Southern Pacific Company.

"All the changes that are to be made have been announced," said Mr. Calvin this afternoon. "There will be no combination of office forces, and the Southern Pacific Oregon lines will be directed from this city, instead of from San Francisco. Mr. Koehler will remain in charge, and his office will remain separate from the others."

Petition for New Road.

Adam Ritchie, of Walterville, was in Eugene today in the interest of the petitioners for the establishment of a new road between the present Camp Creek-McKenzie road and the McKenzie river. The new road would accommodate a number of families who live some distance south of the Camp Creek road and near the McKenzie river. It is also claimed that it would accommodate the general travel and be a better route, but people living along the old road above Hendricks' ferry have signed a remonstrance against the proposed new road, and there is a lively contest over the matter.

Springfield, O. W. Blowout.

The W. O. W. lodge of Springfield held an enthusiastic meeting last Tuesday evening. After the routine work was finished the ladies of the Circle came in with an abundance of eatables, coffee, etc., which were passed around to the large attendance. After this departure dancing took up a part of the evening. The members of the camp had prepared a surprise for its efficient camp clerk, J. A. Roberts, who has served as clerk for seven consecutive years. It being the birthday of Mr. Roberts, he was presented with a solid gold pin, emblematic of the W. O. W., of which he has been a long and faithful servant. The presentation remarks were made by District Organizer F. G. Woodcock. The meeting from beginning to end was a most enjoyable one.

It takes only a couple of days of sunshine to render the business streets of Eugene quite dusty. The good weather of the past few days has dried about all the mud off of Willamette street. Street Commissioner Turner cleaned up the rubbish on the street today for the first time in several weeks, the mud heretofore making it impossible.

While carrying a tool chest out of the Minnesota Hotel office today a peculiar accident happened to Milt A. Balcolm and Jules Graham. As they placed the chest down on the walk a short piece of tin which bound the chest caught their trousers and cut them severely, Balcolm having his leg through it and Graham his right hand. It is reported that the chest was found to be very heavy and that the tin was a piece of sheet metal which had been used to bind the chest.

SERIOUS MILITIA TROUBLE

Capt. Williams Struck Private Wilson With His Sword.

Charges Will Be Preferred Against the Captain and Counter Charges Against the Wilson Bros. and Lieut. Babb.

Last evening at the armory previous to the inspection of the militia companies occurred an altercation which in all probabilities will result seriously for all those involved. As usual there are two sides to the affair and outside complications which played a part but not understood by a great many observers.

The parties interested in the trouble are Captain John M. Williams, commander of Co. C, First Lieutenant Raymond Babb of Co. A, and Private Ora Wilson of Co. A.

The story as told by a disinterested party who was an eye witness to the affair is as follows: Company C was in line at the west end of the hall prior to marching into the drill room and a number of Company A men were lingering about the other end of the hall playing pranks. Young Wilson had a two light clap board which was bruised badly from the blow. He acknowledged to his insulting conduct toward the captain, but will bring charges against him for assault with a deadly weapon. Co. A's officers are very indignant over the matter, and will also be instrumental in bringing charges against Captain Williams.

From a civilian's standpoint Captain Williams would probably be justified in attacking young Wilson and resenting the insult, but from a military point of view it is quite different.

The law governing the O. N. G. says in Article 102: "No officer or soldier shall use any reproachful or provoking speeches or gestures to another. Any officer who so offends shall be put under arrest. Any soldier who so offends shall be punished as a court martial may direct." This covers Wilson's case, and it was Captain Williams' place to arrest the man and have him court-martialed. Article 152: "Superiors are forbidden to injure those under them by capricious or tyrannical conduct or offend them by abusive language." This covers Captain Williams' case and allows Wilson to bring complaint against him.

Of course, there are outside troubles between the men. The fact that Capt. Williams is suing Lieut. Babb and Wade and Ora Wilson for exploding a copper cannon belonging to Co. C on New Year's eve while trying to fire salute, is probably the primary cause of the trouble last night.

CAPT. WILLIAMS' STATEMENT.

When interviewed this morning, Captain Williams spoke in positive tones and acknowledged a serious breach of military etiquette on his part, and that the case would come up before a court martial. He will also bring serious charges against the Wilson boys and Lieut. Babb, but

VICEROY ALEXEIEFF, THE CZAR'S COMMANDER IN CHIEF IN MANCHURIA.

Vice Admiral Alexeieff, although a sailor, is in charge of the czar's land and water campaign in the far east. His persistent aggressions and forward policy have led to hostilities. with which he was hitting some of the boys as they went by the door, the blow making a noise and quite a disturbance. Capt. Williams stepped up to Wilson and told him to stop it at once, to which Wilson gave some flippant reply, contrary to military regulations, and in a rather insulting way. Captain Williams turned to his company, but was met by Lieutenant Babb, who addressed him and asked if he "had any cannons for sale," all of which was said in a joking way, but tended to further anger the already huffy captain, who turned and saw young Wilson behind his back making faces at him. Contrary to all army regulations, Captain Williams drew his sword and gave a hard swing at Wilson, striking him across the shoulder, causing him to stagger backward. At this point Lieutenant Babb also drew his sword and was ready to take a hand in the melee, and several soldiers were also ready to take part, but the matter was stopped without further trouble. Captain Williams, in a statement to his men in the company room, said that he had been aggrieved and that he was sorry that he had done it, but that he was forced to do it because of the insult.

did not state on what base the charges would be preferred.

This trouble will call for a court martial, which will probably sit in this city soon, and there will be about fifty witnesses in the case. The court will be of not less than five officers of captain's rank and appointed by the governor.

The feeling between Companies A and C is the very best and all the men regret that the rupture occurred.

The trouble is merely between the few men involved and one that the companies take no part in whatever.

The Woman's Club of Springfield held its last meeting at the home of Mrs. W. H. Hathaway Tuesday evening, March 29. "Lowell" was the study. There was a good attendance and roll call was responded to by quotations from Lowell. The poem, "The Vision of Sir Launfal," was the particular topic of the evening, and the members of the club revealed in its beauty of thought and construction. An extract, "June," was read by Miss Humphreys in a very feeling manner. Current events were then given by the members, after which Mrs. Hathaway served delicious refreshments. Feeling that it had spent a profitable and instructive evening, the club adjourned to meet with Miss Kirkland on April 12.—News.

BASEBALL DOPE FROM ROSEBURG

Chas. Bilyeu of Albany Has Been Signed as Pitcher--Improving the Grounds.

Roseburg Review: Work on the baseball grounds at Rose Park is to begin in a few days, preparatory to team practice, which begins April 14th. Special attention will be given to the infield. Last year infielders could not play back of the lines because of the danger of turning an ankle. This year plenty of dirt applied with attentive work will give the infielders plenty of margin to play back of the lines. In all, when the improvement work is completed, the grounds will be 50 per cent. better than they were last year. About 75 loads of loose dirt will be hauled to the ground.

Two weeks from today the locals will settle down to hard practice. Of the men whom Manager Morrow has signed for the coming season there are here, besides himself, Pitcher Hunter, Second Baseman Nadler, Third Baseman Bradley and Outfielders Robinson, Miller and Millington. A day or two before practice begins the remainder of the team will arrive. These are Pitchers Reed and Gregory and Shortstop Newell, now in Portland, and the Oswell Brothers, catcher and outfielder, respectively, now in San Francisco.

Manager Morrow has signed Pitcher Chas. Bilyeu, of Albany, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Fred Tallafero, of Eugene. This news will be received with delight by the local fans, for a better twirler could not have been secured outside of the Coast League. Bilyeu was practically the mainstay of the Albany team of the Willamette Valley League last year. Whenever Bilyeu was in the box, no matter if Albany lost, the score of the opposing team was always very small.

Yesterday's Coast League scores: Oakland, 6; San Francisco, 0. Seattle, 5; Tacoma, 4. Los Angeles, 4; Portland, 0. This is Portland's third consecutive shutout at the hands of Los Angeles.

DEATH OF MRS. C. M. YOUNG

Word came to Eugene this morning that Mrs. Cal M. Young died at 12:30 o'clock last night in Portland at the home of her sister, Mrs. A. D. Charlton. The burial will take place in Portland tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Young was born at Linton, Oregon, 33 years ago, her maiden name being Elizabeth Comstock. She was married to Mr. Young January 11, 1893. One child, Lavelle, eight years of age, and her husband survive her.

The many friends of Mrs. Young in Eugene will be pained to hear of her death. She has lived in this city for over ten years, and was a favorite in society circles.

The cause of death was cancer of the stomach. Mrs. Young was taken to the Good Samaritan hospital several weeks ago, but no permanent relief could be given her. Mr. Young has the heartfelt sympathy of all Eugene in his sad bereavement.

Eine New Residence.

The Hanson brothers, Ed and Frank, have let the contract to G. W. Taylor to move the Hanson family residence at East Sixth and Oak streets to their lot just north of the present location of the house, and will soon erect a fine new residence on the corner.

The Guard erroneously stated that a part of the pictures now on exhibition for sending to St. Louis were taken by Ross. They were taken by Van Berkles.
